SUPREME COURT PREPARES FOR NEW DEAL TEST

High Tribunal Hands Down Only One Opinion

By Melbourne Christerson
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—The supreme court handed down only one opinion today, as lawyers prepared for arguments tomorrow in the first of two New Deal cases to be heard this week.

Briefs upholding and challenging the constitutionality of the 1933 securities and Guffey coal control laws, involved in the cases, were filed with the court.

In its lone opinion, the tribunal ruled that the government could collect taxes on 148,157 gallons of alcohol claimed by Frank Rizzo. The spirits were seized by customs and coast guard officers on an oil barge at Port Bayonne, N. J.

Other actions made public today included:

1. The court agreed to decide whether Arthur W. Cutten, widely known Chicago grain trader, should be barred from the nation's markets for two years for alleged violation of the grain futures act.

2. It declined to review a temporary injunction granted by a lower court restraining Louisiana from seizing a Texas Oil company property in that state for back taxes. The injunction thus stands.

3. It directed New Mexico to file an answer within twenty days to suit brought by Texas for the termination of water rights in the Rio Grande river.

The court deferred until next Monday, at least, announcing its decision in the government's anti-trust suit against the sugar institute, a case involving price fixing.

The right of congress to compel registration of securities under the 1933 law was defended in a brief presented by Solicitor General Stanley Reed, who will argue orally for the securities commission tomorrow before the justices.

Stelle Challenges Governor Horner To State Position

State Treasurer Says Rumor Has Horner Running As An Independent

Mt. Vernon, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner tonight was challenged to state publicly whether he would support the Democratic gubernatorial nominee if he is defeated in his present campaign for renomination.

John Stelle, McLeansboro, state treasurer and candidate for lieutenant governor on the Kelly-Nash ticket sponsoring Dr. Herman N. Bundesen for governor, said during a tour of southern Illinois he had heard "persistent rumors" Horner would run on an independent ticket if defeated by Dr. Bundesen in the April 14 primary.

"I challenge you, Gov. Horner," Stelle said in a campaign address, "to state whether you will wholeheartedly and sincerely support the Democratic gubernatorial nominee next fall, if you are defeated, the same as Bruce Campbell and Mike Igoe did in 1932."

Dr. Bundesen repeated his pledge to cut taxes and reform the penal system if elected.

FIRST TRIPLETS

Tuscola, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—The first triplets in the history of the Sarah A. Jarman Memorial hospital arrived today, born by a caesarian section to Mrs. Lewis Reeder.

They were the first children born to the 20-year-old mother.

Audit Shows Will County Treasurer Short $175,866.23

Herbert R. Jones Claims Figures Discovered Are Incorrect

Joliet, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—A special audit committee of the Will county board reported today an audit of the county treasurer's office showed Herbert R. Jones of Manhattan, former treasurer, to be short $175,866.23 in his accounts from 1931 to 1933.

The county board will meet tomorrow to consider the report, which was submitted by H. E. Ehlers, chairman of the special committee, on the basis of an audit made by Joseph G. Dingle.

Informed of the report, Jones said: "It's news to me. I have no comment to make."

The preliminary report of the special committee said a shortage of $138,860.44 was found in the county tax collection account for 1933, an amount which it was said represented approximately 5 per cent of the total collected that year. Ehlers said additional shortages were listed, but the books for 1934 were found to have been balanced.

Ehlers stated his committee met with Jones several times while the audit was in progress, and that Jones insisted the figures being discovered were incorrect.

South Milwaukee Man Killed When Dynamite Explodes

Officials Believe Caretaker At Cottage Planted Bomb Then Took Own Life

Wabeno, Wis., March 9.—(AP)—An explosion of dynamite which police believed was planted by his caretaker, killed Warner Smoot, 59, South Milwaukee yesterday as he inspected his cottage on a north woods lake preparatory to moving in for the summer.

The caretaker, George Stankovich, about 60 was found shot to death in the ruins of his shack which caught fire from the burning cottage.

Sheriff Jesse E. Ramsdell said he believed Stankovich placed the dynamite and shot himself after the explosion. He expressed the opinion Stankovich had become mentally deranged.

With his wife and chauffeur Charles George, 23, Smoot motored to Carter and hired Arthur Harris to drive them to the snowbound cottage in a bobsled. Harris took three of his children along.

The sheriff said Stankovich shot at Smoot as the party approached the cottage. The party fled as the firing continued.

Harris' daughters sought refuge in the basement.

Smoot found fuel ready in the fireplace, lit it and then stood in front of the fire to warm himself, as he apparently sought to plan a way out of his predicament.

Suddenly a blue flame shot up, to be followed by a terrific explosion.

The fire place was blown to bits. Smoot was fatally injured and died a few minutes later.

Fifteen-year old George Harris dropped into the basement when a trapdoor was blown open. His sister, Alice, 14, was partly buried by debris that fell into the basement. She and the chauffeur suffered serious burns and numerous cuts and bruises. Dr. E. G. Ovitz said the girl may lose the sight of both eyes. The others escaped with minor injuries.

The survivors fled into the woods and the Harris boy walked the four miles to Carter to summon help.

Convict German Of Espionage

London, March 9.—(AP)—A sentence of four years imprisonment was imposed today upon Dr. Hermann Gortz, middle-aged German lawyer, after he was convicted of espionage by a jury which included two women.

Sketching secret airdomes in these days when Europe is filled with "spy scares" was termed an "offense which must be dealt with seriously by any country" by the judge in passing sentence.

While Gortz was being sentenced, Fraulein Marianne Emig, attractive young woman who allegedly aided him in ferreting out secrets of the British air force, was reported to be in Munich. She fled the country when Gortz was arrested.

ARRAIGNMENT ADJOURNED

Oregon, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Arraignment of State's Attorney S. Donald Crowell of Ogle county in the justice court here on a technical charge of kidnaping was adjourned today to Thursday when officials were told Crowell was ill with the measles. With Sheriff Delos Blanchard, Crowell was accused of taking Al Musselman of Rochelle, Ill., to Beloit, Wis. Both denied Musselman's charges, stating they drove him to Beloit at his own request, when he said his life had been threatened and that he wanted to go away. The sheriff was arraigned last week and released on bond.

Joe Mayberry of Alexander was in the city yesterday.

ITALIAN TROOPS OPEN OFFENSIVE ON ALL FRONTS

One Day Suspension Of Hostilities Ends Abruptly

Asmara, Eritrea, March 9.—(AP)—Italian troops resumed offensive operations on all Ethiopian fronts today after a one-day suspension.

Italian officers had announced the halting of offensive movements at 8 a. m. yesterday to await developments on the League of Nations' recommendation for peace talks, accepted "in principle" by Italy and without reservation by Ethiopia.

Observers thought the suspension of histilities was an effort to ease the European peace problem at a troublesome moment following upon Germany's remilitarization of the Rhineland and denunciation of the Locarno pact.

(An official announcement at Addis Ababa today said Ethiopia, regardless of Italy's action, "will continue the defensive war until peace negotiations begin on a definite basis.")

Italian troops were moving forward today throughout the northern battle section, clearing the Tembien region where scattered bands of Ethiopians still remained, even pentrating beyond Amba Alaji, which the Fascists reached in their most recent important advance.

An Eritrean native column was two days' march beyond the Takkaze river in the mountainous region of Tzelemti.

The high command stressed the fact that no armistice had been declared. (This message was censored at this point, and some of the material apparently was deleted.)

After a day of celebrations by the soldiers, who had felt that peace was near, the Italian armies settled into their old duties and the familiar unpleasantries of war.

Fascist airplanes were said to be flying deep into Ethiopian territory and it was understood operations similar to those of last month, when several bombardments occurred, were planned.

Talk Of Reprieve For B. Hauptmann Subsides Rapidly

Even Prosecution Believes He Will Die In Chair Week Of March 30

Trenton, N. J., March 9.—(AP)—Talk of a reprieve for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, at a high level a week ago, subsided so rapidly today that even the prosecution was inclined to believe Hauptmann would die in the electric chair the week of March 30.

A high prosecution official who said last week there was "every indication" of a new reprieve swung to the other viewpoint today and said he did not think the convicted Lindbergh baby killer would escape the chair again.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman, who stayed Hauptmann's execution on January 16, twenty-nine hours before he was to go to the chair, has, by his own statement, no power to sign a second reprieve after March 12, and said last week "as matters stand now" there will not be a second reprieve.

State police tonight checked a report that the Lindbergh baby was alive, somewhere in South America. A falsified birth certificate had been prepared to show the child had been born there, a letter from Racine, Wis., said. The writer's name appeared to be Carl Fetzginer and his street address 1431 Colville Avenue. It was sent Assemblyman Charles R. Geddes, of Union, who last week attacked the governor's intervention in the Hauptmann case. It urged the legislature to delay Hauptmann's execution until the report could be investigated.

Ethiopia Will Continue War

Addis Ababa, March 9.—(AP)—Ethiopia announced today she will "continue the defensive war until peace negotiations begin on a definite basis" at Geneva.

An official made this statement when told that Italy had ordered a cessation of the offensive on the northern front.

Many residents fled from the capital today when the government issued a warning saying Italian airplanes were flying in this direction.

A government communique said a British Red Cross ambulance unit at Quoram, in the north, had been bombed for the third time by Fascist fliers.

PROFESSOR DIES

New Haven, Conn., March 9.—(AP)—Professor William G. Mixter, a member of the Yale faculty for 45 years, died today. He was in his 90th year.

Professor Mixter, a native of Dixon, Ill., was best known for his work in organic and thermal chemistry. He was the author of many articles in chemistry.

He retired from active teaching in 1913.

Surviving are two sons. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Condon Quoted As Saying They Won't "Let Him Return"

Cruise Conductor Recounts Conversation He Had With "Jafsie"

New York, March 9.—(AP)—Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon, intermediary in the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, was quoted by a ship cruise conductor today as saying that "he could not return home" from Cistobal, C. Z., "because 'they' won't let me."

Richard B. Townsend, cruise conductor of the Colombian liner Colombia, returning here from a southern trip, recounted in detail a conversation which he said he had with Dr. Condon when the boat docked at Cristobal.

"I pressed him for an explanation of who 'they' were, but he wouldn't say, and he wouldn't say, why he couldn't come back," Townsend said.

Townsend said Dr. Condon appeared worried and in bad health, that the Lindbergh emissary was "haggard" and so thin his clothes hung loosely on his big frame.

"Sitting in the hotel, Dr. Condon said, 'they keep bothering me,'" Townsend asserted. "They send me letters and cables. The other day they sent me a wire that my wife was ill and the next day they sent me one that my wife was dead.'"

Federal Agents Investigating Prison Break

Seek Clues To Determine If Floyd Lindbergh Had Accomplices

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 9.—(AP)—State department of justice agents threw a veil of secrecy about their investigation of the sensational break at the state prison here Friday while they sought clues tonight to determine whether Floyd Lindbergh, instigator of the affair, had other outside accomplices.

W. S. Gordon, chief investigator for the department, established headquarters at the penitentiary, but kept himself inaccessible and the results of his inquiry since last night were not revealed. It was learned from a reliable source, however, that the agents believed Lindbergh and Phil Ray, killed in the break, were not alone in the plot to escape.

Lindbergh, who first claimed to a brother of Harold Carrier, third man in the break which cost three lives, was identified last night through fingerprints. He was arrested last January at El Paso, Tex., as a vagrant. The youth told Gordon he lived near Hinsdale, Ill., and came here to "spring" Ray from prison.

In connection with the theory that others also were involved in the plot, which Lindbergh said he and Ray formed several months ago, it was pointed out that three other members of the notorious bank robbing gang to which Ray belonged were serving sentences in the prison.

Reached late this evening, Gordon said Lindbergh said his home was in Westmont, Ill., and that his father worked for the Littleford nursery. The youth told Gordon he had not been home for 18 months or two years.

OBTAINS DIVORCE

Los Angeles, March 9.—(AP)—Harold Gatty, navigator for the late Wiley Post on his 1931 round-the-world flight, was divorced today by Mrs. Elsie Louise Gatty who complained he was "too busy" to explain his long absences from home.

"He was only home on rare occasions," she testified. "And even then he would only stay a few minutes and then depart for a hotel."

NEW YORK CITY SERVICE STRIKE IS SPREADING

Laguardia's Peace Plea Rejected By Operators

New York, March 9.—(AP)—The operators of Manhattan's skyscrapers rejected tonight Mayor F. H. LaGuardia's plea for peace by arbitration in the building service strike and the strike chief grimly warned that "they'll get my answer tomorrow."

The realty advisory board, after several hours of deliberation, told Mayor Laguardia that "we are satisfied that if your proposal in its present form were submitted to a vote of our members, it would be overwhelmingly defeated."

James J. Bambrick, who postponed plans to call out 25,000 workers in the Grand Central, Brooklyn and Queens areas today in hopes the owners would agree, issued his curt statement a few minutes later.

Walter Gordon Merritt, attorney for the realty board, said that although the board rejected virtually every point of the mayor's proposal, it was a "qualifying acceptance."

"There is no good reason why this strike should continue another minute," said Mayor La Guardia when told of the realty board's action.

Although Bambrick announced no further buildings would be "pulled out" today, the strike spread across the river to Newark, N. J., where employes of three buildings struck, and to Columbia University where 120 employes walked out.

Violence virtually ceased today and police reported only four arrests to bring the strike total to 195.

Other strike figures as compiled by the police.

Buildings affected	2225
Agreements reached	195
Buildings still on strike	2030
Buildings damaged	12
Total sabotage damage	$100

Health Commissioner John L. Rice said calls for emergency service from his department were increasing.

Federal Agents Guard Daughter Of Jack Dempsey

Purported Kidnap Threat Being Investigated By Officials

Atlantic City, N. J., March 9.—(AP)—The 19-months old daughter of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, was guarded by federal agents, city detectives and an armed attendant today as the federal department of justice investigated a purported kidnap threat.

Dempsey disclosed that J. Edgar Hoover, director of the justice department's bureau of investigation, had telephoned him not to be alarmed and to let the department "do all the worrying."

The former champion professed not to be unduly concerned but unusual precautions were taken to protect Joan Hannah, the object of the reported kidnap threats.

An armed private guard accompanied the child and nurse on a brief boardwalk stroll. They were trailed by a city detective. At the Dempsey's hotel (The President) a federal agent was on the alert for "suspicious character."

Two postcards, mailed anonymously in Atlantic City last Friday night, reported the alleged abduction plot. The writer of the cards, who addressed them to a newspaper editor and to Detective Captain Harry Yates, said he had overheard "two Polish gentlemen" discussing kidnap plans on a New York-Atlantic City train.

Dempsey, who has been staying here with his wife, the former Hannah Williams, and the child, during alterations to their New York home, was informed of the post card "warning."

Promptly notifying the department of justice, Dempsey kept news of the kidnap "tip" from his wife, who is expecting another child, until today.

Seeks Indictment Against Suspect

De Kalb, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—State's Attorney Latham Castle announced tonight he would appear before the DeKalb county grand jury at 10 a. m. charging Harrison Crooke, 26, with next Monday to seek an indictment murdering Mrs. Emma Ander, 45.

Permission to recall the February grand jury to consider the slaying of Mrs. Ander, wounded by a shotgun in her grocery last Thursday night, was granted by Circuit Judge William Fulton.

Because of public resentment expressed against Crooke, Sheriff O. N. Larson would not reveal where he was being held. The sheriff said Mrs. Ander named Crooke as her assailant before she died.

Convening at Sycamore today, a coroner's jury recommended that Crooke be held without bail on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Ander was fired at through the door of her store after she had refused to let Crooke enter, the sheriff stated.

Six Nations to Support France in Her Protests To League of Nations

By Robert Parker,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

Paris, March 9.—(AP)—France, with pledges of support for her protest against German reoccupation of the Rhine zone, saw her position weakened tonight by an apparent British desire to negotiate a new European peace treaty.

Publicly, the government asked its military allies how far they will go to punish Adolf Hitler's violation of the Locarno pact.

Six nations—Poland, Russia, Belgium, Szechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania—came forward with pledges of support for the French potest to the League of Nations.

Privately, French officials declared that the speech in the House of Commons by Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, left possible only a "platonic" condemnation of the Reich at Geneva.

Officials expressed themselves as convinced that Great Britain must be the intermediary in any discussion between France and Germany over the Reich's denunciation of the mutual security treaty.

Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin canvassed every possibility of action which would enable Great Britain to become the mediator. While the government stands by its refusal to negotiate as long as German troops are in the Rhineland, officials said in the event of a "mirable" evacuation of the re-occupied zone France would insist that any discussion be held within the framework of the league.

The government would demand, officials added, that any Franco-German pact be guaranteed by a third power, presumably Great Britain.

The flat refusal of Premier Albert Sarraut to consider offers of new treaties, they said, makes it "impossible" for Paris to talk directly to Berlin and at the same time "save its face."

Informed sources saw in the support of France's military allies a strengthening of the "ring of steel around Germany."

Ambassador Vladimir Potemkin of Russia assured the government that the Soviet was definitely on the side of France in demanding German evacuation of the Rhineland.

Similarly, Dr. Alfred Chlapowski, the Polish ambassador to Paris, told Pierre-Etienne Flandin, French foreign minister, that his country intends to remain faithful to its obligations under the Franco-Polish alliance.

FREAK WIND AND RAIN STORM INJURES THIRTY

Miami, Fla., March 9.—(AP)—A freak, 43-mile wind and rain storm that struck Miami tonight injured some 30 persons, flattened a carnival show, damaged many small buildings and blew down electric lines in the northwest and southwest sections.

It apparently was an off shoot of a winter storm of moderate intensity reported moving northeastward thru the Gulf of Mexico. No high winds were reported from the storm area, however.

Careening circus wagons, falling tent poles and flying canvas caught unawares hundreds of persons employed at the carnival. Many were injured as tents collapsed and wagons overturned.

No one was believed seriously injured by the windstorm, which lasted only five minutes.

Ericsson League Raps Democratic Administration

Claim Deliberate Attempt Being Made To Change System Government

Galesburg, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—The John Ericsson Republican League of Illinois adopted unanimously today a resolution charging the national democratic administration with "a deliberate attempt to change our American system of government."

Other resolutions adopted by delegates attending the 42nd annual convention of the Scandinavian—American organization demanded:

A protective tariff, a balanced budget, a sound and stable currency, fair treatment of labor, old age pensions and unemployment insurance, enforcement and strengthening of civil service, a sound relief policy free from political influences, reduction of the state sales tax and eventual repeal of the tax, and enactment of a permanent state registration law.

Attorney Gotthard A. Dahlberg of Chicago was unanimously elected president of the league, and the 1937 convention was awarded to Chicago. He succeeded Mayor J. E. Anderson of Galesburg.

State Senator Arnold Benson of Batavia was elected vice president; William Peterson of Joliet was re-elected secretary.

Among the speakers was Judge Eskil Carlson of Des Moines, who urged the delegates to "do your utmost to return authority to the people."

About 40 Republican candidates were present at the convention, including most of the aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination, who were introduced at a banquet but did not speak.

Sixty Witnesses Called To Court

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Sixty witnesses were on call tonight as a criminal courts jury was completed to hear the malfeasance trial of William Loeffler, president of suburban Stickney, the village in which Al Capone's gang operations were centered.

The indictment, voted against Loeffler last October after state's attorney's policee made several raids in the suburb, charged he permitted vice and gambling to exist unchecked.

Assistant State's Attorneys William Lancaster and David Leeds said 60 witnesses had been subpoenaed, and included taxi dancers, gamblers and inmates of disorderly houses.

With the completition of the jury in Judge Robert C. O'Connell's court, the trial was adjourned to tomorrow. The prosecutors said conviction would entail ouster from office and a maximum fine of $10,000.

2,870,000 MAY BE HIT BY NEW TAX PROGRAM

Must Carry Load Of Farm Relief, Bonus Prepayment

By Douglas B. Cornell

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—The treasury estimated today that corporate tax revision suggested by President Roosevelt might load upon 2,879,070 individuals the $620,000,000 annual cost of financing farm relief and bonus prepayment.

Coincidentally, the house ways and means taxation subcommittee, give that estimate, moved toward a showdown on the question whether corporations should be permitted to pile up a "cushion" reserve—tax exempt, or assessed at a comparatively low rate—on which to fall back on depression years.

The treasury was asked to submit data on provisions for such a reserve, covering among other things, how much anticipated tax revenues would be lost to the government.

(Mr. Roosevelt has proposed that congress repeal existing corporate taxes, which bring in about $1,000,000,000 annually, and substitute a high tax on corporate income not distributed to stockholders in dividends. The existing exemption of dividends from the normal income tax rate applied to individuals would be repealed. The treasury has estimated that removal of the exemption and the tax on undivided earnings would bring in about $1,620,000,000.)

Treasury experts told the subcommittee that if all corporate income were disbursed to stockholders, 2,879,070 persons would pay new or higher income taxes under the Roosevelt plan.

But whether corporations held back any of their future earnings and paid the proposed 33 1/3 per cent tax on them, or converted all earnings into dividends on which stockholders would pay the taxes, committeemen estimated the government would realize $620,000,000 in additional revenue.

That would meet the $500,000,000 annual cost of the soil conservation subsidy farm plan and the $120,000,000 President Roosevelt has set as the exira cost of paying the bonus this summer.

Claim WPA Workers Asked To Donate To Campaign Fund

Declare Funds Were To Be Used To Aid Herman N. Bundesen

Benton, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Fifteen southern Illinois works progress administration supervisors asserted today WPA employes were being solicited for funds to aid Herman N. Bundesen, who seeks the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

They disclosed they had sent a telegram of protest to Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins against what they termed attempts to force campaign contributions from workers in district five.

Bundesen, at Nashville on a speaking tour, said:

"It has been my policy always and without exception to never permit any employe to donate politically out of his salary in my behalf and no such move is afoot with my authorization or approval.

"It's a cheap political trick.

"These people (WPA workers) get little enough and it would be against all my principles of 22 years of public service to even suggest that they contribute a penny."

Said Walter W. Williams, district administrator: "I can't authorize anything like that. The funds perhaps are being collected by local county committees."

The fifteen who signed the telegram were Clayton Scanlett, Harry Russell, Charles Corcoran, Lloyd Crowell, Henry Burks, Robert Tedford, Harold Stutsman, T. J. Atkinson, Luther Burke, Charles F. Ellis, Jr., John Ballard, George Chrenshaw, John C. Baker, Tom Campbell and John Glenn.

The supervisors said in the telegram that a representative from district WPA headquarters "is asking $10 from supervisors, $5 from foremen and $2.50 from time keepers. x x x we are willing to help as much as we can the men of our choice but we resent having the director of this district make the choice for us."

Bundesen, Cook county (Chicago) coroner, has the support of Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago against Gov. Henry Horner.

Bank Robber Pleads Guilty

Freeport, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Frederick A. Bartholomea, 34, Berwyn, Ill., pleaded guilty in circuit court here today to a $200 bank robbery and was sentenced by Judge Albert H. Manus to serve one to twenty years in the penitentiary.

Sought for more than three years as one of three robbers who held up the State Bank of Kent, Ill., Bartholomea was captured in Chicago last week and returned here today for trial.

Timothy L. Whitney, Stockton, Ill., garage owner, arrested shortly after the holdup, pleaded guilty and was paroled after serving part of a prison sentence. The third man, Howard Townsend, also of Stockton, confessed and implicated Whitney and Bartholomea.

Charges against Townsend are still pending.

DENTIST DIES

Superior, Wis., March 9.—(AP)—Pneumonia brought death today to Dr. John Clark, 69, prominent Superior dentist, after a week's illness.

Dr. Clark was the father of Dowsley Clark, assistant managing editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, and had been active in local fraternal circles since coming to Superior in 1894.

Dr. Clark is survived by four sons and four daughters, including Mrs. Eleanor Atkinson of Peoria, Ill., and Mrs. Elizabeth Madsen of Peoria.

Reluctant Plea Of Guilty Wins Man Probation

Elderly Former High School Principal Had Formerly Pled Not Guilty

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—A reluctant plea of guilty to a charge of embezzling $199 won a year's probation today for Charles S. Winslow, elderly former high school principal, who was convicted several days ago of embezzling $9,954 from tuition funds.

Winslow had pleaded not guilty (innocent) in his first trial and made restitution of the money in a dramatic gesture on the stand. The jury convicted him, however, although recommending leniency.

But the law denied probation to persons convicted of embezzling more than $199. Criminal Courts Judge John C. Lewe and Assistant State's Attorney Leslie E. Salter agreed to probation for Winslow if he would accept a new trial and plead guilty to embezzling $199. Under his previous conviction he faced one to 10 years in prison.

Winslow, however, refused to plead guilty at a later hearing. Today he was still reluctant to plead guilty, and conferred with the judge in chambers.

Later his attorney, Daniel A. Covelli, announced to the court "Mr. Winslow reluctantly agrees to plead guilty," and the probation was granted.

Six Inspectors And Eight Miners Win Battle With Fire

Men Remove Ten Tons Of Burning Coal 180 Feet Underground

Freeburg, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Risking death from cave-ins, eight miners and six mine inspectors today won a 6-hour fight to save the Wildwood Coal company's mine, one mile east of here, from underground fire.

The men, working at a depth of 180 feet, removed 10 tons of burning coal while flames ate at sagging timber braces supporting the roof. The fire was started by dynamite set off Saturday to loosen coal in preparation for the start of work today. The damage was slight.

A second fire at the Royal Mine near Belleville, however, resulted in a $15,000 loss. Flames damaged the mine hoisting machinery and destroyed the office, boiler room and washhouse. An investigation was ordered by Fire Chief Walter R. Finklein of Belleville.

SUPREME COURT PREPARES FOR NEW DEAL TEST

High Tribunal Hands Down Only One Opinion

By Melbourne Christerson
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—The supreme court handed down only one opinion today, as lawyers prepared for arguments tomorrow in the first of two New Deal cases to be heard this week.

Briefs upholding and challenging the constitutionality of the 1933 securities and Guffey coal control laws, involved in the cases, were filed with the court.

In its lone opinion, the tribunal ruled that the government could collect taxes on 148,157 gallons of alcohol claimed by Frank Rizzo. The spirits were seized by customs and coast guard officers on an oil barge at Port Bayonne, N. J.

Other actions made public today included:

1. The court agreed to decide whether Arthur W. Cutten, widely known Chicago grain trader, should be barred from the nation's markets for two years for alleged violation of the grain futures act.

2. It declined to review a temporary injunction granted by a lower court restraining Louisiana from seizing a Texas Oil company property in that state for back taxes. The injunction thus stands.

3. It directed New Mexico to file an answer within twenty days to suit brought by Texas for the termination of water rights in the Rio Grande river.

The court deferred until next Monday, at least, announcing its decision in the government's anti-trust suit against the sugar institute, a case involving price fixing.

The right of congress to compel registration of securities under the 1933 law was defended in a brief presented by Solicitor General Stanley Reed, who will argue orally for the securities commission tomorrow before the justices.

Stelle Challenges Governor Horner To State Position

State Treasurer Says Rumor Has Horner Running As An Independent

Mt. Vernon, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner tonight was challenged to state publicly whether he would support the Democratic gubernatorial nominee if he is defeated in his present campaign for renomination.

John Stelle, McLeansboro, state treasurer and candidate for lieutenant governor on the Kelly-Nash ticket sponsoring Dr. Herman N. Bundesen for governor, said during a tour of southern Illinois he had heard "persistent rumors" Horner would run on an independent ticket if defeated by Dr. Bundesen in the April 14 primary.

"I challenge you, Gov. Horner," Stelle said in a campaign address, "to state whether you will wholeheartedly and sincerely support the Democratic gubernatorial nominee next fall, if you are defeated, the same as Bruce Campbell and Mike Igoe did in 1932."

Dr. Bundesen repeated his pledge to cut taxes and reform the penal system if elected.

FIRST TRIPLETS

Tuscola, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—The first triplets in the history of the Sarah A. Jarman Memorial hospital arrived today, born by a caesarian section to Mrs. Lewis Reeder.

They were the first children born to the 20-year-old mother.

Audit Shows Will County Treasurer Short $175,866.23

Herbert R. Jones Claims Figures Discovered Are Incorrect

Joliet, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—A special audit committee of the Will county board reported today an audit of the county treasurer's office showed Herbert R. Jones of Manhattan, former treasurer, to be short $175,866.23 in his accounts from 1931 to 1933.

The county board will meet tomorrow to consider the report, which was submitted by H. E. Ehlers, chairman of the special committee, on the basis of an audit made by Joseph G. Dingle.

Informed of the report, Jones said: "It's news to me. I have no comment to make."

The preliminary report of the special committee said a shortage of $138,860.44 was found in the county tax collection account for 1933, an amount which it was said represented approximately 5 per cent of the total collected that year. Ehlers said additional shortages were listed, but the books for 1934 were found to have been balanced.

Ehlers stated his committee met with Jones several times while the audit was in progress, and that Jones insisted the figures being discovered were incorrect.

South Milwaukee Man Killed When Dynamite Explodes

Officials Believe Caretaker At Cottage Planted Bomb Then Took Own Life

Wabeno, Wis., March 9.—(AP)—An explosion of dynamite which police believed was planted by his caretaker killed Warner Smoot, 59, South Milwaukee yesterday as he inspected his cottage on a north woods lake preparatory to moving in for the summer.

The caretaker, George Stankovich, about 60 was found shot to death in the ruins of his shack which caught fire from the burning cottage.

Sheriff Jesse E. Ramsdell said he believed Stankovich placed the dynamite and shot himself after the explosion. He expressed the opinion Stankovich had become mentally deranged.

With his wife and chauffeur Charles George, 23, Smoot motored to Carter and hired Arthur Harris to drive them to the snowbound cottage in a bobsled. Harris took three of his children along.

The sheriff said Stankovich shot at Smoot as the party approached the cottage. The party fled as the firing continued.

Harris' daughters sought refuge in the basement.

Smoot found fuel ready in the fireplace, lit it and then stood in front of the fire to warm himself, as he apparently sought to plan a way out of his predicament.

Suddenly a blue flame shot up, to be followed by a terrific explosion.

The fire place was blown to bits. Smoot was fatally injured and died a few minutes later.

Fifteen-year old George Harris dropped into the basement when a trapdoor was blown open. His sister, Alice, 14, was partly buried by debris that fell into the basement. She and the chauffeur suffered serious burns and numerous cuts and bruises. Dr. E. G. Ovitz said the girl may lose the sight of both eyes. The others escaped with minor injuries.

The survivors fled into the woods and the Harris boy walked the four miles to Carter to summon help.

Convict German Of Espionage

London, March 9.—(AP)—A sentence of four years imprisonment was imposed today upon Dr. Hermann Gortz, middle-aged German lawyer, after he was convicted of espionage by a jury which included two women.

Sketching secret airdomes in these days when Europe is filled with "spy scares" was termed an "offense which must be dealt with seriously by any country" by the judge in passing sentence.

While Gortz was being sentenced, Fraulein Marianne Emig, attractive young woman who allegedly aided him in ferreting out secrets of the British air force, was reported to be in Munich. She fled the country when Gortz was arrested.

ARRAIGNMENT ADJOURNED

Oregon, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Arraignment of State's Attorney S. Donald Crowell of Ogle county in the justice court here on a technical charge of kidnaping was adjourned today to Thursday when officials were told Crowell was ill with the measles. With Sheriff Delos Blanchard, Crowell was accused of taking Al Musselman of Rochelle, Ill., to Beloit, Wis. Both denied Musselman's charges, stating they drove him to Beloit at his own request, when he said his life had been threatened and that he wanted to go away. The sheriff was arraigned last week and released on bond.

Joe Mayberry of Alexander was in the city yesterday.

One Day Suspension Of Hostilities Ends Abruptly

Asmara, Eritrea, March 9.—(AP)—Italian troops resumed offensive operations on all Ethiopian fronts today after a one-day suspension.

Italian officers had announced the halting of offensive movements at 8 a. m. yesterday to await developments on the League of Nations' recommendation for peace talks, accepted "in principle" by Italy and without reservation by Ethiopia.

Observers thought the suspension of histilities was an effort to ease the European peace problem at a troublesome moment following upon Germany's remilitarization of the Rhineland and denunciation of the Locarno pact.

(An official announcement at Addis Ababa today said Ethiopia, regardless of Italy's action, "will continue the defensive war until peace negotiations begin on a definite basis.")

Italian troops were moving forward today throughout the northern battle section, clearing the Tembien region where scattered bands of Ethiopians still remained, even pentrating beyond Amba Alaji, which the Fascists reached in their most recent important advance.

An Eritrean native column was two days' march beyond the Takkaze river in the mountainous region of Tzelemti.

The high command stressed the fact that no armistice had been declared. (This message was censored at this point, and some of the material apparently was deleted.)

After a day of celebrations by the soldiers, who had felt that peace was near, the Italian armies settled into their old duties and the familiar unpleasantries of war.

Fascist airplanes were said to be flying deep into Ethiopian territory and it was understood operations similar to those of last month, when several bombardments occurred, were planned.

Talk Of Reprieve For B. Hauptmann Subsides Rapidly

Even Prosecution Believes He Will Die In Chair Week Of March 30

Trenton, N. J. March 9.—(AP)—Talk of a reprieve for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, at a high level a week ago, subsided so rapidly today that even the prosecution was inclined to believe Hauptmann would die in the electric chair the week of March 30.

A high prosecution official who said last week there was "every indication" of a new reprieve swung to the other viewpoint today and said he did not think the convicted Lindbergh baby killer would escape the chair again.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman, who stayed Hauptmann's execution on January 16, twenty-nine hours before he was to go to the chair, has, by his own statement, no power to sign a second reprieve after March 12, and said last week "as matters stand now" there will not be a second reprieve.

State police tonight checked a report that the Lindbergh baby was alive, somewhere in South America. A falsified birth certificate had been prepared to show the child had been born there, a letter from Racine, Wis., said. The writer's name appeared to be Carl Fetzginer and his street address 1431 Colville Avenue. It was sent Assemblyman Charles R. Geddes, of Union, who last week attacked the governor's intervention in the Hauptmann case. It urged the legislature to delay Hauptmann's execution until the report could be investigated.

Ethiopia Will Continue War

Addis Ababa, March 9.—(AP)—Ethiopia announced today she will "continue the defensive war until peace negotiations begin on a definite basis" at Geneva.

An official made this statement when told that Italy had ordered a cessation of the offensive on the northern front.

Many residents fled from the capital today when the government issued a warning saying Italian airplanes were flying in this direction.

A government communique said a British Red Cross ambulance unit at Quoram, in the north, had been bombed for the third time by Fascist fliers.

PROFESSOR DIES

New Haven, Conn., March 9.—(AP)—Professor William G. Mixter, a member of the Yale faculty for 45 years, died today. He was in his 90th year.

Professor Mixter, a native of Dixon, Ill., was best known for his work in organic and thermal chemistry. He was the author of many articles in chemistry.

He retired from active teaching in 1913.

Surviving are two sons. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Condon Quoted As Saying They Won't "Let Him Return"

Cruise Conductor Recounts Conversation He Had With "Jafsie"

New York, March 9.—(AP)—Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon, intermediary in the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, was quoted by a ship cruise conductor today as saying that "he could not return home" from Cistobal, C. Z., "because 'they' won't let me."

Richard B. Townsend, cruise conductor of the Colombian liner Colombia, returning here from a southern trip, recounted in detail a conversation which he said he had with Dr. Condon when the boat docked at Cristobal.

"I pressed him for an explanation of who 'they' were, but he wouldn't say, and he wouldn't say, why he couldn't come back," Townsend said.

Townsend said Dr. Condon appeared worried and in bad health, that the Lindbergh emissary was "haggard" and so thin his clothes hung loosely on his big frame.

"Sitting in the hotel, Dr. Condon said, 'they keep bothering me,'" Townsend asserted. "They send me letters and cables. The other day they sent me a wire that my wife was ill and the next day they sent me one that my wife was dead.'"

Federal Agents Investigating Prison Break

Seek Clues To Determine If Floyd Lindbergh Had Accomplices

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 9.—(AP)—State department of justice agents threw a veil of secrecy about their investigation of the sensational break at the state prison here Friday while they sought clues tonight to determine whether Floyd Lindbergh, instigator of the affair, had other outside accomplices.

W. S. Gordon, chief investigator for the department, established headquarters at the penitentiary, but kept himself inaccessible and the results of his inquiry since last night were not revealed. It was learned from a reliable source, however, that the agents believed Lindbergh and Phil Ray, killed in the break, were not alone in the plot to escape.

Lindbergh, who first claimed to a brother of Harold Carrier, third man in the break which cost three lives, was identified last night through fingerprints. He was arrested last January at El Paso, Tex., as a vagrant. The youth told Gordon he lived near Hinsdale, Ill., and came here to "spring" Ray from prison.

In connection with the theory that others also were involved in the plot which Lindbergh said he and Ray formed several months ago, it was pointed out that three other members of the notorious bank robbing gang to which Ray belonged were serving sentences in the prison.

Reached late this evening, Gordon said Lindbergh said his home was in Westmont, Ill., and that his father worked for the Littleford nursery. The youth told Gordon he had not been home for 18 months or two years.

OBTAINS DIVORCE

Los Angeles, March 9.—(AP)—Harold Gatty, navigator for the late Wiley Post on his 1931 round-the-world flight, was divorced today by Mrs. Elsie Louise Gatty who complained he was "too busy" to explain his long absences from home.

"He was only home on rare occasions," she testified. "And even then he would only stay a few minutes and then depart for a hotel."

NEW YORK CITY SERVICE STRIKE IS SPREADING

Laguardia's Peace Plea Rejected By Operators

New York, March 9.—(AP)—The operators of Manhattan's skyscrapers rejected tonight Mayor F. H. LaGuardia's plea for peace by arbitration in the building service strike and the strike chief grimly warned that "they'll get my answer tomorrow."

The realty advisory board, after several hours of deliberation, told Mayor Laguardia that "we are satisfied that if your proposal in its present form were submitted to a vote of our members, it would be overwhelmingly defeated."

James J. Bambrick, who postponed plans to call out 25,000 workers in the Grand Central, Brooklyn and Queens areas today in hopes the owners would agree, issued his curt statement a few minutes later.

Walter Gordon Merritt, attorney for the realty board, said that although the board rejected virtually every point of the mayor's proposal, it was a "qualifying acceptance."

"There is no good reason why this strike should continue another minute," said Mayor La Guardia when told of the realty board's action.

Although Bambrick announced no further buildings would be "pulled out" today, the strike spread across the river to Newark, N. J., where employes of three buildings struck, and to Columbia University where 120 employes walked out.

Violence virtually ceased today and police reported only four arrests to bring the strike total to 195.

Other strike figures as compiled by the police.

Buildings affected	2225
Agreements reached	195
Buildings still on strike	2030
Buildings damaged	12
Total sabotage damage	$100

Health Commissioner John L. Rice said calls for emergency service from his department were increasing.

Federal Agents Guard Daughter Of Jack Dempsey

Purported Kidnap Threat Being Investigated By Officials

Atlantic City, N. J., March 9.—(AP)—The 19-months old daughter of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, was guarded by federal agents, city detectives and an armed attendant today as the federal department of justice investigated a purported kidnap threat.

Dempsey disclosed that J. Edgar Hoover, director of the justice department's bureau of investigation, had telephoned him not to be alarmed and to let the department "do all the worrying."

The former champion professed not to be unduly concerned but unusual precautions were taken to protect Joan Hannah, the object of the reported kidnap threats.

An armed private guard accompanied the child and nurse on a brief boardwalk stroll. They were trailed by a city detective. At the Dempsey's hotel (The President) a federal agent was on the alert for "suspicious character."

Two postcards, mailed anonymously in Atlantic City last Friday night, reported the alleged abduction plot. The writer of the cards, who addressed them to a newspaper editor and to Detective Captain Harry Yates, said he had overheard "two Polish gentlemen" discussing kidnap plans on a New York-Atlantic City train.

Dempsey, who has been staying here with his wife, the former Hannah Williams, and the child, during alterations to their New York home, was informed of the post card "warning."

Promptly notifying the department of justice, Dempsey kept news of the kidnap "tip" from his wife, who is expecting another child, until today.

Seeks Indictment Against Suspect

De Kalb, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—State's Attorney Latham Castle announced tonight he would appear before the DeKalb county grand jury at 10 a. m. charging Harrison Crooke, 26, with next Monday to seek an indictment murdering Mrs. Emma Ander, 45.

Permission to recall the February grand jury to consider the slaying of Mrs. Ander, wounded by a shotgun in her grocery last Thursday night, was granted by Circuit Judge William Fulton.

Because of public resentment expressed against Crooke, Sheriff O. N. Larson would not reveal where he was being held. The sheriff said Mrs. Ander named Crooke as her assailant before she died.

Convening at Sycamore today, a coroner's jury recommended that Crooke be held without bail on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Ander was fired at through the door of her store after she had refused to let Crooke enter, the sheriff stated.

Six Nations to Support France in Her Protests To League of Nations

By Robert Parker,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

Paris, March 9.—(AP)—France, with pledges of support for her protest against German reoccupation of the Rhine zone, saw her position weakened tonight by an apparent British desire to negotiate a new European peace treaty.

Publicly, the government asked its military allies how far they will go to punish Adolf Hitler's violation of the Locarno pact.

Six nations—Poland, Russia, Belgium, Szechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania—came forward with pledges of support for the French potest to the League of Nations.

Privately, French officials declared that the speech in the House of Commons by Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, left possible only a "platonic" condemnation of the Reich at Geneva.

Officials expressed themselves as convinced that Great Britain must be the intermediary in any discussion between France and Germany over the Reich's denunciation of the mutual security treaty.

Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin canvassed every possibility of action which would enable Great Britain to become the mediator. While the government stands by its refusal to negotiate as long as German troops are in the Rhineland, officials said in the event of a "mirable" evacuation of the re-occupied zone France would insist that any discussion be held within the framework of the league.

The government would demand, officials added, that any Franco-German pact be guaranteed by a third power, presumably Great Britain.

The flat refusal of Premier Albert Sarraut to consider offers of new treaties, they said, makes it "impossible" for Paris to talk directly to Berlin and at the same time "save its face."

Informed sources saw in the support of France's military allies a strengthening of the "ring of steel around Germany."

Ambassador Vladimir Potemkin of Russia assured the government that the Soviet was definitely on the side of France in demanding German evacuation of the Rhineland.

Similarly, Dr. Alfred Chlapowski, the Polish ambassador to Paris, told Pierre-Etienne Flandin, French foreign minister, that his country intends to remain faithful to its obligations under the Franco-Polish alliance.

FREAK WIND AND RAIN STORM INJURES THIRTY

Miami, Fla., March 9—(AP)—A freak, 43-mile wind and rain storm that struck Miami tonight injured some 30 persons, flattened a carnival show, damaged many small buildings and blew down electric lines in the northwest and southwest sections.

It apparently was an off shoot of a winter storm of moderate intensity reported moving northeastward thru the Gulf of Mexico. No high winds were reported from the storm area, however.

Careening circus wagons, falling tent poles and flying canvas caught unawares hundreds of persons employed at the carnival. Many were injured as tents collapsed and wagons overturned.

No one was believed seriously injured by the windstorm, which lasted only five minutes.

Ericsson League Raps Democratic Administration

Claim Deliberate Attempt Being Made To Change System Government

Galesburg, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—The John Ericsson Republican League of Illinois adopted unanimously today a resolution charging the national democratic administration with "a deliberate attempt to change our American system of government."

Other resolutions adopted by delegates attending the 42nd annual convention of the Scandinavian—American organization demanded:

A protective tariff, a balanced budget, a sound and stable currency, fair treatment of labor, old age pensions and unemployment insurance, enforcement and strengthening of civil service, a sound relief policy free from political influences, reduction of the state sales tax and eventual repeal of the tax, and enactment of a permanent state registration law.

Attorney Gotthard A. Dahlberg of Chicago was unanimously elected president of the league, and the 1937 convention was awarded to Chicago. He succeeded Mayor J. E. Anderson of Galesburg.

State Senator Arnold Benson of Batavia was elected vice president; William Peterson of Joliet was re-elected secretary.

Among the speakers was Judge Eskil Carlson of Des Moines, who urged the delegates to "do your utmost to return authority to the people."

About 40 Republican candidates were present at the convention, including most of the aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination, who were introduced at a banquet but did not speak.

Sixty Witnesses Called To Court

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Sixty witnesses were on call tonight as a criminal courts jury was completed to hear the malfeasance trial of William Loeffler, president of suburban Stickney, the village in which Al Capone's gang operations were centered.

The indictment, voted against Loeffler last October after state's attorney's policec made several raids in the suburb, charged he permitted vice and gambling to exist unchecked.

Assistant State's Attorneys William Lancaster and David Leeds said 60 witnesses had been subpoenaed, and included taxi dancers, gamblers and inmates of disorderly houses.

With the completition of the jury in Judge Robert C. O'Connell's court, the trial was adjourned to tomorrow. The prosecutors said conviction would entail ouster from office and a maximum fine of $10,000.

2,870,000 MAY BE HIT BY NEW TAX PROGRAM

Must Carry Load Of Farm Relief, Bonus Prepayment

By Douglas B. Cornell

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—The treasury estimated today that corporate tax revision suggested by President Roosevelt might load upon 2,879,070 individuals the $620,000,000 annual cost of financing farm relief and bonus prepayment.

Coincidentally, the house ways and means taxation subcommittee, give that estimate, moved toward a showdown on the question whether corporations should be permitted to pile up a "cushion" reserve—tax exempt, or assessed at a comparatively low rate—on which to fall back on depression years.

The treasury was asked to submit data on provisions for such a reserve, covering among other things, how much anticipated tax revenues would be lost to the government.

(Mr. Roosevelt has proposed that congress repeal existing corporate taxes, which bring in about $1,000,000,000 annually, and substitute a high tax on corporate income not distributed to stockholders in dividends. The existing exemption of dividends from the normal income tax rate applied to individuals would be repealed. The treasury has estimated that removal of the exemption and the tax on undivided earnings would bring in about $1,620,000,000.)

Treasury experts told the subcommittee that if all corporate income were disbursed to stockholders, 2,879,070 persons would pay new or higher income taxes under the Roosevelt plan.

But whether corporations held back any of their future earnings and paid the proposed 33 1/3 per cent tax on them, or converted all earnings into dividends on which stockholders would pay the taxes, committeemen estimated the government would realize $620,000,000 in additional revenue.

That would meet the $500,000,000 annual cost of the soil conservation subsidy farm plan and the $120,000,000 President Roosevelt has set as the extra cost of paying the bonus this summer.

Claim WPA Workers Asked To Donate To Campaign Fund

Declare Funds Were To Be Used To Aid Herman N. Bundesen

Benton, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Fifteen southern Illinois works progress administration supervisors asserted today WPA employes were being solicited for funds to aid Herman N. Bundesen, who seeks the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

They disclosed they had sent a telegram of protest to Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins against what they termed attempts to force campaign contributions from workers in district five.

Bundesen, at Nashville on a speaking tour, said:

"It has been my policy always and without exception to never permit any employe to donate politically out of his salary in my behalf and no such move is afoot with my authorization or approval.

"It's a cheap political trick.

"These people (WPA workers) get little enough and it would be against all my principles of 22 years of public service to even suggest that they contribute a penny."

Said Walter W. Williams, district administrator: "I can't authorize anything like that. The funds perhaps are being collected by local county committees."

The fifteen who signed the telegram were Clayton Scanlett, Harry Russell, Charles Corcoran, Lloyd Crowell, Henry Burks, Robert Tedford, Harold Stutsman, T. J. Atkinson, Luther Burke, Charles F. Ellis, Jr., John Ballard, George Chrenshaw, John C. Baker, Tom Campbell and John Glenn.

The supervisors said in the telegram that a representative from district WPA headquarters "is asking $10 from supervisors, $5 from foremen and $2.50 from time keepers. x x x we are willing to help as much as we can the men of our choice but we resent having the director of this district make the choice for us."

Bundesen, Cook county (Chicago) coroner, has the support of Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago against Gov. Henry Horner.

Bank Robber Pleads Guilty

Freeport, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Frederick A. Bartholomea, 34, Berwyn, Ill., pleaded guilty in circuit court here today to a $200 bank robbery and was sentenced by Judge Albert H. Manus to serve one to twenty years in the penitentiary.

Sought for more than three years as one of three robbers who held up the State Bank of Kent, Ill., Bartholomea was captured in Chicago last week and returned here today for trial.

Timothy L. Whitney, Stockton, Ill., garage owner, arrested shortly after the holdup, pleaded guilty and was paroled after serving part of a prison sentence. The third man, Howard Townsend, also of Stockton, confessed and implicated Whitney and Bartholomea.

Charges against Townsend are still pending.

DENTIST DIES

Superior, Wis., March 9.—(AP)—Pneumonia brought death today to Dr. John Clark, 69, prominent Superior dentist, after a week's illness.

Dr. Clark was the father of Dowsley Clark, assistant managing editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, and had been active in local fraternal circles since coming to Superior in 1894.

Dr. Clark is survived by four sons and four daughters, including Mrs. Eleanor Atkinson of Peoria, Ill., and Mrs. Elizabeth Madsen of Peoria.

Reluctant Plea Of Guilty Wins Man Probation

Elderly Former High School Principal Had Formerly Pled Not Guilty

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—A reluctant plea of guilty to a charge of embezzling $199 won a year's probation today for Charles S. Winslow, elderly former high school principal, who was convicted several days ago of embezzling $9,954 from tuition funds.

Winslow had pleaded not guilty (innocent) in his first trial and made restitution of the money in a dramatic gesture on the stand. The jury convicted him, however, although recommending leniency.

But the law denied probation to persons convicted of embezzling more than $199. Criminal Courts Judge John C. Lewe and Assistant State's Attorney Leslie E. Salter agreed to probation for Winslow if he would accept a new trial and plead guilty to embezzling $199. Under his previous conviction he faced one to 10 years in prison.

Winslow, however, refused to plead guilty at a later hearing. Today he was still reluctant to plead guilty, and conferred with the judge in chambers.

Later his attorney, Daniel A. Covelli, announced to the court "Mr. Winslow reductantly agrees to plead guilty," and the probation was granted.

Six Inspectors And Eight Miners Win Battle With Fire

Men Remove Ten Tons Of Burning Coal 180 Feet Underground

Freeburg, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Risking death from cave-ins, eight miners and six mine inspectors today won a 6-hour fight to save the Wildwood Coal company's mine, one mile east of here, from underground fire.

The men, working at a depth of 180 feet, removed 10 tons of burning coal while flames ate at sagging timber braces supporting the roof. The fire was started by dynamite set off Saturday to loosen coal in preparation for the start of work today. The damage was slight.

A second fire at the Royal Mine near Belleville, however, resulted in a $15,000 loss. Flames damaged the mine hoisting machinery and destroyed the office, boiler room and washhouse. An investigation was ordered by Fire Chief Walter R. Finklein of Belleville.

Where's That $25 a Month

The province of Alberta, Canada, which went Utopian by electing a Governor who promised a "social credit" plan by which every citizen would receive $25 per month, is now facing bankruptcy. The treasury has no funds, and taxes are looming higher than ever. But nobody has yet received any of the money promised. In fact there appears little chance that it will be forthcoming.

Now the citizens are angry. They voted for Utopia, and it has not come. They asked for an income, but they have not received it. They relied on promises that have not been fulfilled. They are howling for the hide of the leader who made the promises, but they should be kicking themselves for voting him into office.

As Irvin Cobb aptly remarks, "Industrial depressions always spawn their self-appointed saviors who promise to restore prosperity by giving money they haven't got to people who haven't earned it." Unless a country is wealthy, these promisers cannot put their ideas into operation, and if they promise too much, they are blocked by the sheer lack of cash.

What the people have to learn is this: whatever they vote, they must pay for. They cannot elect men to office who promise much without underwriting his notes. Eventually the money to meet his obligations must come from their own pockets. It is much better to give the go-by to those who promise everything, but found their promises on no solid facts.

Kite Flying

Ever since Benjamin Franklin sent up a kite during a thunderstorm and risked getting himself electrocuted, all in order that he might discover electricity, there has been a keen American interest in flying kites. In the spring the average boy wants a kite; there is a sort of yearning to see something floating high in the clear blue of the sky.

But we are told that Chinese and Japanese children, and even grown-ups, excel us in the sport of kite flying. They have been at it for centuries, and they know just how it's done. However, Los Angeles youths have been achieving great success lately in both the construction and flying of kites.

Even scientists are taking an interest, for they are using kites to obtain valuable information from the air. Hence a contest in kite flying is fully justified, and we are pleased to announce and approve such an event for Jacksonville.

The contest is now under way and boys of the city are working on their kites. There will be prizes for various types of construction, and for triumphs with home-made and boughten kites. The county recreational program has this contest as one of its features, and it is hoped a large number of boys will become interested in the sport.

Just on word of warning to kite fliers. Choose a large open space, where your kites will not become entangled in trees, and especially with electric wires. Ben Franklin did not get killed, but there is a good chance of putting an electric power line out of commission if your kite short circuits the wires. Kite flying is a sport of the wide open spaces, and the wider open the better.

Young Reformers

A psychologist once submitted a questionnaire to young people in which he asked at what age they first entertained ideas of reforming human society. Some frankly admitted they had given the matter some thought at 7 years of age. Others said the idea obcessed them between 7 and 10, while the majority said they were about 14 before they thought of initiating the millenium.

A firm belief that things need changing attacks the human mind at an early age. Sometimes the idea persists long after sober judgment as to other matters is acquired. Finally the victim of reformitis concludes that things do need altering, perhaps, but the changes cannot be made in a day, a year or even a century. Human nature is not that fickle.

When young people set out to reform society they soon discover that the trail is fairly well marked, but that it leads into a blind alley. Older people smile at them, but do not follow them. As they grow older, they also become more tolerant and less ready to venture into new paths.

End May Be In Sight

Efforts to end the Italo-Ethiopian war appear at this moment closer to realization than at any other time since the crisis was precipitated.

First, the League of Nations, spurred on by Great Britain and France, is almost certain to impose oil sanctions; second, Premier Mussolini, harassed by the cost of war in Ethiopia, has decreed all Italian banks public credit institutions; and third, if Italy wanted vengeance in Africa, it has apparently got more than it originally sought.

Thus, the scene is set most favorably for peace negotiations. If conciliation is successful, Europe will be removed a significant step from a general war. Who knows but perhaps the peace of the entire world hinges in part on what comes of the Ethiopian affair in the next few weeks?

THE STATEVILLE CASE

Just another case of investigation after the damage has already been done. As long as our Prisons and State Institutions are operated as pleasure resorts, instead of running them for the purpose for which they were created, so long will we have crimes and more crimes, with taxes and more taxes.

Why should prisoners be provided with radios, athletic equipment, amusement halls, and with things that more than 50 per cent of the people out of these Institutions are not even provided with?

Give them good clean quarters, all the proper food and medical care necessary for their comfort. Why should the tax payers have to keep up a Hundred Thousand Dollar amusement hall, with a retenue of ten or twelve people to take care of it, to provide amusement; especially when some of this help don't put in to exceed six hours per week to earn their pay.

Well, as long as we have A. L. Bowen head of the Welfare in the State of Illinois, we will have the same conditions in our Institutions. There has been quite a lot of requests sent to Governor Hornor to remove Bowen, but it seems to have passed over his head. No doubt, it would have been better for him if he had listened a little more to this advice, to get rid of Bowen. He would not have had any opposition for the nomination for Governor this Spring. A good slogan for Illinois, "Get rid of Bowen." A Citizen.

Landon Seems to Be Good Bet as G.O.P. Candidate . . . Eastern Swing Toward His Standard Is On . . . Borah's Chances Next Best . . . New Dealers Dodge Issue on PWA Housing Case.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent)

Washington—Barring a reversal of present trend, Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas is the best bet to be the Republican nominee to oppose Roosevelt.

Reports and portents from over a wide area indicate strongly that the uninstructed delegations and favorite son delegations which presumably will decide the result at the Cleveland convention will be all set to vote for him—unless something unfortunate happens to him in the meantime.

Evidence that the eastern Republican leaders and the conservative interests they represent are receptive to the Landon candidacy and that important members of the Hoover group are edging toward the governor's bandwagon tend to complete the picture, in combination with the popularity of Landon in Chicago and points west, plus straw votes which indicate he has made a hit with the rank and file.

No other candidate shows up in this picture except Senator Borah, whose chances of nomination are considered by political authorities to carry heavy handicaps, such as Borah's age.

* * *

Big Shots Hold Back

The only fly in the Landon soup—and even this one may soon take wing—seems to be the disposition of many Republican big shots to avoid committing themselves until they are sure that Landon can be held at his present level of prestige.

Even Landon's friends, although believing that he can make a strong appeal to the electorate if Roosevelt proves sufficiently unpopular next fall, do not consider him a ball of fire.

They aren't trying to build him up as a super-man. He is held to be sound, prudent, economical, honest, and not lacking in courage. But some of the influential G.O.P. politicos still try to express a vague feeling that a stronger and more nearly perfect candidate, not yet prominently mentioned, is somewhere in the offing.

They don't mean Knox, Dickinson, or Vandenberg—those last speech aroused no enthusiasm. A few mean Justice Owen J. Roberts of the supreme court.

* * *

Wary of Eastern Backing

Landon's western friends, meanwhile, are a bit jittery lest their relatively liberal candidate appear to be too readily acceptable to eastern industrialists and financiers. They insist he isn't the kind of a man who will make deals with reactionary special interests and they don't want anyone to get the idea that he has.

They're worried over reports that Borah will attack Landon as the alleged candidate of "vested interests" and would be just as glad if ex-Senator Edge, of New Jersey, who is so close to Standard Oil that he doesn't dare light a match, hadn't indicated a preference for the governor.

Dominant Republican figures, including Landonites, profess not to take the Borah candidacy seriously. They admit he will have 150 to 200 delegates and can insist on some voice in the party platform, but think he will be content with that—and re-election as senator from Idaho if he can get it. No one now expects a Borah bolt.

Much can happen in 90 days, as Napoleon himself once learned. Meanwhile, there's much to support the theory of Landon men that "it's in the bag."

New Deal Dodges Issue

The New Deal snatched its PWA housing case away from the supreme court because it feared an opinion which would wreck large gobs of PWA and perhaps WPA as well—and, most important of all, might set up the supreme court as an arbiter over government spending.

This danger to the New Deal in the Louisville housing case, in which the right to condemn property for a PWA housing project was at issue, was outlined exclusively in this column many months ago. At that time, Roosevelt said: "Damn the torpedoes, go ahead with the appeal!"

At the last moment, just as arguments were supposed to be heard, he directed the Justice Department to ask dismissal of the case.

Arguments had been so constructed that the court would have had to decide whether the housing project was for a "public purpose" for which Congress might legally provide.

Unless it were willing to uphold the government, the court would have had to say the purpose wasn't constitutional and that the court was the ageney to decide those things for which Congress could and couldn't spend money.

Griggsville Woman Dies at Age of 84

Mrs. Butterfield, Mother of Jacksonville Man, is Buried Monday

Griggsville—Mrs. Amos Butterfield, who has been in failing health for several years, died at her late home in Griggsville Saturday, March 7 at 3:40 p. m. from influenza, aged 84 years, 2 months, 18 days.

She was the third child in the family of Robert Lawrence and Sarah Cawthon Hensell.

On Aug. 11, 1872, she united in marriage with Amos Butterfield who preceded her in death about seven years ago. Two children were born, who survive: Minnie, the wife of John Wilson of Griggsville, Ill., with whom she had made her home since the death of her husband, and Floyd R. Butterfield of Jacksonville, Ill.

She is also survived by three grandchildren, three great grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. L. A. Chapman of Pittsfield, Ill., and Mrs. Carrie Lots of Knoxville, Ill. Two sisters and two brothers have preceded her in death.

Mrs. Butterfield was of a quiet unassuming disposition whose thoughts were ever for others. She had a kind and gracious word for all. She spent many hours in loving ministry for the sick and afflicted. She was a member of the Griggsville M. E. church for many years and worked loyally in its organizations.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Griggsville M. E. church with interment following in Griggsville cemetery, the Rev. Oscar F. Jones pastor, officiating.

Eight Per Cent of Morgan Population Draws Relief Funds

Figures Released by State Relief Organization; 198,935 in State

Out of 198,935 cases receiving relief during January in Illinois, Morgan county had 845 cases, it was shown in a report to the National Emergency Council by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission this week.

These cases include 2,836 persons, or 8.3 per cent of the population of the county.

These figures include 190,887 resident family cases, 4,262 resident non-family cases, and 3,786 non-resident cases.

A preliminary estimate for March set the total number of relief cases in Illinois for this month at approximately 171,000. In addition to this number, the IERC will have to supplement the wages of 22,000 Works Progress Administration cases.

Between sixty and sixty-five thousand of the cases on relief are considered as unemployable, due to physical disability, illness and the like.

In reporting on the state of relief funds and the needs of the state for March, the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission pointed out that estimated needs for relief for the month of March are $5,384,833. Local funds will account for $91,711 of this amount, leaving the commission with an estimated need of $5,293,122.

Set over against these needs, are two and one-half million dollars which are received each month out of the $7,500,000 appropriation made last February by the state out of the general revenue fund, and about $2,000,000 which the commission estimated will be their share (one-third) of the state sales tax and $86,000 balance on hand from last month. This will give the commission an income of $4,586,000 with an estimated need of $5,295,122.

State officials say that the sales tax may bring the commission a revenue of $2,500,000 this month, or a half million more than the commission estimates. If this happens, the relief fund will be $207,122 short for the month of March. If the sales tax does not bring in the other half million, the state relief office will face a shortage of $707,122 for the month.

MUST FIND JOBS OR SIGNED TURNDOWNS

Scott Citizens Can't Get Relief Without Signers

Winchester, Ill.—(AP)—Beginning today, employable clients of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission in Scott county must look for jobs before they can get further aid.

The commission's county office announced yesterday that unless an employable client can produce the signatures of three employers showing they have refused him work, no relief will be given.

Miss Jokisch and Roy Reichert Wed

Marriage Ceremony Occurs Sunday Night at Home of Bride's Parents

Virginia—A pretty wedding ceremony uniting two well known young people of this community occurred at 6 o'clock Sunday evening when Miss Phyllis Jokisch became the bride of Roy Reichert. The marriage occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Jokisch, in the Bluff Springs neighborhood, and was performed by Rev. K. Bruno Neumann, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church at Bluff Springs.

Members of the immediate families and a few friends of the bridal couple attended the ceremony. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jokisch, the latter being a sister of the groom. The bride was attired in light blue satin and carried an arm bouquet of roses, sweet peas and freesias. The bridesmaid was attired in navy blue.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reichert, residing near Virginia. The couple will reside in Decatur, where Mr. Reichert is employed by the Union Dairy Co. Mrs. Reichert has been employed as a registered nurse in the Macon County hospital in Decatur.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the Jokisch home, after which the couple left for a wedding tour.

Margaret S. Cannon Dies Monday

Had Always Lived in City; Funeral Services Will Be Held Wednesday

Miss Margaret Sarah Cannon passed away at 3:45 o'clock yesterday morning at a hospital here after an extended illness.

She was a daughter of John and Mahalah Cannon, and was born in Jacksonville, March 28, 1860. Her entire life was spent in this community.

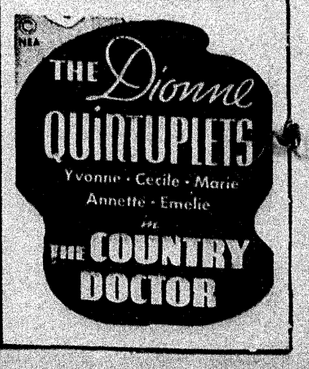

Surviving are one sister, Miss Cora Cannon of this city; her stepmother, Mrs. A. E. Cannon of Plant City, Fla., and several nieces and nephews.

The remains were removed to the Cody & Son Memorial Home, where services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. M. M. Blair of Centenary M. E. church. Interment will be made in Jacksonville cemetery.

Cut in Funds and Case Jump Cause Relief Crisis Here

First Checks Go Out to 198 Clients Monday; Sixty New Families Apply

The first cash relief checks were distributed yesterday to 189 families in Morgan county. More checks will be sent out today and Wednesday to complete the first relief payroll under the new plan.

However, Mrs. Tillie Kelly, county relief superintendent, revealed yesterday that the situation here is acute. Th relief allocation for the first half of March was cut 13⅓ per cent, and funds are practically exhausted. More money is urgently needed to care for sixty additional families applying for relief.

Mrs. Kelly is now negotiating with Chicago to secure enough money to supply the needs until the 15th of March. The sixty additional cases not anticipated in the budgeting of funds for this period have been discharged from WPA, and must therefore be cared for with direct relief.

There is sufficient money to care for the relief cases already scheduled to receive payments under the cash relief plan, but there is nothing on hand for emergencies, such as the one the county relief organization is now facing.

Where's That $25 a Month

The province of Alberta, Canada, which went Utopian by electing a Governor who promised a "social credit" plan by which every citizen would receive $25 per month, is now facing bankruptcy. The treasury has no funds, and taxes are looming higher than ever. But nobody has yet received any of the money promised. In fact there appears little chance that it will be forthcoming.

Now the citizens are angry. They voted for Utopia, and it has not come. They asked for an income, but they have not received it. They relied on promises that have not been fulfilled. They are howling for the hide of the leader who made the promises, but they should be kicking themselves for voting him into office.

As Irvin Cobb aptly remarks, "Industrial depressions always spawn their self-appointed saviors who promise to restore prosperity by giving money they haven't got to people who haven't earned it." Unless a country is wealthy, these promisers cannot put their ideas into operation, and if they promise too much, they are blocked by the sheer lack of cash.

What the people have to learn is this: whatever they vote, they must pay for. They cannot elect men to office who promise much without underwriting his notes. Eventually the money to meet his obligations must come from their own pockets. It is much better to give the go-by to those who promise everything, but found their promises on no solid facts.

Kite Flying

Ever since Benjamin Franklin sent up a kite during a thunderstorm and risked getting himself electrocuted, all in order that he might discover electricity, there has been a keen American interest in flying kites. In the spring the average boy wants a kite; there is a sort of yearning to see something floating high in the clear blue of the sky.

But we are told that Chinese and Japanese children, and even grown-ups, excel us in the sport of kite flying. They have been at it for centuries, and they know just how it's done. However, Los Angeles youths have been achieving great success lately in both the construction and flying of kites.

Even scientists are taking an interest, for they are using kites to obtain valuable information from the air. Hence a contest in kite flying is fully justified, and we are pleased to announce and approve such an event for Jacksonville.

The contest is now under way and boys of the city are working on their kites. There will be prizes for various types of construction, and for triumphs with home-made and boughten kites. The county recreational program has this contest as one of its features, and it is hoped a large number of boys will become interested in the sport.

Just on word of warning to kite fliers. Choose a large open space where your kites will not become entangled in trees, and especially with electric wires. Ben Franklin did not get killed, but there is a good chance of putting an electric power line out of commission if your kite short circuits the wires. Kite flying is a sport of the wide open spaces, and the wider open the better.

Young Reformers

A psychologist once submitted a questionnaire to young people in which he asked at what age they first entertained ideas of reforming human society. Some frankly admitted they had given the matter some thought at 7 years of age. Others said the idea obcessed them between 7 and 10, while the majority said they were about 14 before they thought of initiating the millenium.

A firm belief that things need changing attacks the human mind at an early age. Sometimes the idea persists long after sober judgment as to other matters is acquired. Finally the victim of reformitis concludes that things do need altering, perhaps, but the changes cannot be made in a day, a year or even a century. Human nature is not that fickle.

Griggsville Woman Dies at Age of 84

Mrs. Butterfield, Mother of Jacksonville Man, is Buried Monday

Griggsville—Mrs. Amos Butterfield, who has been in failing health for several years, died at her late home in Griggsville Saturday, March 7 at 3:40 p. m. from influenza, aged 84 years, 2 months, 16 days.

She was the third child in the family of Robert Lawrence and Sarah Cawthon Hensell.

On Aug. 11, 1872, she united in marriage with Amos Butterfield who preceded her in death about seven years ago. Two children were born, who survive, Minnie, the wife of John Wilson of Griggsville, Ill., with whom she had made her home since the death of her husband, and Floyd R. Butterfield of Jacksonville, Ill.

She is also survived by three grandchildren, three great grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. L. A. Chapman of Pittsfield, Ill., and Mrs. Carrie Lots of Knoxville, Ill. Two sisters and two brothers have preceded her in death.

Mrs. Butterfield was of a quiet unassuming disposition whose thoughts were ever for others. She had a kind and gracious word for all. She spent many hours in loving ministry for the sick and afflicted. She was a member of the Griggsville M. E. church for many years and worked loyally in its organizations.

Funeral services were held Monday at 3 p. m. at the Griggsville M. E. church with interment following in Griggsville cemetery, the Rev. Oscar F. Jones pastor, officiating.

Eight Per Cent of Morgan Population Draws Relief Funds

Figures Released by State Relief Organization; 198,935 in State

Out of 198,935 cases receiving relief during January in Illinois, Morgan county had 845 cases, it was shown in a report to the National Emergency Council by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission this week.

These cases include 2,836 persons, or 8.3 per cent of the population of the county.

These figures include 190,887 resident family cases, 4,262 resident non-family cases, and 3,786 non-resident cases.

A preliminary estimate for March set the total number of relief cases in Illinois for this month at approximately 171,000. In addition to this number, the IERC will have to supplement the wages of 22,000 Works Progress Administration cases.

Between sixty and sixty-five thousand of the cases on relief are considered as unemployable, due to physical disability, illness and the like.

In reporting on the state of relief funds and the needs of the state for March, the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission pointed out that estimated needs for relief for the month of March are $5,384,833. Local funds will account for $91,711 of this amount, leaving the commission with an estimated need of $5,293,122.

Set over against these needs, are two and one-half million dollars which are received each month out of the $7,500,000 appropriation made last February by the state out of the general revenue fund, and about $2,000,000 which the commission estimated will be their share (one-third) of the state sales tax and $86,000 balance on hand from last month. This will give the commission an income of $4,586,000 with an estimated need of $5,295,122.

State officials say that the sales tax may bring the commission a revenue of $2,500,000 this month, or a half million more than the commission estimates. If this happens, the relief fund will be $207,122 short for the month of March. If the sales tax does not bring in the other half million, the state relief office will face a shortage of $707,122 for the month.

MUST FIND JOBS OR SIGNED TURNDOWNS

Scott Citizens Can't Get Relief Without Signers

Winchester, Ill.—(AP)—Beginning today, employable clients of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission in Scott county must look for jobs before they can get further aid.

The commission's county office announced yesterday that unless an employable client can produce the signatures of three employers showing they have refused him work, no relief will be given.

Miss Jokisch and Roy Reichert Wed

Marriage Ceremony Occurs Sunday Night at Home of Bride's Parents

Virginia—A pretty wedding ceremony uniting two well known young people of this community occurred at 6 o'clock Sunday evening when Miss Phyllis Jokisch became the bride of Roy Reichert. The marriage occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Jokisch, in the Bluff Springs neighborhood, and was performed by Rev. K. Bruno Neumann, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church at Bluff Springs.

Members of the immediate families and a few friends of the bridal couple attended the ceremony. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jokisch, the latter being a sister of the groom. The bride was attired in light blue satin and carried an arm bouquet of roses, sweet peas and freesias. The bridesmaid was attired in navy blue.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reichert, residing near Virginia. The couple will reside in Decatur, where Mr. Reichert is employed by the Union Dairy Co. Mrs. Reichert has been employed as a registered nurse in the Macon County hospital in Decatur.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the Jokisch home, after which the couple left for a wedding tour.

Margaret S. Cannon Dies Monday

Had Always Lived in City; Funeral Services Will Be Held Wednesday

Miss Margaret Sarah Cannon passed away at 3:45 o'clock yesterday morning at a hospital here after an extended illness.

She was a daughter of John and Mahalah Cannon, and was born in Jacksonville, March 28, 1860. Her entire life was spent in this community.

Surviving are one sister, Miss Cora Cannon of this city; her stepmother, Mrs. A. E. Cannon of Plant City, Fla., and several nieces and nephews.

The remains were removed to the Cody & Son Memorial Home, where services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. M. M. Blair of Centenary M. E. church. Interment will be made in Jacksonville cemetery.

Cut in Funds and Case Jump Cause Relief Crisis Here

First Checks Go Out to 198 Clients Monday; Sixty New Families Apply

The first cash relief checks were distributed yesterday to 189 families in Morgan county. More checks will be sent out today and Wednesday to complete the first relief payroll under the new plan.

However, Mrs. Tillie Kelly, county relief superintendent, revealed yesterday that the situation here is acute. Th relief allocation for the first half of March was cut 13⅓ per cent, and funds are practically exhausted. More money is urgently needed to care for sixty additional families applying for relief.

Mrs. Kelly is now negotiating with Chicago to secure enough money to supply the needs until the 15th of March. The sixty additional cases not anticipated in the budgeting of funds for this period have been discharged from WPA, and must therefore be cared for with direct relief.

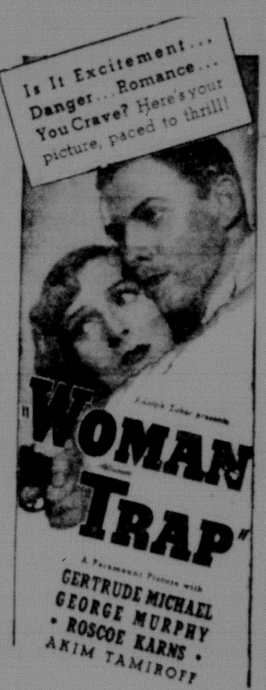

There is sufficient money to care for the relief cases already scheduled to receive payments under the cash relief plan, but there is nothing on hand for emergencies, such as the one the county relief organization is now facing.

Finis E. Downing is Summoned by Death At Virginia Sunday

Former Congressman, Member of Legislature, Dies; Funeral Tuesday

Virginia.—Finis E. Downing, 89, one-time member of congress and the state legislature, member of the Illinois Bar Association, newspaper editor and business man, died at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at his home in this city. His death followed an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

Mr. Downing was a member of one of the earliest families in Cass county. He was born in Virginia, Aug. 24, 1846, a son of Rev. and Mrs. Nathan Downing. In 1868 he married Miss Sue Payne. Mrs. Downing died in 1900 and in 1902 he married Mrs. Missouri Grigsby of Pittsfield, who also preceded him in death. He is survived by a son, Harry F. Downing and a granddaughter, Miss Sue Elizabeth Downing of Chicago.

Mr. Downing was active in county and state Democratic party politics forty years ago. He served as circuit clerk of Cass county in 1880 and later represented his district in the Senate. He was congressman from the Sixteenth district from 1894 to 1896.

He was editor of a local newspaper, the Virginia Enquirer, which he turned over to his son. He conducted an extensive dry goods business here for many years and remained in good health and extremely active until his last illness. He was a member of the Masonic, Odd Fellow, and Woodmen lodges of this city.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Massie funeral home in this city. Rev. W. S. Neely, will officiate and interment will be in Walnut Ridge cemetery.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1—Each day, excepting Sunday and Monday, beginning Tuesday, March 10th, and ending Saturday, May 16th, the Jacksonville Journal and Courier will publish a picture depicting a certain traffic situation. The object of the game is to determine whether or not a SAFETY rule or precaution (not necessarily a legal violation) is involved and if the answer is "Yes," to tell in not more than 25 words what, in your judgment, constitutes a violation of the precepts of SAFETY.

2—Any man or woman, except employes of The Journal and Courier and members of their families may submit an answer. NO SUBSCRIPTIONS REQUIRED. In fact, you do not have to be a subscriber or even an occasional reader to compete. Copies of The Journal and Courier are on file at the Library and at the office of the newspapers. Facsimiles of the daily drawings and forms will be accepted.

3—CASH PRIZES as listed in this announcement will be awarded for the 82 best sets of 50 answers. Awards will be made on the basis of correctness, neatness, spelling, brevity and composition.

4—No entries will be returned. Those bearing insufficient postage will be returned by the Postoffice Department. Only one prize will be awarded to any one household, or where any group of two or more persons have been working together and only one entry may be submitted by any one person.

5—DO NOT SUBMIT ELABORATELY DECORATED ANSWERS.

6—HOLD ALL ANSWERS UNTIL THE ENTIRE SET OF FIFTY PICTURES HAS BEEN PUBLISHED. Those violating this rule will be disqualified. Once a list of answers has been filed, no additions or corrections can be made. Bring or mail your complete list of answers to The Traffic Safety Game Editor, Journal and Courier, 110 South West Street, Jacksonville, Illinois, not later than midnight, Saturday, May 23, 1936. Entries postmarked later than midnight of that date will be rejected.

7—Three capable judges, selected by The Journal and Courier, will decide the winners and by entering this contest all participators agree to accept their decisions as final and binding in all matters. In case of a tie, duplicate prizes will be paid for the positions tied.

8—The Journal and Courier will not be responsible for any entries lost or delayed in transit by mail or otherwise. For your own protection, therefore, write your name and address on each of your answers as well as on the envelope bearing your complete solution.

James M. Starr Dies Suddenly in Chair At Home Near Here

Former Dairy Owner Passes Away at Noon Monday; Hold Inquest

James M. Starr, well known farmer residing just east of Jacksonville on Route 36, died suddenly at noon yesterday while sitting in a rocking chair at his home.

Mr. Starr had been up and around his home during the morning, and was stricken suddenly soon after he sat in the chair. A physician was called but Mr. Starr was pronounced dead.

The decedent operated a dairy business for a number of years, and later developed the front of his property as the Silver Starr Inn, carrying on a large refreshment business featuring dairy products. He disposed of the interests of the inn some time ago.

Mr. Starr was born August 25, 1861 in Montpelier, Ohio, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Starr. He had been a resident of Morgan county since 1898.

His wife preceded him in death several years ago. Surviving are one son and one daughter, Leslie Starr and Mrs. Lyman Decker of this city; one brother and one sister, Walter Starr, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Ben Lurton of this city; eight grandchildren.

He was a member of the Methodist church and of Illini Lodge No. 4, I. O.O.F.

An inquest was conducted at 2:30 p. m. yesterday by Coroner E. O. Sample at the Gillham Funeral Home. The jury returned a verdict of "death due to acute myocarditis."

The jury members were John Mc-Tendorf, foreman, Russel H. Kobl, Charles Lewis, Valley Myers, S. E. Osborn and Albert Decker.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Gillham Funeral Home in charge of Rev. F. A. Havighurst and members of Odd Fellows lodge, No. 4. Burial will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

FUNERAL OF SARAH A. BLACKMORE IS HELD AT DURBIN CHURCH

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah A. Blackmore were held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Durbin M. E. church, in charge of Rev. Mr. Allison. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cox and Mrs. Milford Reese.

The floral tributes were cared for by Mrs. Merle Helliwell, and the Misses Eleanor and Marietta Koss and Mary Miller.

The casket bearers were Albert Koss, Henry Christison, Brady Denney, Ernest Jones, Alpha Megginson and G. M. Wackerle. Interment took place in Davis cemetery.

A LIGHT SMOKE

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

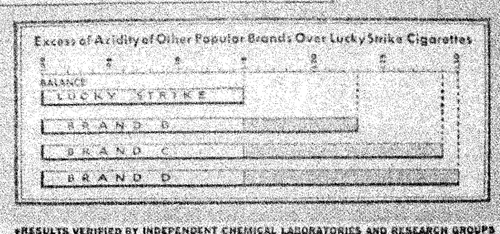

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes.

They include preliminary analyses of the tobacco selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("Toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

Mrs. Helen Brown Read to Direct Program April 23 at Westminster

The Jacksonville Civic chorus, an organization which was formed last year, will give its second concert April 23, at the Westminster church. Mrs. Helen Brown Read as a director and talented vocalist has arranged many beautiful numbers, which will include Classical music and selections which will appeal to every one.

Miss Lena Mae Hopper, supervisor of music in the public schools will present the Treble Clef club of the High school in an effective number. There will also be selections by the men's chorus and the women's chorus.

Mrs. Helen Brown Read will direct, assisted by Guy Snell at the piano, and Philip Read at the organ. The entire personnel of the chorus and the solo singers will be announced at a later date.

James M. Starr Dies Suddenly in Chair At Home Near Here

Former Dairy Owner Passes Away at Noon Monday; Hold Inquest

James M. Starr, well known farmer residing just east of Jacksonville on Route 36, died suddenly at noon yesterday while sitting in a rocking chair at his home.

Mr. Starr had been up and around his home during the morning, and was stricken suddenly soon after he sat in the chair. A physician was called but Mr. Starr was pronounced dead.

The decedent operated a dairy business for a number of years, and later developed the front of his property as the Silver Starr Inn, carrying on a large refreshment business featuring dairy products. He disposed of the interests of the Inn some time ago.

Mr. Starr was born August 25, 1861 in Montpelier, Ohio, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Starr. He had been a resident of Morgan county since 1898.

His wife preceded him in death several years ago. Surviving are one son and one daughter, Leslie Starr and Mrs. Lyman Decker of this city; one brother and one sister, Walter Starr, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Ben Lurton of this city; eight grandchildren.

He was a member of the Methodist church and of Illini Lodge No. 4, I. O.O.F.

An inquest was conducted at 2:30 p. m. yesterday by Coroner F. O. Sample at the Gillham Funeral Home. The jury returned a verdict of "death due to acute myocarditis."

The jury members were John Mistendorf, foreman, Russel H. Kehl, Charles Lewis, Volley Myers, S. E. Ogborn and Albert Decker.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Gillham Funeral Home in charge of Rev. F. A. Havighurst and members of Odd Fellows lodge, No. 4. Burial will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

FUNERAL OF SARAH A. BLACKMORE IS HELD AT DURBIN CHURCH

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah A. Blackmore were held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Durbin M. E. church, in charge of Rev. Mr. Allison. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cox and Mrs. Milford Reese.

The floral tributes were cared for by Mr. Merle Helliwell, and the Misses Eleanor and Marietta Koss and Mary Miller.

The casket bearers were Albert Koss, Henry Christison, Brack Denney, Ernest Jones, Alpha Megginson and G. M. Wackerle. Interment took place in Davis cemetery.

Each Puff Less Acid
A LIGHT SMOKE
OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO
Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes.
They include preliminary analyses of the tobacco selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("Toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.
All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.
Luckies are less acid
Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

Local Teams Prepare For Pittsfield Sectional Tournament

Joe Cronin and His Red Sox Are Certain Boston Will Win 1936 Pennant

By Eddie Brietz,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Sarasota, Fla., March 9.—(AP)—If a ball club could think and talk its way into a pennant, seven American League clubs could kiss the 1936 gonfalon good-bye right now.

The Boston Red Sox would be "in."

Here in sunny Sarasota, more than a half million dollars worth of fancy diamond talent is getting ready to show the baseball world that all of Owner Tom Yawkey's millions can't be wong.

All the Sox talk about is pennant, pennant, pennant. Manager Joe Cronin leads the horn blowing and makes no bones about it.

"Sure, I predict we'll win," he says. "We've got one of the best clubs ever put together. I may as well, anyway. Everybody expects us to, don't they?"

Since the close of last season, Yawkey with whom winning an pennant has become something of an obsession, has spent more than $400,000 for new players.

He got Heinie Manush, hard-hitting outfielder, in a deal with Washington. Then he bought Jimmy Foxx, slugging first sacker from Philadelphia, along with Johnny Marcum, a pitcher, who turned in 20 victories for the last place A's. Later he shelled out for Eric McNair, infielder, and Roger Cramer, outfielder, also from the Mackmen.

Add to this imposing array such star performers as Manager Cronin, Lefty Mose Grove, Wes and Rick Ferrell and Bill Werber and you have a club which, on paper, looks capable of going almost any place it chooses.

"Foxx is the boy who has made the club," Cronin said. "He's added a lot of power and a lot of spirit to the team. He's one of the hardest workers in camp. He showed up in the best shape in years and looks great. He's made himself the most popular man on the club. Moreover, he's glad to be with us. Like everyone else, he feels we have a fine chance to finish on top.

Only one spot—right field—is in doubt. It will be up to Allan (Dusty) Cooke and Melo Almada to fight it out for that. All the other jobs were settled before the Sox pitched camp.

Foxx, of course, will play first. McNair will start at second, with Cronin, lighter and in his best condition in years, back at short and the speedy Bill Werber at third.

Heinie Manush is assured of left field and Cramer has been assigned to his regular spot in center. Rick Ferrell will do the catching with the educated Moe Berg assisting.

This set-up leaves Oscar Melillo, one of the best defensive second sackers in the majors on the bench, but the guessing here is that if either Cooke or Almada falter in the gardens, Croning will move Werber to right field, switch McNair to third and insert Melillo at the keystone sack.

The pitching staff again will be built around Ferrell and Grove. Last year this pair accounted for 25 and 20 wins each. With the added punch of Foxx and McNair, their total may be higher this season.

The Red Sox boss believes the Detroit Tigers are the club he'll have to beat, with both the Indians and the Yankees furnishing plenty of competition.

A. B. C. Welcomed To Indianapolis

Indianapolis, March 9.—(AP)—With a fanfare worthy of a hot election or the visit of a president Indianapolis tonight formally welcomed the start of the month long convention of the American bowling congress.

Red fire was set in the streets, gayly clad Rotarian and Kiwanian keglers got in shape to open the competition by staging a parade through downtown thoroughfares and Governor Paul V. McNutt oiled up his "pitching" arm to try for a strike with the first ball down the slick alleys at the Fairgrounds' Coliseum.

It was a big time for the Hoosiers, welcoming back to Indianapolis what is said to be the world's largest sports event from standpoints of competitors. It is the first time the city has played host to the ABC since 1903 when it entertained the third annual convention.

Then there were only 78 teams. This year there are 2,853 five-man teams, 4,571 two-man combinations and 9,131 singles entries, over half of them coming from 28 other states, Canada and Hawaii. The other half of the entry list is made up of Indianans, the majority of them the so-called "Booster" teams who will "break-in" the alleys for the crack ten-pin topplers who will start pouring in Saturday and Sunday.

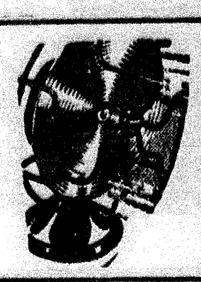

From tonight until the last pin is knocked down in the evening of April 14 some 15,000 bowlers will parade to the line to keep the alleys busy from early in the morning until late at night, an average of 400 a day.

For their comfort and entertainment and that of the expected 50,000-75,000 visitors some six acres of space has been set aside for the alleys themselves, rest rooms, exhibits and concessions in the big Coliseum and the adjoining building where the blue bloods of Indiana cowdome parade each September.

SIGNS BILL 78

Springfield, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner today signed house bill 78 which provides that a motor vehicle operator convicted three times of violating the statute requiring use of a muffler will lose his license registration.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Richard Lyons, Libertyville Republican.

Fan Breezes

By Ernest Savage

There were more one and two point decisions in the regional finals than you could count on both hands. There were 18 narrow victories—three of them overtimes, out of the 60 tournaments which finished Saturday night.

—o—

For the benefit of a number of fans who didn't observe the Friday night scores, Quincy won its regional that night by defeating Payson 39 to 26. Kewanee also wound up its regional tournament that night by winning from Weathersfield of Kewanee 30 to 13.

—o—

And if a district tournament is assigned here next year, chances are pretty good that the schedule will be drawn up to wind it up in three nights.

—o—

According to the dope we picked up without asking for it, the district paid off all but about $35 of the expenses, and the regional hit $693. Traveling expenses for the district were $146 and for the regional only $88, which assures the regional entries of a neat rebate.

—o—

The local regional topped the Pittsfield regional by about $50. There were good crowds on hand every night. Incidentally, the coaches and officials of the tournament had nothing but the highest praise for the efficient management of Dan T. Cloud, I. S. D. managing officer, and his capable corps of assistants.

—o—

Going back through the records, we find that Jacksonville high won its first district tournament held in Jacksonville way back in 1911, and sent its team of Julian Malone, Fuller, Tandy, Spink, Rodgers and Waters to Peoria for the state finals. They were defeated there in their first game by Rockford 39 to 23.

—o—

That was the only Jacksonville high sonville high teams have won the district or regional title six times in 26 years, but this year's team is the first to turn the trick since 1927.

—o—

They won the crown in 1913, under some sort of arrangement that is not fully explained in the newspaper accounts, for in spite of the fact that they lost to Pittsfield, 17-13, they went on to win the title from Mt. Sterling, the newspaper account merely stating that Jacksonville beat Pittsfield later, but does not give the score.

—o—

Tom Hale, Walton Boxell, Dale Boxell, Warren Maddox, Harry Frye, James Koip, were members of that team, with W. L. Alcott as manager, and the late H. M. Buland as coach. That was the first year local newspapers published a box score of the games, all previous box scores having been written out.

—o—

Then came the long reign of Springfield and Jerseyville teams, lasting up to 1922, when Lee Henry Goebel, Russ Deatherage, "Ikey" Hunter, Lewis, John Putnam, Harold Hopper, Palmer Hunt, John Hackett, Al Arter, and George Houston crashed through with a title by defeating Bluffs.

—o—

The Crimsons won it again in 1926 by nosing out New Berlin 21 to 20, with W. T. Wilson, Conkle, John Norris, Hugh Osborne, and Kenneth Curtis in the line-up, and again in 1927 when "Dizz" Killham, Lambert Bunch, McLaughlin, Bob Conover, and Hugh Osborne nosed out I. S. D. in the championship game 20-17.

—o—

That was the last up to the present 1935-36 team of Bob Hamm, Elmer Lukeman, Alb Ketner, Wilbur Baptist, George Hamilton, George Moxon, John Bellatti, John Wright, Donald Ranson, and Joe McDonald.

—o—

By WILLIAM WEEKES

Chicago—(AP)—Purdue and Indiana, co-holders of the 1936 Western Conference basketball title, today shared honors with Michigan, Ohio State and Chicago on the Associated Press' annual all-star team selected by the ten coaches.

The mythical first team, which with a couple of weeks of practice probably would make the United States a highly capable Olympic entrant, if the rules permitted such a thing, lines up with Bob Kessler of Purdue and Bill Haarlow of Chicago, a pair of brilliant scorers and first team selections in 1935, at forwards; John Townsend of Michigan, at center, and Vernon Huffman of Indiana and Little William Harrison (Tippy) Dye of Ohio State at the guards.

Kessler, a senior, winner of the individual scoring championship and the spearhead of Purdue's better than point-a-minute attack, was the only unanimous selection. Haarlow, also a senior, was a close second in the voting, receiving nine first team votes and one for the second five. Huffman, a junior, was rated the best guard by nine coaches, while one failed to mention him.

The battles for the other two positions were closed won to the finish. Townsend, an Indianapolis boy who made good at Michigan and the only sophomore to be named, played regularly at forward throughout the season, but was the choice of five coaches as first team center, while another named him for the second team. Right behind him was Earl Thomas of Ohio State, who received two first team votes and five for the second team. Townsend also was named at forward by two coaches.

Dye, another junior, outpointed Paul Malaska, brilliant Purdue sophomore, and Harry Combes of Illinois for the other guard position by a narrow margin. However, one coach and several officials called Dye the most polished all-around performer in the conference.

The second team forward places went to Warren Whitlinger of Ohio State, and Kenneth Gunning of Indiana, both of whom made the second team a year ago. Thomas of Ohio State won the reserve center job, with Combes and Malaska at the guards.

Honorable mention was earned by the following:

Forwards—Jewell Young, Purdue, and Marcellus (Mike) McMichaels, Northwestern; centers, Bob Riegel, Illinois; Fred Fechtman, Indiana, and Ed Stege, Wisconsin; guards, Wilbum Henry, Illinois; Wendel Walker, Indiana; Dick Seebach, Minnesota; Norman Vance, Northwestern; Austin Lambert, and Glenn Downey, Purdue, and George Rudness, Michigan.

Indiana Teachers Meets Augustana

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Indiana state teachers of Terre Haute, will meet Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., Thursday night in the first game of the fifth district Olympic basketball final trials at the 132nd regiment armory.

Drawings were made today by Jim Kelly, De Paul University athletic director, and Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, Northwestern University basketball coach, who took over direction of the tournament when it was shifted from Indianapolis, where the trials started last week, to Chicago.

Central Indiana Teachers will meet Ball State Teachers of Muncie, Ind., in the second Thursday night game. De Paul meets the winner of the Indiana State-Augustana game, in the first number of Friday night's program. Northwestern tackles the survivor of the Central Indiana-Ball State clast, in the second Friday game. The finals will be played Saturday night.

Sinclair visitors in the city yesterday afternoon included Carl Burmeister.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Bluffs Indee Meet To Open Wednesday

Bluffs, Mar. 9.—The Bluffs Invitational Independent basketball tournament will open at the Bluffs high school gymnasium, Wednesday night, March 11th, and continue for four nights.

Ten of the strongest teams of this section will compete, including Carlinville All-Stars who hold a decision over Illinois College; Pearl Panthers, who recently defeated the All-Stars; Murrayville, with a strong team made up of former high school stars; Griggsville, led by Gib Love, former Western Teachers star; and Perry, Alsey, Chapin, Bluffs, Winchester and Jacksonville CCC.

There is no one to choose for a pretourney favorite that would be above being licked by at least two or three of the other teams. The Bluffs entry has won ten games out of eleven, losing only to the fast moving Swift's team of Jacksonville.

The Pearl Panthers will meet Jacksonville CCC in the opening game of the tournament Wednesday night at 7:00 o'clock. At 8:00 o'clock Murrayville will meet Winchester and at 9:00 Carlinville All-Stars will play Griggsville.

The second session will get under way Thursday night at 7 o'clock with the Alsey Blackhawks tangling with Chapin and at eight o'clock the Bluffs Indees will meet Perry. At nine o'clock winner of game 1 will meet winner of game 2, for the right to play in the semi-finals.

The semi-finals will be played Friday night, the first game at 7:30. The championship game and consolation game will be played Saturday night.

The officials will be Crowe and Murgatroyd of Jacksonville.

Jack Kearns Has Been Suspended

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Jack Kearns, manager of Lorenzo Pack, giant negro heavyweight of Detroit, today was suspended for 30 days by the Illinois state athletic commission, for failure to have Pack in condition for his ten round bout with Cowboy Frankie Edgren, Cheyenne, Wyo., at the Chicago stadium Feb. 28.

Pack also was suspended for 30 days for not being in condition to box. The bout was stopped in the 6th round and declared "no contest." When Pack, overweight 15 pounds, was unable to make a creditable showing.

Tigers May Go to Michigan If They Lose First Game in Sectional Play; J.H.S. Works

Jacksonville high, with its first regional championship in nine starts, and Illinois School for the Deaf, one of the most consistent finalists in the city, went back to the basketball court last night to get in trim for the Pittsfield sectional tournament opening this Wednesday night on the Pike county court. Both the Tigers and the Crimsons used the big Tiger court for their drills last night.

The Tigers, with one eye on a possible place in the state finals at Champaign, also have an eye on the Flint, Michigan, Central States Deaf tournament, beginning this Friday, it became known yesterday. Although it was at first planned to withdraw from the Central States affair, the local school is said to have promised to send its team to Flint if it is eliminated from sectional play by Beardstown. The plans call for the Tigers to leave immediately after their defeat, if it is one, to camp overnight in Bloomington or Kankakee, and then make the rest of the run to Flint the following day.

Crimsons Lose Wright

For Jacksonville high, the outlook was a bit more dark. John Wright, who helped pep up the Crimsons in the final quarter rally that smothered Illinois School for the Deaf, was declared ineligible yesterday for the next six weeks. Alb Ketner is still limping around on his bum leg, but is expected to be ready for sectional play after getting into two games of the regional and not even dressing for the championship game. He probably will still be feeling the effects of the "Charley-horse" he acquired in the Jerseyville game at Jerseyville, but the injured muscle is beginning to respond after continued efforts to bake and rub out the soreness.

Principal J. C. Mutch declared a two period holiday for the Crimson supporters Monday morning, and the students, led by the basketball team, invaded the business district to vent their enthusiasm. Not since 1927 has the high school had an opportunity to celebrate a district championship.

Sup't. J. Voshall, of Pittsfield, came here yesterday with advertising matter to boom up interest in the sectional tournament, and declared it was his belief that Jacksonville had just as good a chance as any one to cop the sectional title, if they play their best basketball. However, he expects the competition to be so keen that teams putting up a mediocre performance will find themselves listed among the also-rans.

Sup't. Voshall was unable to give any information about the Carthage team which the Crimsons meet in their first game of the sectional, but pointed out that they stormed over their first opponent with a 62 to 11 score, and won from Burnside in their second game 35 to 17, before dropping the championship to Colchester's great team 35 to 18.

Both J. H. S. and I. S. D. seemed a bit worn as the result of their harrowing experiences of the past week, but both teams settled down quickly last night and shook off their letdown. The Tigers zipped through a speedy practice, while Coach Frank Walker spent most of his time checking up on the shooting form of his Crimsons. They appeared to be off their stride in the regional tournament, but with drills last night and tonight on the I. S. D. court, he hopes to restore some of the speed and dash that marked their play on their own floor.

The Tigers have anything but a pleasant outlook in running into Beardstown, for the Beardstown Tiger slipped the regional championship out from under the grasp of Rushville by a two point margin. A methodical basketball team, the Beardstown outfit promises to offer the Tigers a real test.

Cleveland May Be Tough This Year

Indians' Success Depends on Frank Pytlak's Ability to Stage Comeback

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

New Orleans.—(AP)—Cleveland's Indians, their spirits fired to a new high under the popular Steve O'Neill, threaten a wholesale massacre of enemy hopes over the American League pennant trail this year.

Give the big Indian chief a fair share of the breaks, together with Catcher Frank Pytlak and Outfield Bruce Campbell at peak form, and he will lead his tribesmen in a great fight for the flag that hasn't floated over the Indian tepees since 1920. Take them away, and he'll have a big job on his hands in his first full year as successor to Walter Johnson, whose final season was marked by dissension and woe.

Probably no one man in the Indian camp means as much to Cleveland's success as Pytlak, a moody little man weighing but 162 pounds. If Pytlak out of the lineup the last half of the 1935 season when the Indians wound up third, can come back, after his illness, with his old time speed and ability to direct the powerful pitching staff, O'Neill's biggest problem will be solved. Four backstops, Joe Becker, Bob Garback, Charlie (The Greek) George, and Billy Sullivan, are working hard for the job should Pytlak fail, but all of them are uncertainties.

Campbell, however, is almost certain to make a comeback after his near fatal illness of spinal meningitis last season. Apparently in top form, the iron man Scot has been hitting the ball even harder than he did last season when he left the game with a .325 batting average. With Campbell roving the outfield with Earl Averill and Joe Vosmik, the Indians should have plenty of speed and power.

The addition of Johnny Allen from New York and George Blaeholder from Philadelphia will give O'Neill a well rounded, brilliant pitching staff. Under his present plans, O'Neill will carry nine pitchers, probably Allen, Lloyd Brown, Mel Harder, Oral Hildebrand, Willis Hudlin, Thornton Lee, Ralph Winegarner, Blaeholder, and Clint Brown. All are right handed except Lee. Al Milnar, southpaw obtained from New Orleans, and the veteran Walter Tauscher, a right handed flinger from Minneapolis, will have a big job breaking in on that staff.

O'Neill's infield seems well set with Hal Trosky at first, Bill Knickerbocker at shortstop, Odell (Bad News) Hale at third, and either Louis Berger or Roy Hughes at second.

"I see they are picking us to finish fourth," said O'Neill. "That's okay with us, but I've got a hunch we're going to fool 'em this year. Give us an even shake in the breaks and we'll be up there all the way."

Wesleyan Hopes to Win Out 2nd Time

Meets St. Viator Tuesday in Final Game of Season

Chicago—(AP)—Illinois Wesleyan will be aiming at its second undefeated basketball season in the past 10 years when it meets St. Viator tomorrow night in its final game of the season.

Victorious in 15 games this season, Wesleyan assured itself of the Illinois Intercollegiate Conference championship two weeks ago. Last week the Titans defeated Bradley, 40 to 28, to continue the winning streak, which has now run to 19 games in both conference and non-conference competition. Wesleyan was the last conference team to go through the season undefeated, doing it in 1927.

Only two games remain on the conference schedule. After the Wesleyan-St. Viator contest, Wheaton will meet St. Viator at Bourbonnais Thursday to wind up cage activity for the season.

Western Teachers earned a tie with Augustana and Southern Teachers for second place in the standings by defeating Eureka, 64 to 31, and Northern Teachers, 40 to 35, last week.

In other games of the week Northern Teachers defeated Wheaton, 37 to 35, and St. Viator trounced Wheaton 47 to 27.

SETS HEARING DATE

Tuscola, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Circuit Judge John Armstrong today set April 15 as the date for hearing the $25,000 damage suit of Miss Ruth Myers, Mattoon, against State Representative Victor McDonald, Arthur Democrat, for injuries allegedly incurred in an automobile accident last Nov. 4.

Local Teams Prepare For Pittsfield Sectional Tournament

Joe Cronin and His Red Sox Are Certain Boston Will Win 1936 Pennant

By Eddie Brietz,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Sarasota, Fla., March 9.—(AP)—If a ball club could think and talk its way into a pennant, seven American League clubs could kiss the 1936 gonfalon good-bye right now.

The Boston Red Sox would be "in."

Here in sunny Sarasota, more than a half million dollars worth of fancy diamond talent is getting ready to show the baseball world that all of Owner Tom Yawkey's millions can't be wong.

All the Sox talk about is pennant, pennant, pennant. Manager Joe Cronin leads the horn blowing and makes no bones about it.

"Sure, I predict we'll win," he says. "We've got one of the best clubs ever put together. I may as well, anyway. Everybody expects us to, don't they?"

Since the close of last season, Yawkey with whom winning an pennant has become something of an obsession, has spent more than $400,000 for new players.

He got Heinie Manush, hard-hitting outfielder, in a deal with Washington. Then he bought Jimmy Foxx, slugging first sacker from Philadelphia, along with Johnny Marcum, a pitcher, who turned in 20 victories for the last place A's. Later he shelled out for Eric McNair, infielder, and Roger Cramer, outfielder, also from the Mackmen.

Add to this imposing array such star performers as Manager Cronin, Lefty Mose Grove, Wes and Rick Ferrell and Bill Werber and you have a club which, on paper, looks capable of going almost any place it chooses.

"Foxx is the boy who has made the club," Cronin said. "He's added a lot of power and a lot of spirit to the team. He's one of the hardest workers in camp. He showed up in the best shape in years and looks great. He's made himself the most popular man on the club. Moreover, he's glad to be with us. Like everyone else, he feels we have a fine chance to finish on top.

Only one spot—right field—is in doubt. It will be up to Allan (Dusty) Cooke and Melo Almada to fight it out for that. All the other jobs were settled before the Sox pitched camp.

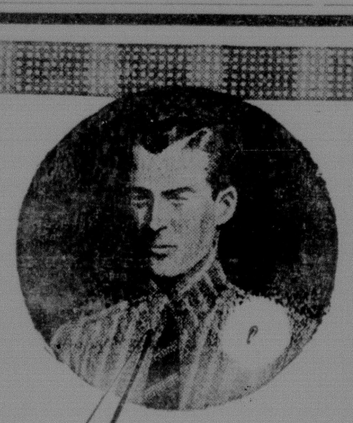

Foxx, of course, will play first. McNair will start at second, with Cronin, lighter and in his best condition in years, back at short and the speedy Bill Werber at third.

Heinie Manush is assured of left field and Cramer has been assigned to his regular spot in center. Rick Ferrell will do the catching with the educated Moe Berg assisting.

This set-up leaves Oscar Melillo, one of the best defensive second sackers in the majors on the bench, but the guessing here is that if either Cooke or Almada falter in the gardens, Croning will move Werber to right field, switch McNair to third and insert Mellilo at the keystone sack.

The pitching staff again will be built around Ferrell and Grove. Last year this pair accounted for 25 and 20 wins each. With the added punch of Foxx and McNair, their total may be higher this season.

The Red Sox boss believes the Detroit Tigers are the club he'll have to beat, with both the Indians and the Yankees furnishing plenty of competition.

A. B. C. Welcomed To Indianapolis

Indianapolis, March 9.—(AP)—With a fanfare worthy of a hot election or the visit of a president Indianapolis tonight formally welcomed the start of the month long convention of the American bowling congress.

Red fire was set in the streets, gayly clad Rotarian and Kiwanian keglers got in shape to open the competition by staging a parade through downtown thoroughfares and Governor Paul V. McNutt oiled up his "pitching" arm to try for a strike with the first ball down the slick alleys at the Fairgrounds' Coliseum.

It was a big time for the Hoosiers, welcoming back to Indianapolis what is said to be the world's largest sports event from standpoints of competitors. It is the first time the city has played host to the ABC since 1903 when it entertained the third annual convention.

Then there were only 78 teams. This year there are 2,853 five-man teams, 4,571 two-man combinations and 9,131 singles entries, over half of them coming from 28 other states, Canada and Hawaii. The other half of the entry list is made up of Indianans, the majority of them the so-called "Booster" teams who will "break-in" the alleys for the crack ten-pin topplers who will start pouring in Saturday and Sunday.

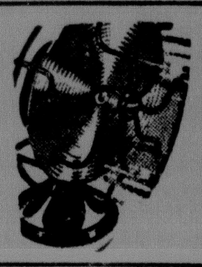

From tonight until the last pin is knocked down in the evening of April 14 some 15,000 bowlers will parade to the line to keep the alleys busy from early in the morning until late at night, an average of 400 a day.

For their comfort and entertainment and that of the expected 50,000-75,000 visitors some six acres of space has been set aside for the alleys themselves, rest rooms, exhibits and concessions in the big Coliseum and the adjoining building where the blue bloods of Indiana cowdome parade each September.

SIGNS BILL 78

Springfield, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner today signed house bill 78 which provides that a motor vehicle operator convicted three times of violating the statute requiring use of a muffler will lose his license registration.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Richard Lyons, Libertyville Republican.

Fan Breezes

By Ernest Savage

There were more one and two point decisions in the regional finals than you could count on both hands. There were 18 narrow victories—three of them overtimes, out of the 60 tournaments which finished Saturday night.

—o—

For the benefit of a number of fans who didn't observe the Friday night scores, Quincy won its regional that night by defeating Payson 39 to 26. Kewanee also wound up its regional tournament that night by winning from Weathersfield of Kewanee 30 to 13.

—o—

And if a district tournament is assigned here next year, chances are pretty good that the schedule will be drawn up to wind it up in three nights.

—o—

According to the dope we picked up without asking for it, the district paid off all but about $35 of the expenses, and the regional hit $693. Traveling expenses for the district were $146 and for the regional only $88, which assures the regional entries of a neat rebate.

—o—

The local regional topped the Pittsfield regional by about $50. There were good crowds on hand every night. Incidentally, the coaches and officials of the tournament had nothing but the highest praise for the efficient management of Dan T. Cloud, I. S. D. managing officer, and his capable corps of assistants.

—o—

Going back through the records, we find that Jacksonville high won its first district tournament held in Jacksonville way back in 1911, and sent its team of Julian Malone, Fuller, Tandy, Spink, Rodgers and Waters to Peoria for the state finals. They were defeated there in their first game by Rockford 39 to 23.

—o—

That was the only Jacksonville high sonville high teams have won the district or regional title six times in 26 years, but this year's team is the first to turn the trick since 1927.

—o—

They won the crown in 1913, under some sort of arrangement that is not fully explained in the newspaper accounts, for in spite of the fact that they lost to Pittsfield, 17-13, they went on to win the title from Mt. Sterling, the newspaper account merely stating that Jacksonville beat Pittsfield later, but does not give the score.

—o—

Tom Hale, Walton Boxell, Dale Boxell, Warren Maddox, Harry Frye, James Kolp, were members of that team, with W. L. Alcott as manager, and the late H. M. Buland as coach. That was the first year local newspapers published a box score of the games, all previous box scores having been written out.

—o—

Then came the long reign of Springfield and Jerseyville teams, lasting up to 1922, when Lee Henry Goebel, Russ Deatherage, "Ikey" Hunter, Lewis, John Putnam, Harold Hopper, Palmer Hunt, John Hackett, Al Arter, and George Houston crashed through with a title by defeating Bluffs.

—o—

The Crimsons won it again in 1926 by nosing out New Berlin 21 to 20, with W. T. Wilson, Conkle, John Norris, Hugh Osborne, and Kenneth Curtis in the line-up, and again in 1927 when "Dizz" Killham, Lambert Bunch, McLaughlin, Bob Conover, and Hugh Osborne nosed out I. S. D. in the championship game 20-17.

—o—

That was the last up to the present 1935-36 team of Bob Hamm, Elmer Lukeman, Alb Ketner, Wilbur Baptist, George Hamilton, George Moxon, John Bellatti, John Wright, Donald Ranson, and Joe McDonald.

By WILLIAM WEEKES

Chicago—(AP)—Purdue and Indiana, co-holders of the 1936 Western Conference basketball title, today shared honors with Michigan, Ohio State and Chicago on the Associated Press' annual all-star team selected by the ten coaches.

The mythical first team, which with a couple of weeks of practice probably would make the United States a highly capable Olympic entrant, if the rules permitted such a thing, lines up with Bob Kessler of Purdue and Bill Haarlow of Chicago, a pair of brilliant scorers and first team selections in 1935, at forwards; John Townsend of Michigan, at center, and Vernon Huffman of Indiana and Little William Harrison (Tippy) Dye of Ohio State at the guards.

Kessler, a senior, winner of the individual scoring championship and the spearhead of Purdue's better than point-a-minute attack, was the only unanimous selection. Haarlow, also a senior, was a close second in the voting, receiving nine first team votes and one for the second five. Huffman, a junior, was rated the best guard by nine coaches, while one failed to mention him.

The battles for the other two positions were closed won to the finish. Townsend, an Indianapolis boy who made good at Michigan and the only sophomore to be named, played regularly at forward throughout the season, but was the choice of five coaches as first team center, while another named him for the second team. Right behind him was Earl Thomas of Ohio State, who received two first team votes and five for the second team. Townsend also was named at forward by two coaches.

Dye, another junior, outpointed Paul Malaska, brilliant Purdue sophomore, and Harry Combes of Illinois for the other guard position by a narrow margin. However, one coach and several officials called Dye the most polished all-around performer in the conference.

The second team forward places went to Warren Whitlinger of Ohio State, and Kenneth Gunning of Indiana, both of whom made the second team a year ago. Thomas of Ohio State won the reserve center job, with Combes and Malaska at the guards.

Honorable mention was earned by the following:

Forwards—Jewell Young, Purdue, and Marcellus (Mike) McMichaels, Northwestern; centers, Bob Riegel, Illinois; Fred Fechtman, Indiana, and Ed Stege, Wisconsin; guards, Wilbum Henry, Illinois; Wendel Walker, Indiana; Dick Seebach, Minnesota; Norman Vance, Northwestern; Austin Lambert, and Glenn Downey, Purdue, and George Rudness, Michigan.

Indiana Teachers Meets Augustana

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Indiana state teachers of Terre Haute, will meet Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., Thursday night in the first game of the fifth district Olympic basketball final trials at the 132nd regiment armory.

Drawings were made today by Jim Kelly, De Paul University athletic director, and Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, Northwestern University basketball coach, who took over direction of the tournament when it was shifted from Indianapolis, where the trials started last week, to Chicago.

Central Indiana Teachers will meet Ball State Teachers of Muncie, Ind., in the second Thursday night game. De Paul meets the winner of the Indiana State-Augustana game, in the first number of Friday night's program. Northwestern tackles the survivor of the Central Indiana-Ball State clash, in the second Friday game. The finals will be played Saturday night.

Sinclair visitors in the city yesterday afternoon included Carl Burmeister.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Bluffs Indee Meet To Open Wednesday

Bluffs, Mar. 9.—The Bluffs Invitational Independent basketball tournament will open at the Bluffs high school gymnasium, Wednesday night, March 11th, and continue for four nights.

Ten of the strongest teams of this section will compete, including Carlinville All-Stars who hold a decision over Illinois College; Pearl Panthers, who recently defeated the All-Stars; Murrayville, with a strong team made up of former high school stars; Griggsville, led by Gib Love, former Western Teachers star; and Perry, Alsey, Chapin, Bluffs, Winchester and Jacksonville CCC.

There is no one to choose for a pretourney favorite that would be above being licked by at least two or three of the other teams. The Bluffs entry has won ten games out of eleven, losing only to the fast moving Swift's team of Jacksonville.

The Pearl Panthers will meet Jacksonville CCC in the opening game of the tournament Wednesday night at 7:00 o'clock. At 8:00 o'clock Murrayville will meet Winchester and at 9:00 Carlinville All-Stars will play Griggsville.

The second session will get under way Thursday night at 7 o'clock with the Alsey Blackhawks tangling with Chapin and at eight o'clock the Bluffs Indees will meet Perry. At nine o'clock winner of game 1 will meet winner of game 2, for the right to play in the semi-finals.

The semi-finals will be played Friday night, the first game at 7:30. The championship game and consolation game will be played Saturday night.

The officials will be Crowe and Murgatroyd of Jacksonville.

Jack Kearns Has Been Suspended

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Jack Kearns, manager of Lorenzo Pack, giant negro heavyweight of Detroit, today was suspended for 30 days by the Illinois state athletic commission, for failure to have Pack in condition for his ten round bout with Cowboy Frankie Edgren, Cheyenne, Wyo., at the Chicago stadium Feb. 28.

Pack also was suspended for 30 days for not being in condition to box. The bout was stopped in the 6th round and declared "no contest." When Pack, overweight 15 pounds, was unable to make a creditable showing.

Tigers May Go to Michigan If They Lose First Game in Sectional Play; J.H.S. Works

Jacksonville high, with its first regional championship in nine starts, and Illinois School for the Deaf, one of the most consistent finalists in the city, went back to the basketball court last night to get in trim for the Pittsfield sectional tournament opening this Wednesday night on the Pike county court. Both the Tigers and the Crimsons used the big Tiger court for their drills last night.

The Tigers, with one eye on a possible place in the state finals at Champaign, also have an eye on the Flint, Michigan, Central States Deaf tournament, beginning this Friday, it became known yesterday. Although it was at first planned to withdraw from the Central States affair, the local school is said to have promised to send its team to Flint if it is eliminated from sectional play by Beardstown. The plans call for the Tigers to leave immediately after their defeat, if it is one, to camp overnight in Bloomington or Kankakee, and then make the rest of the run to Flint the following day.

Crimsons Lose Wright

For Jacksonville high, the outlook was a bit more dark. John Wright, who helped pep up the Crimsons in the final quarter rally that smothered Illinois School for the Deaf, was declared ineligible yesterday for the next six weeks. Alb Ketner is still limping around on his bum leg, but is expected to be ready for sectional play after getting into two games of the regional and not even dressing for the championship game. He probably will still be feeling the effects of the "Charley-horse" he acquired in the Jerseyville game at Jerseyville, but the injured muscle is beginning to respond after continued efforts to bake and rub out the soreness.

Principal J. C. Mutch declared a two period holiday for the Crimson supporters Monday morning, and the students, led by the basketball team, invaded the business district to vent their enthusiasm. Not since 1927 has the high school had an opportunity to celebrate a district championship.

Sup't. J. Voshall, of Pittsfield, came here yesterday with advertising matter to boom up interest in the sectional tournament, and declared it was his belief that Jacksonville had just as good a chance as any one to cop the sectional title, if they play their best basketball. However, he expects the competition to be so keen that teams putting up a mediocre performance will find themselves listed among the also-rans.

Sup't. Voshall was unable to give any information about the Carthage team which the Crimsons meet in their first game of the sectional, but pointed out that they stormed over their first opponent with a 62 to 11 score, and won from Burnside in their second game 35 to 17, before dropping the championship to Colchester's great team 35 to 18.

Both J. H. S. and I. S. D. seemed a bit worn as the result of their harrowing experiences of the past week, but both teams settled down quickly last night and shook off their letdown. The Tigers zipped through a speedy practice, while Coach Frank Walker spent most of his time checking up on the shooting form of his Crimsons. They appeared to be off their stride in the regional tournament, but with drills last night and tonight on the I. S. D. court, he hopes to restore some of the speed and dash that marked their play on their own floor.

The Tigers have anything but a pleasant outlook in running into Beardstown, for the Beardstown Tiger slipped the regional championship out from under the grasp of Rushville by a two point margin. A methodical basketball team, the Beardstown outfit promises to offer the Tigers a real test.

Cleveland May Be Tough This Year

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

New Orleans.—(AP)—Cleveland's Indians, their spirits fired to a new high under the popular Steve O'Neill, threaten a wholesale massacre of enemy hopes over the American League pennant trail this year.

Give the big Indian chief a fair share of the breaks, together with Catcher Frank Pytlak and Outfield Bruce Campbell at peak form, and he will lead his tribesmen in a great fight for the flag that hasn't floated over the Indian tepees since 1920. Take them away, and he'll have a big job on his hands in his first full year as successor to Walter Johnson, whose final season was marked by dissension and woe.

Probably no one man in the Indian camp means as much to Cleveland's success as Pytlak, a moody little man weighing but 162 pounds. If Pytlak, out of the lineup the last half of the 1935 season when the Indians wound up third, can come back, after his illness, with his old time speed and ability to direct the powerful pitching staff, O'Neill's biggest problem will be solved. Four backstops, Joe Becker, Bob Garback, Charlie (The Greek) George, and Billy Sullivan, are working hard for the job should Pytlak fail, but all of them are uncertainties.

Campbell, however, is almost certain to make a comeback after his near fatal illness of spinal meningitis last season. Apparently in top form, the iron man Scot has been hitting the ball even harder than he did last season when he left the game with a .325 batting average. With Campbell roving the outfield with Earl Averill and Joe Vosmik, the Indians should have plenty of speed and power.

The addition of Johnny Allen from New York and George Blaeholder from Philadelphia will give O'Neill a well rounded, brilliant pitching staff. Under his present plans, O'Neill will carry nine pitchers, probably Allen, Lloyd Brown, Mel Harder, Oral Hildebrand, Willis Hudlin, Thornton Lee, Ralph Winegarner, Blaeholder, and Clint Brown. All are right handed except Lee. Al Milnar, southpaw obtained from New Orleans, and the veteran Walter Tauscher, a right handed flinger from Minneapolis, will have a big job breaking in on that staff.

O'Neill's infield seems well set with Hal Trosky at first, Bill Knickerbocker at shortstop, Odell (Bad News) Hale at third, and either Louis Berger or Roy Hughes at second.

"I see they are picking us to finish fourth," said O'Neill. "That's okay with us, but I've got a hunch we're going to fool 'em this year. Give us an even shake in the breaks and we'll be up there all the way."

Wesleyan Hopes to Win Out 2nd Time

Meets St. Viator Tuesday in Final Game of Season

Chicago—(AP)—Illinois Wesleyan will be aiming at its second undefeated basketball season in the past 10 years when it meets St. Viator tomorrow night in its final game of the season.

Victorious in 15 games this season, Wesleyan assured itself of the Illinois Intercollegiate Conference championship two weeks ago. Last week the Titans defeated Bradley, 40 to 28, to continue the winning streak, which has now run to 19 games in both conference and non-conference competition. Wesleyan was the last conference team to go through the season undefeated, doing it in 1927.

Only two games remain on the conference schedule. After the Wesleyan-St. Viator contest, Wheaton will meet St. Viator at Bourbonnais Thursday to wind up cage activity for the season.

Western Teachers earned a tie with Augustana and Southern Teachers for second place in the standings by defeating Eureka, 64 to 31, and Northern Teachers, 40 to 35, last week.

In other games of the week Northern Teachers defeated Wheaton, 37 to 35, and St. Viator trounced Wheaton 47 to 27.

SETS HEARING DATE

Tuscola, Ill., March 9.—(AP)—Circuit Judge John Armstrong today set April 15 as the date for hearing the $25,000 damage suit of Miss Ruth Myers, Mattoon, against State Representative Victor McDonald, Arthur Democrat, for injuries allegedly incurred in an automobile accident last Nov. 4.

Woman Justice at White Hall Holds Wedding Ceremony

Officiates at Wedding of Lloyd Koenig, Miss Pearl Ryder of Winchester

White Hall—Mrs. Geraldine Flynn Frazier, White Hall's first woman Justice of the Peace, performed her third marriage service Sunday afternoon, when she united Lloyd Koenig, son of Mrs. John Fields of this city, and Miss Pearl Ryder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ryder of Winchester, in marriage at the home of the groom's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wright on East Bridgeport street. Miss Helen Nash and Daniel Koenig, brother of the groom were the attendants.

The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. The bride wore a blue crepe dress. The wedding party was entertained at dinner at the home of the groom's mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Fields on Grout street, and at supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wright.

The groom is employed at the Ruckel pottery in White Hall and they will reside in an apartment in the Smith apartment house on East Bridgeport street.

Family Dinner Sunday

A family dinner was served at the home of Clyde Heberling on Porter avenue, Sunday and all of his children and grandchildren were present except, Jimmie Whiteside of Carrollton who visited with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Whiteside. Those present were County Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. C. A. Whiteside and son and daughter; Miss Mildred Heberling of Carrollton; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Heberling, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Heberling, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Seymoure and two children; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heberling and four children, and Winnie Heberling. Mr. and Mrs. Mont R. Winters were also included in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Muntz and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Muntz of Peoria, spent Saturday and Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Sarah Muntz, and their sister, Miss Lelah Muntz on East Bridgeport street. Miss Lela Muntz, who is an invalid, was not so well the past week.

Mrs. R. S. Worcester and daughter, Miss Helen, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hal Worcester, and Mr. and Mrs. William Worcester and son, Hal of Roodhouse at dinner Sunday at the Hotel White Hall and the afternoon was spent in the Worcester home on West Bridgeport street.

Club Holds Meeting

The Merry Mix Up club met Thursday in an all day meeting with Mrs. Carl Lorton on Jacksonville street. Seventeen of the twenty members were present. There were a number of guests including Mrs. Frank Lorton and daughter, Faye; Mrs. Lloyd Lorton, Mrs. Maxine Brannan Crocker, Mrs. Ward Lorton and daughter, Lur; Mrs. Dean Fitzjerald, Mrs. Russell Gilmore, Vincent and Ruth Shackelford. The date happened to be the thirty-first wedding anniversary of Mrs. Frank Lorton and a special request had been sent to the Quincy broadcasting station to have a song sung in her honor at the four o'clock program. The song requested was "Dear Old Pal O' Mine." Roll call was answered by reports on stunts that had previously been assinged to each member. The guests gave Irish jokes at the roll call. A pot luck dinner was served at noon.

Mrs. George Tunison and son, Ennis, and Miss Emma Thuett drove to Carlinville Sunday to attend a family dinner at the home of Mrs. Tunison's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitely. Others present were their sister, Mrs. J. E. McAliney and son, Emmett, of Greenville.

News Notes

Mrs. Pearl Moles entertained thirty little girls and boys at her home on Ayers street, Friday afternoon, complimenting her little daughter, Betty Neal Moles who was nine years old. Games and refreshments in keeping were enjoyed by the children, who presented Betty with many small gifts.

John Griffith has returned from a three weeks' visit with relatives in St. Louis, and he and his wife, who has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Norris, while Mr. Griffith was away, are now in their own home again on Porter avenue.

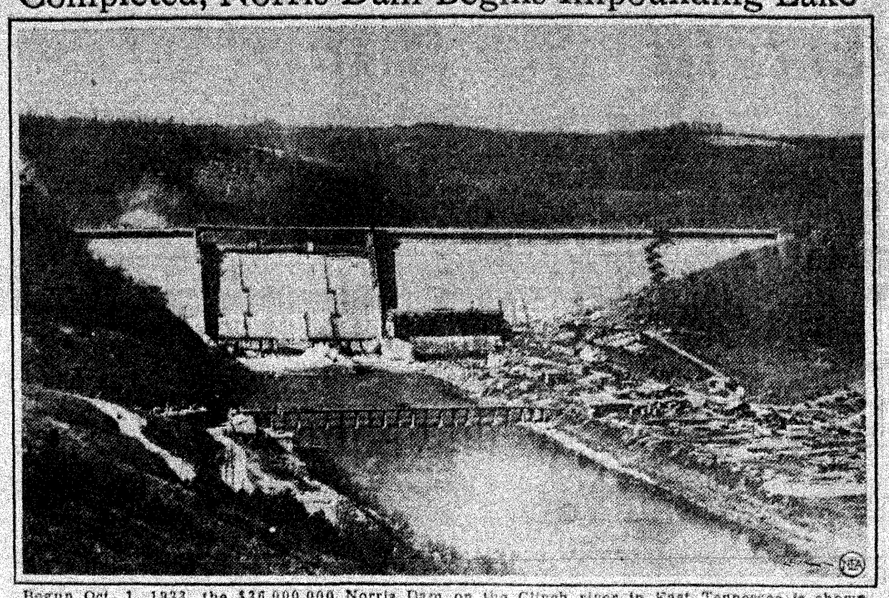

Harold Milnes has purchased the George Leisenfelt property on Porter avenue and Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart who are residing in Mrs. Etta Wigginston's house on Jacksonville street will occupy the Leisenfelt house. Mr. and Mrs. Leisenfelt have moved to Roodhouse and are located near the Hotel Roodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Silvernail and two daughters, Patsy and Sue Carroll of Mason City, and Kenneth Marmon of Peoria were week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Marmon on Bates avenue. Mr. Marmon has been bedfast for some time with heart trouble.

Charles and Mary Louise Stine of Bloomington visited with their grandmother, Mrs. Nora Mason, Saturday, and with their aunt, Mrs. Perry Campbell in Roodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and children of the Pearl Ferry drove to Alton Saturday evening and spent the night with her brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Blair, and Mrs. Fred Volkem. Mrs. Volkem is critically ill.

Completed, Norris Dam Begins Impounding Lake

Begun Oct. 1, 1933, the $36,000,000 Norris Dam on the Clinch river in East Tennessee is shown above, officially completed, just before President Roosevelt, in Washington, pressed a button, sounding off a siren signaling workers to close the eight sluice gates, shown near the foot of the spillway section, with water pouring from them. Immediately, the dam began impounding 3,600,000 acre feet of water, which eventually will provide a 795-mile shoreline reservoir, for flood and navigation control. Fourth largest dam in the world, 265 feet high, 1872 feet long, and 294 feet wide at the base, Norris Dam is complete except for powerhouse and 22-foot bridge roadway across the spillway section.

PARENT-TEACHERS LAUD SAFETY WORK

Hope Community Will Become Vitally Interested in Safety

The Parent-Teacher Council, which represents the entire parent-teacher movement in Jacksonville is eager to endorse the Journal and Courier campaign for safety on the streets and highways.

P.T.A.'s in all communities are expected to study safety needs and try to solve them, but here in Jacksonville there is such splendid work being done by so many organizations that our chief duty is to endorse the fine programs of all.

The first to attract our attention was "The Study of Home Hazards," including home survey, home safety lessons and first aid kits) conducted by the American Red Cross.

Second, "The School Boy Patrol," originated by the American Automobile Association directs traffic when children are crossing streets to and from school. Early in December the council had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Earl Bice, secretary of the Springfield A.A.A. tell of the complete functioning of the system.

It was put into force in this city thru the cooperation of Mr. T. M. Tomlinson, president of the Jacksonville branch and Miss Hester Burbridge, principal of David Prince The boys composing the patrol receive complete instruction and continued supervision.

Third, "The Safe Drivers' Club," inaugurated by the Farm Bureau, is also a very commendable step toward safety. Boys and girls of teen age are taught that driving a car is indeed a serious business instead of merely a lark.

Fourth, the swimming and life-saving lessons taught each summer at Nichols park thru the cooperation of the Park Board and the Red Cross should be taken advantage of by all children for their own safety and that of others.

And now this fifth movement for safety, on the part of the Journal and Courier to make the streets and highways safe for everybody, should make the community vitally interested in safety measures and willing to cooperate at all times.

Mrs. E. W. MILBURN,
Pres., P.-T. Council.

Modern Life is a strain on DIGESTION

Smoking Camels
Helps to Ward Off Indigestion
Caused by the Breathless
Pace of Modern Living

Faster—faster—faster goes the modern rush. People are "always on the go." No wonder indigestion visits so many from time to time. People can't seem to pause for proper eating. But here's one simple step every one can take! Smoke Camels for the sake of the positive beneficial effect Camels have upon digestion. Camels stimulate and promote natural processes of digestion. They restore a feeling of well-being. And above all, with their matchless blend of costlier tobaccos, Camels bring a supreme enjoyment of mildness and flavor that you can know in no other way!

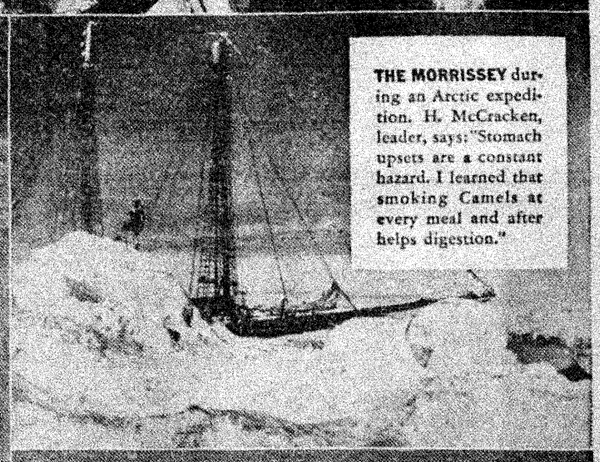

THERE'S NOTHING MORE TIRING than the shove and tussle of shopping. Remember that Camels during and after meals help digestion. They set you right.

Modern life in one of its most attractive phases—the beautiful Trianon Room (above) at the Ambassador in New York, as seen during the dinner hour. Louis, maitre d'hôtel at this celebrated dining place, says: "Our guests come to the Trianon Room from New York and from all over the country. It is interesting to see how they agree in preferring Camels. Those who enjoy dining here also appreciate the delicate flavor of the finer tobaccos in Camels. Camels are an overwhelming favorite at our tables."

BETTY CHASE, star figure skater: "Camels make food taste better and help digestion along. And certainly smoking a Camel is one of life's most agreeable experiences."

THE MORRISSEY during an Arctic expedition. H. McCracken, leader, says: "Stomach upsets are a constant hazard. I learned that smoking Camels at every meal and after helps digestion."

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Muntz and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Muntz of Peoria, spent Saturday and Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Sarah Muntz, and their sister, Miss Lelah Muntz on East Bridgeport street. Miss Lela Muntz, who is an invalid, was not so well the past week.

Mrs. R. S. Worcester and daughter, Miss Helen, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hal Worcester, and Mr. and Mrs. William Worcester and son, Hal of Roodhouse at dinner Sunday at the Hotel White Hall, and the afternoon was spent in the Worcester home on West Bridgeport street.

Club Holds Meeting

The Merry Mix Up club met Thursday in an all day meeting with Mrs. Carl Lorton on Jacksonville street. Seventeen of the twenty members were present. There were a number of guests including Mrs. Frank Lorton and daughter, Faye; Mrs. Lloyd Lorton, Mrs. Maxine Brannan Crocker, Mrs. Ward Lorton and daughter, Lur; Mrs. Dean Fitzjerald, Mrs. Russell Gilmore, Vincent and Ruth Shackelford. The date happened to be the thirty-first wedding anniversary of Mrs. Frank Lorton and a special request had been sent to the Quincy broadcasting station to have a song sung in her honor at the four o'clock program. The song requested was "Dear Old Pal O' Mine." Roll call was answered by reports on stunts that had previously been assinged to each member. The guests gave Irish jokes at the roll call. A pot luck dinner was served at noon.

Mrs. George Tunison and son, Ennis, and Miss Emma Thuett drove to Carlinville Sunday to attend a family dinner at the home of Mrs. Tunison's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitely. Others present were their sister, Mrs. J. E. McAliney and son, Emmett, of Greenville.

News Notes

Mrs. Pearl Moles entertained thirty little girls and boys at her home on Ayers street, Friday afternoon, complimenting her little daughter, Betty Neal Moles who was nine years old. Games and refreshments in keeping were enjoyed by the children, who presented Betty with many small gifts.

John Griffith has returned from a three weeks' visit with relatives in St. Louis, and he and his wife, who has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Norris, while Mr. Griffith was away, are now in their own home again on Porter avenue.

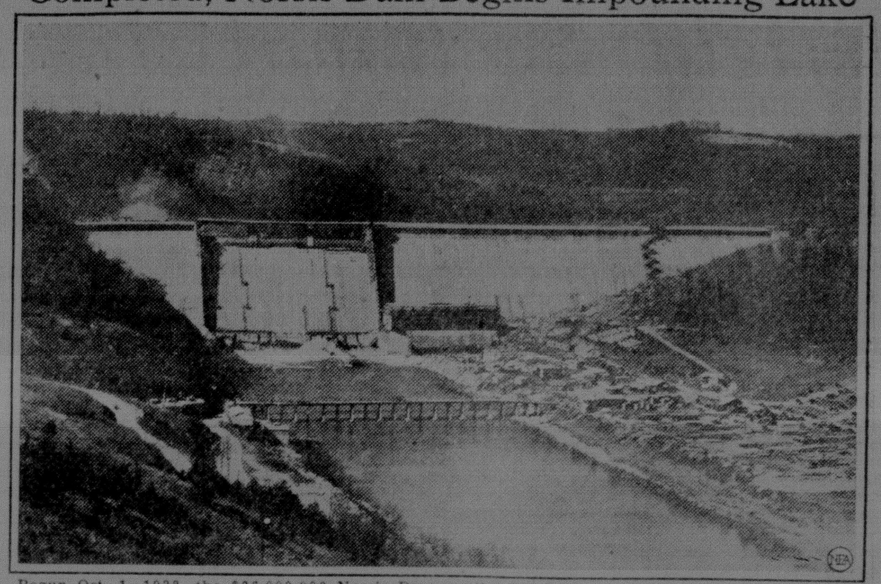

Harold Milnes has purchased the George Leisenfelt property on Porter avenue and Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart who are residing in Mrs. Etta Wigginston's house on Jacksonville street will occupy the Leisenfelt house. Mr. and Mrs. Leisenfelt have moved to Roodhouse and are located near the Hotel Roodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Silvernail and two daughters, Patsy and Sue Carroll of Mason City, and Kenneth Marmon of Peoria were week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Marmon on Bates avenue. Mr. Marmon has been bedfast for some time with heart trouble.

Charles and Mary Louise Stine of Bloomington visited with their grandmother, Mrs. Nora Mason, Saturday, and with their aunt, Mrs. Perry Campbell in Roodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and children of the Pearl Ferry drove to Alton Saturday evening and spent the night with her brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Blair, and Mrs. Fred Volkem. Mrs. Volkem is critically ill.

Completed, Norris Dam Begins Impounding Lake

Begun Oct. 1, 1933, the $36,000,000 Norris Dam on the Clinch river in East Tennessee is shown above, officially completed, just before President Roosevelt, in Washington, pressed a button, sounding off a siren signaling workers to close the eight sluice gates, shown near the foot of the spillway section, with water pouring from them. Immediately, the dam began impounding 3,600,000 acre feet of water, which eventually will provide a 705-mile shoreline reservoir, for flood and navigation control. Fourth largest dam in the world, 265 feet high, 1672 feet long, and 204 feet wide at the base, Norris Dam is complete except for powerhouse and 22-foot bridge roadway across the spillway section.

PARENT-TEACHERS LAUD SAFETY WORK

Hope Community Will Become Vitally Interested in Safety

The Parent-Teacher Council, which represents the entire parent-teacher movement in Jacksonville is eager to endorse the Journal and Courier campaign for safety on the streets and highways.

P.T.A.'s in all communities are expected to study safety needs and try to solve them, but here in Jacksonville there is such splendid work being done by so many organizations that our chief duty is to endorse the fine programs of all.

The first to attract our attention was "The Study of Home Hazards," including home survey, home safety lessons and first aid kits) conducted by the American Red Cross.

Second, "The School Boy Patrol," originated by the American Automobile Association directs traffic when children are crossing streets to and from school. Early in December the council had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Earl Bice, secretary of the Springfield A.A.A. tell of the complete functioning of the system.

It was put into force in this city thru the cooperation of Mr. T. M. Tomlinson, president of the Jacksonville branch and Miss Hester Burbridge, principal of David Prince. The boys composing the patrol receive complete instruction and continued supervision.

Third, "The Safe Drivers' Club," inaugurated by the Farm Bureau, is also a very commendable step toward safety. Boys and girls of teen age are taught that driving a car is indeed a serious business instead of merely a lark.

Fourth, the swimming and life-saving lessons taught each summer at Nichols park thru the cooperation of the Park Board and the Red Cross should be taken advantage of by all children for their own safety and that of others.

And now this fifth movement for safety, on the part of the Journal and Courier to make the streets and highways safe for everybody, should make the community vitally interested in safety measures and willing to cooperate at all times.

Mrs. E. W. MILBURN,
Pres., P.-T. Council.

Modern Life is a strain on DIGESTION

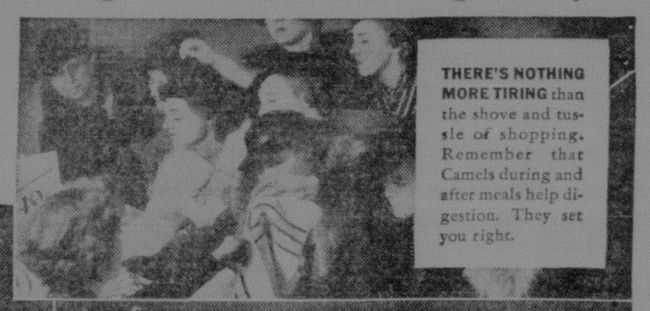

Smoking Camels Helps to Ward Off Indigestion Caused by the Breathless Pace of Modern Living

Faster—faster—faster goes the modern rush. People are "always on the go." No wonder indigestion visits so many from time to time. People can't seem to pause for proper eating. But here's one simple step every one can take! Smoke Camels for the sake of the positive beneficial effect Camels have upon digestion. Camels stimulate and promote natural processes of digestion. They restore a feeling of well-being. And above all, with their matchless blend of costlier tobaccos, Camels bring a supreme enjoyment of mildness and flavor that you can know in no other way!

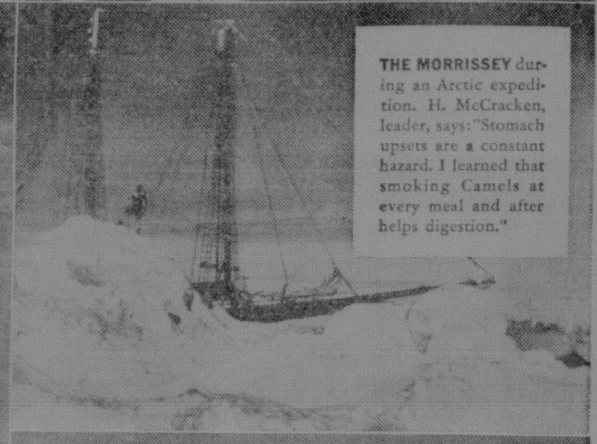

Modern life in one of its most attractive phases—the beautiful Trianon Room (above) at the Ambassador in New York, as seen during the dinner hour. Louis, maître d'hôtel at this celebrated dining place, says: "Our guests come to the Trianon Room from New York and from all over the country. It is interesting to see how they agree in preferring Camels. Those who enjoy dining here also appreciate the delicate flavor of the finer tobaccos in Camels. Camels are an overwhelming favorite at our tables."

THERE'S NOTHING MORE TIRING than the shove and tussle of shopping. Remember that Camels during and after meals help digestion. They set you right.

THE MORRISSEY during an Arctic expedition. H. McCracken, leader, says: "Stomach upsets are a constant hazard. I learned that smoking Camels at every meal and after helps digestion."

BETTY CHASE, star figure skater: "Camels make food taste better and help digestion along. And certainly smoking a Camel is one of life's most agreeable experiences."

Man Ends Life By Hanging at Pearl

Body of George Sutton is Discovered in Poultry House by Family

Pearl, Ill. — George Sutton, aged about 75 or 80 years, committed suicide Saturday afternoon by hanging himself with baling wire in the chicken house at the home of his son, James Sutton, with whom he made his home, near Pearl. The body was found when members of the family went to the chicken house to gather eggs in the evening. Mr. Sutton had gone to Pittsfield Saturday morning to make application for an old age pension.

He is survived by two sons, James and Elmer Sutton of Pearl, and a daughter Ada, who has been married and resided in Jacksonville for a time.

Honor 'Cradle of Texas Liberty'

In this picturesque old church, 100 years ago March 6, 1835, heroic defenders were massacred by Santa Anna's army. In the same year, Sam Houston routed the Mexican troops and became first president of the Republic of Texas. That's why "The Cradle of Texas Liberty," the historic Alamo at San Antonio, shown above in a beautiful natural setting with Lone Star flag waving aloft, will play an important role during celebration of the Texas centennial this summer.

Many Endorse Adult Education Project Under Way in City

Classes Begin Work Last Night; Favorable Letters Published

Adult education classes began last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Morton school. Two organization meetings have been held and more than fifty have already enrolled for the various courses. Twenty came from the CCC camp. Plans are now under way to organize a class in public speaking, as it is believed a competent teacher in this subject can be secured.

The adult education movement in this city is receiving considerable attention, and has been heartily endorsed. Statements of endorsement have been received from County Superintendent of Schools Victor Sheppard; President H. C. Jaquith of Illinois College, and Mrs. A. L. Davis, president of P.T.A. District 13.

The statements follow:

"There is no question in my mind but what education of adults is the next big step in education. The federal government is making it possible for people whose education has been interrupted to attend adult classes in our city. There is absolutely no cost attached, and all that a person expends is a small amount of time each week. It is my firm conviction that much good can be obtained from enrolling in these classes. Because of the fact that there is a wide range of instruction offered, nearly everyone can greatly profit from attending the adult education classes. I would like to give this project my wholehearted endorsement."

VICTOR H. SHEPPARD,
Co. Supt. of Schools

"One of the great problems facing the American people is the proper use of leisure time. Under our present economic system, workers are going to spend less time in their respective occupations. Every adult should face seriously the problem of the proper use of his leisure time. For this reason I can heartily recommend to the people of this community enrollment in the adult education class. I understand that there is a wide range of subjects offered in the adult education classes, and I wish publicly to add my endorsement to this worthy enterprise."

Signed, H. C. JAQUITH,
President of Illinois College

Mrs. A. L. Davis writes:

"As a director of P.T.A. and one vitally interested in all phases of the Parent-Teacher movement, I am delighted to know that all the courses being offered by the adult education project are either directly or indirectly related to the study groups sponsored by P.T.A. As an official of the organization I heartily endorse all of them.

"It is impossible to establish groups in every community under the twenty-one different headings suggested by the state chairman of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. However, participation in any of them should promote child welfare in the home, school and community and should raise the standards of home life.

"In the past it has been extremely difficult to secure leaders who were not only qualified to direct such groups, but who could give their time and energy to do so. That barrier is completely broken down now that the government is placing at the disposal of everyone a corps of trained leaders. The following courses will be offered: Music, home-making features (sewing, knitting, crocheting, rug-hooking, etc.) commercial law, business arithmetic and special classes for colored people (the type of course to be decided upon after enrollment). If there is sufficient demand for a course in home hygiene and nursing it, too, will be offered.

"To take advantage of these courses is an unusual opportunity for parents and home-makers of this community. They are designed neither for the privileged nor the underprivileged, but are open to all persons who want to learn something worth-while with practically no cost to the individual.

"Begin at once to arrange to take one or more and contact Mrs. O. F. Coultas, 1051 Grove street (phone 1037X) for time and place of meeting or any additional information."

Mrs. John Lonergan Passes Away Here; Had Many Friends

Long and Useful Life Comes to Close Sunday Night; Funeral Wednesday

Mrs. John Lonergan passed away at her home at 804 North Main street, at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, March 8, 1936, after an illness of ten days. With her passing Jacksonville has lost one of its oldest citizens and a beautiful character who will be missed by a very large circle of friends and relatives.

Kindly and gracious to everyone, Mrs. Lonergan saw the best in all her friends and acquaintances and loved to welcome them to her home and company. She was a woman of unusual intelligence whose keen interest in political and social affairs did not lessen in her advanced years. Her generous, noble spirit sought the welfare of all and even in her last illness she was solicitous for those about her. A personality of rare charm, she was beloved by people in all walks of life, and her passing will bring sorrow to all who knew her.

Margaret T. Cain was born in Morgan county Nov. 2, 1853, the daughter of John and Bridget Cain, widely respected pioneer settlers in this community. The large family of children of that cultured home received their education in the county schools and the schools of this city. The high ideals and sturdy worth of the parents are reflected in the lives of the children. The family was prominently identified with the early social and religious life of the county. They were among those who did much to aid in establishing the Church of Our Saviour in this city, of which Mrs. Lonergan was a lifelong member.

On April 22, 1877, she married John Lonergan, and for twenty-five years they lived on a farm in the Arnold neighborhood, later moving to a farm in the Pisgah neighborhood. The family moved to Jacksonville in 1901 where they have since resided.

Her husband and three children preceded her in death, and the following children survive their mother: Mrs. Jesse L. Henry, Walter O. Lonergan, Miss Rose Lonergan of this city, Mrs. Frank Flynn of Murrayville, Miss Florence Lonergan of Green Bay, Wis. There are eleven grandchildren: Charles, Edwin, Robert, and William Henry, Margaret Ann, Sarah Elizabeth, Mary Jane, Walter D. Jr., and Harriet Lonergan, of Jacksonville; Margaret Frances Flynn of Murrayville, and Margaret Henry Vickery of Minneapolis, Minn. There are two great-grandchildren, David Ellert and Mary Susan Henry.

The following sisters and brothers also survive: John H. Cain, Mrs. Rose E. Kingsley, Misses Winifred and Elizabeth Cain, of this city; Thomas R. Cain, Arnold, and Mrs. James Corrigan, Omaha, Nebr. One sister, Mrs. Mary Joyce, and two brothers, James and Austin Cain, preceded her in death.

The remains are at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jesse L. Henry, 215 Webster avenue. Funeral services will be held at the Church of Our Saviour Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Friends of the family will please omit flowers.

Regular Democratic Organization meeting of workers tonight. Court House 7:15. Election of officers. All Bundesen backers welcome.

(short, short story)

John: "How's the new home, Tom?"

Tom: "Fine, why don't you buy a home instead of paying rent?"

John: "I can't afford to buy a home."

Tom: "How much money have you paid out in rent the past ten years?"

John: "Why lets see! $30 a month."

Tom: "Well, that's $3600. It would have paid for a home if it were financed the Savings and Loan way. The payments are like rent. You pay principal and interest monthly."

John: "That sounds easy enough. I'm going to investigate the Savings and Loan plan today. You say the Savings and Loan Association is in the Applebee Building on West State Street? I'll go right down and talk to the secretary."

Body of George Sutton is Discovered in Poultry House by Family

Pearl, Ill. — George Sutton, aged about 75 or 80 years, committed suicide Saturday afternoon by hanging himself with baling wire in the chicken house at the home of his son, James Sutton, with whom he made his home, near Pearl. The body was found when members of the family went to the chicken house to gather eggs in the evening. Mr. Sutton had gone to Pittsfield Saturday morning to make application for an old age pension.

He is survived by two sons, James and Elmer Sutton of Pearl, and a daughter Ada, who has been married and resided in Jacksonville for a time.

Honor 'Cradle of Texas Liberty'

In this picturesque old church, 100 years ago March 6, 1835, heroic defenders were massacred by Santa Anna's army. In the same year, Sam Houston routed the Mexican troops and became first president of the Republic of Texas. That's why "The Cradle of Texas Liberty," the historic Alamo at San Antonio, shown above in a beautiful natural setting with Lone Star flag waving aloft, will play an important role during celebration of the Texas centennial this summer.

Many Endorse Adult Education Project Under Way in City

Classes Begin Work Last Night; Favorable Letters Published

Adult education classes began last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Morton school. Two organization meetings have been held and more than fifty have already enrolled for the various courses. Twenty came from the CCC camp. Plans are now under way to organize a class in public speaking, as it is believed a competent teacher in this subject can be secured.

The adult education movement in this city is receiving considerable attention, and has been heartily endorsed. Statements of endorsement have been received from County Superintendent of Schools Victor Sheppard; President H. C. Jaquith of Illinois College, and Mrs. A. L. Davis, president of P.T.A. District 13.

The statements follow:

"There is no question in my mind but what education of adults is the next big step in education. The federal government is making it possible for people whose education has been interrupted to attend adult classes in our city. There is absolutely no cost attached, and all that a person expends is a small amount of time each week. It is my firm conviction that much good can be obtained from enrolling in these classes. Because of the fact that there is a wide range of instruction offered, nearly everyone can greatly profit from attending the adult education classes. I would like to give this project my wholehearted endorsement."

VICTOR H. SHEPPARD,
Co. Supt. of Schools

"One of the great problems facing the American people is the proper use of leisure time. Under our present economic system, workers are going to spend less time in their respective occupations. Every adult should face seriously the problem of the proper use of his leisure time. For this reason I can heartily recommend to the people of this community enrollment in the adult education class. I understand that there is a wide range of subjects offered in the adult education classes, and I wish publicly to add my endorsement to this worthy enterprise."

Signed, H. C. JAQUITH,
President of Illinois College

Mrs. A. L. Davis writes:

"As a director of P.T.A. and one vitally interested in all phases of the Parent-Teacher movement, I am delighted to know that all the courses being offered by the adult education project are either directly or indirectly related to the study groups sponsored by P.T.A. As an official of the organization I heartily endorse all of them.

"It is impossible to establish groups in every community under the twenty-one different headings suggested by the state chairman of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. However, participation in any of them should promote child welfare in the home, school and community and should raise the standards of home life.

"In the past it has been extremely difficult to secure leaders who were not only qualified to direct such groups, but who could give their time and energy to do so. That barrier is completely broken down now that the government is placing at the disposal of everyone a corps of trained leaders. The following courses will be offered: Music, home-making features (sewing, knitting, crocheting, rug-hooking, etc.) commercial law, business arithmetic and special classes for colored people (the type of course to be decided upon after enrollment). If there is sufficient demand for a course in home hygiene and nursing it, too, will be offered.

"To take advantage of these courses is an unusual opportunity for parents and home-makers of this community. They are designed neither for the privileged nor the underprivileged, but are open to all persons who want to learn something worth-while with practically no cost to the individual.

"Begin at once to arrange to take one or more and contact Mrs. O. P. Coultas, 1051 Grove street (phone 1037X) for time and place of meeting or any additional information."

Director of P.T.A. Dist. No. 13

Mrs. John Lonergan Passes Away Here; Had Many Friends

Long and Useful Life Comes to Close Sunday Night; Funeral Wednesday

Mrs. John Lonergan passed away at her home at 804 North Main street at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, March 8, 1936, after an illness of ten days. With her passing Jacksonville has lost one of its oldest citizens and a beautiful character who will be missed by a very large circle of friends and relatives.

Kindly and gracious to everyone, Mrs. Lonergan saw the best in all her friends and acquaintances and loved to welcome them to her home and company. She was a woman of unusual intelligence whose keen interest in political and social affairs did not lessen in her advanced years. Her generous, noble spirit sought the welfare of all and even in her last illness she was solicitous for those about her. A personality of rare charm, she was beloved by people in all walks of life, and her passing will bring sorrow to all who knew her.

Margaret T. Cain was born in Morgan county Nov. 2, 1853, the daughter of John and Bridget Cain, widely respected pioneer settlers in this community. The large family of children of that cultured home received their education in the county schools and the schools of this city. The high ideals and sturdy worth of the parents are reflected in the lives of the children. The family was prominently identified with the early social and religious life of the county. They were among those who did much to aid in establishing the Church of Our Saviour in this city, of which Mrs. Lonergan was a lifelong member.

On April 22, 1877, she married John Lonergan, and for twenty-five years they lived on a farm in the Arnold neighborhood, later moving to a farm in the Pisgah neighborhood. The family moved to Jacksonville in 1901 where they have since resided.

Her husband and three children preceded her in death, and the following children survive their mother: Mrs. Jesse L. Henry, Walter O. Lonergan, Miss Rose Lonergan of this city, Mrs. Frank Flynn of Murrayville, Miss Florence Lonergan of Green Bay, Wis. There are eleven grandchildren, Charles, Edwin, Robert, and William Henry, Margaret Ann, Sarah Elizabeth, Mary Jane, Walter D. Jr., and Harriet Lonergan, of Jacksonville; Margaret Frances Flynn of Murrayville, and Margaret Henry Vickery of Minneapolis, Minn. There are two great-grandchildren, David Ellert and Mary Susan Henry.

The following sisters and brothers also survive: John H. Cain, Mrs. Rose E. Kingsley, Misses Winifred and Elizabeth Cain, of this city; Thomas R. Cain, Arnold, and Mrs. James Corrigan, Omaha, Nebr. One sister, Mrs. Mary Joyce, and two brothers, James and Austin Cain, preceded her in death.

The remains are at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jesse L. Henry, 215 Webster avenue. Funeral services will be held at the Church of Our Saviour Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Friends of the family will please omit flowers.

Are You a John or a Tom?

(short, short story)

John: "How's the new home, Tom?"

Tom: "Fine, why don't you buy a home instead of paying rent?"

John: "I can't afford to buy a home."

Tom: "How much money have you paid out in rent the past ten years?"

John: "Why lets see! $30 a month."

Tom: "Well, that's $3600. It would have paid for a home if it were financed the Savings and Loan way. The payments are like rent. You pay principal and interest monthly."

John: "That sounds easy enough. I'm going to investigate the Savings and Loan plan today. You say the Savings and Loan Association is in the Applebee Building on West State Street? I'll go right down and talk to the secretary."

Germany and France Fearing Possible Flare-up as Soldiers Now Face Each Other Along the Rhine.

TROOP MOVEMENTS

Metz, France—(AP)—Fear of frontier incidents swept along the border today as French and German troops faced one another on the Rhineland frontier for the first time since the World War.

The Metz, Strasbourg and Ancy headquarters of the tricolor frontier regiments were cleared of troops in a quick movement to fill the subterranean fortresses along that line of the Rhine border.

Officers said the French fortifications in some places were "within machine gun distance" of the newly-arrived Nazi forces on the left bank of the Rhine.

At least 100,000 French troops were in the underground forts of France's famous steel and concrete line of defense and in advance patrol posts, all awaiting orders from Paris.

Army officers, who said the German troops across the frontier numbered about 50,000, expressed "grave fears" of frontier incidents. Some said incidents were "almost certain."

Determined to end any flights of German "observation" planes over French forts, swift pursuit planes remained in the air with orders to force down or to identify all aircraft aloft in the frontier region.

Cologne, Germany—(AP)—The watch on the Rhine, hailed by Adolf Hitler as symbolical of an equal Germany, worked today to consolidate its position in the remilitarized Rhineland.

While military airplanes soared overhead, staffs settled down to the routine duties after a week-end of frenzied celebration.

Rhinelanders waited in happy anticipation a visit from General Werner Von Blomberg, minister of war, and his staff to inspect the new garrisons.

Party leaders even hoped that Hitler himself might come to receive personally the Rhineland's gratitude for "the freedom he has given it."

Between 15,000 and 20,000 German troops moved into the frontier land. Eleven garrisons, according to an official announcement, were established in Duesseldorf, Cologne, Aachen, Bonn, Coblenz, Mannheim, Frankfurt, Karlsruhe, Trier, Saarbrucken and Mainz.

Harrisburg, Ill.—(AP)—All Progressive miners were expected to return to work today after the calling off of a county-wide labor holiday by officials of the Progressive Miners Union.

The holiday was called in protest against employment at Peabody Mine 43 of United Mine Workers allegedly from outside Saline county. The mine reopened under contract with the United Miners, rivals of the Progressives, early last week after having been shut down since riots in 1933.

Joe McIntosh, a local Progressive official, said in a signed statement: "We think we have obtained all that could be obtained at this time by the holiday."

35 Bills Awaiting Horner's Signature

Outline Scope of Measures and Probable Fate

By CURTIS R. HAY

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Thirty-five bills, covering a dozen subjects, today awaited disposal by Governor Horner before the records of the first and third special sessions of the legislature could be closed.

Most of them probably will be signed as soon as Mr. Horner is able to take time from his downstate stumping tour to consider them.

At least two measures, however, may not receive such speedy action. They were a bill to permit construction of street car tracks through Humboldt Park in Chicago and an appropriation of $100,000 to the mines and minerals department for pumps to save flooded mines which are the principal industry of Johnston City.

Two bills by Senators William E. King, Chicago, and Earl B. Searcy, Springfield, providing a Republican primary next month in Cook county. The precaution was taken because of a bi-partisan judicial election last year in which there was no Republican votes cast.

Amendments to the health, safety and comfort labor laws, making them conform with the finding a year ago of the state supreme court which outlawed part of the statutes because it said there were no safety standards set up. They were a specific point of the third session call.

Two other bills dealing with particular paragraphs of the third session call, one eliminating the gold payment clause from the blue sky laws and the other expanding the grain warehouse act.

Other measures were bills for bond validations; insurance law amendments; pension law changes; motor vehicle law alterations, and welfare and university of Illinois projects.

Miss Amelia Hopkins of Springfield was a Monday afternoon caller in the city.

Believe British to Make Best Possible Out of New Shakeup

Will Try to Get Consideration of Hitler's Proposed New Pacts

By G. H. ANDERSON

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

London—Intense British diplomatic activity in the crisis precipitated by Germany's occupation of the Rhineland aroused a belief today that Britain intended to make the best of a bad situation by attempting to obtain some consideration of Adolf Hitler's proposals for new pacts.

To the youthful Anthony Eden, Britain's new foreign secretary, fell the task of disclosing to the house of commons his government's reply to Germany's latest blow against the much-scarred treaty of Versailles and the Pact of Locarno.

The foreign secretary's statement, which was drafted last night after Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin returned suddenly from his country home at Chequers, was considered by the full cabinet in a meeting at No. 10 Downing Street, historic government headquarters, before being announced to the anxious parliament.

Eden's address preceded a two-day debate in Britain's rearmament, with the government gravely concerned over Germany's unilateral denunciation of the Locarno Pact, but at the same time noting the pacific offers Hitler made Saturday in his Reichstag address and his memorandum to foreign powers.

A general belief prevailed that Eden would go to Paris for a meeting there of other signatories of the Locarno Pact tomorrow, prepared to use his influence so that Hitler's offers for non-aggression and air pacts should not be entirely ignored.

The British government already had informed the Reich that it took a grave attitude toward Hitler's abrogation of the Locarno Pact and the military clauses of the Versailles Treaty by sending his troops to the left bank of the Rhine.

Eden expressed this view personally to Leopold Von Hoesch, German ambassador in London, while Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador in Berlin, conveyed the same information to the German foreign office.

With Britain bending its every effort to peace rather than war, however, military experts said the British fighting services were unworried over the fresh crisis.

Wayland Brooks will speak at J. H. S. auditorium, Wed. March 11, 8 p. m. Public invited. (Pol. Adv.)

Believe British to Make Best Possible Out of New Shakeup

Will Try to Get Consideration of Hitler's Proposed New Pacts

By G. H. ANDERSON

Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

London—Intense British diplomatic activity in the crisis precipitated by Germany's occupation of the Rhineland aroused a belief today that Britain intended to make the best of a bad situation by attempting to obtain some consideration of Adolf Hitler's proposals for new pacts.

To the youthful Anthony Eden, Britain's new foreign secretary, fell the task of disclosing to the house of commons his government's reply to Germany's latest blow against the much-scarred treaty of Versailles and the Pact of Locarno.

The foreign secretary's statement, which was drafted last night after Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin returned suddenly from his country home at Chequers, was considered by the full cabinet in a meeting at No. 10 Downing Street, historic government headquarters, before being announced to the anxious parliament.

Eden's address preceded a two-day debate in Britain's rearmament, with the government gravely concerned over Germany's unilateral denunciation of the Locarno Pact, but at the same time noting the pacific offers Hitler made Saturday in his Reichstag address and his memorandum to foreign powers.

A general belief prevailed that Eden would go to Paris for a meeting there of other signatories of the Locarno Pact tomorrow, prepared to use his influence so that Hitler's offers for non-aggression and air pacts should not be entirely ignored.

The British government already had informed the Reich that it took a grave attitude toward Hitler's abrogation of the Locarno Pact and the military clauses of the Versailles Treaty by sending his troops to the left bank of the Rhine.

Eden expressed this view personally to Leopold Von Hoesch, German ambassador in London, while Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador in Berlin, conveyed the same information to the German foreign office.

With Britain bending its every effort to peace rather than war, however, military experts said the British fighting services were unworried over the fresh crisis.

Wayland Brooks will speak at J. H. S. auditorium, Wed. March 11, 8 p. m. Public invited. (Pol. Adv.)

Jacksonville High School Parades to Celebrate Victory

More Than a Thousand Boys and Girls March in Honor of Team

"Nine rahs for J.H.S." propelled on the crisp morning air by more than one thousand throats rang through the Jacksonville business district Monday morning as high school students celebrated the Red and White victory in the finals of the regional basketball tournament. With visions of the team's victory Saturday night still fresh in their minds, the entire student body marched to the business district for a celebration.

The parade was led by Coach Frank Walker and his team, which will enter the sectional tournament at Pittsfield this week with their eyes on a trip to the state tourney in Champaign.

The boys and girls gave a series of high school cheers, accompanied by school songs and individual shouts of joy at the team's accomplishment.

Through the public square where they stopped for a short time, the line of march led east to MacMurray College and Routt High school. The celebrators stopped there and gave cheers for both schools.

All of the second period Monday morning was devoted to celebrating the results of the regional tourney. At an assembly in the auditorium Captain George Hamilton presented the tournament trophy to the school, and its was accepted by Principal J. C. Muzzy.

Coach Frank Walker and his team took the stage amid much cheering. There were several short speeches of congratulation by officials of the school. Captain "Big George" Hamilton told the students and faculty the team is going to Pittsfield for the avowed purpose of winning the sectional.

During the assembly Coach Harold Gibson of the debate team announced the fine victory of the girls' team in the tournament Saturday at MacMurray College. This victory, also, was greeted with cheering.

John Bloomer Will Supervise Jersey Old Age Payments

Justice of Peace Named by County Board; K. Neely Will Be Clerk

Jerseyville—John Bloomer Jr., justice of the peace from Jersey Township, was appointed county supervisor of the old age pension program in Jersey county by member of the Old Age Pension committee for the county at a meeting which was held at the courthouse. Kenneth Neely was appointed clerk, and these appointments must be confirmed by the State Department of Public Welfare.

The members of the committee are Ray Morgan of Grafton, chairman; Miss Jean Bethel and Dr. W. L. Mottaz. The board will meet from time to time to approve the work done by the county supervisor.

Bloomer and Neely have headquarters in the office of County Judge Fred W. Howell at the courthouse. They will receive all old age applications, and after checking the data contained in them will pass as to their eligibility. Four hundred and seventy-six applications have been filed and the supervisor and clerk started work on those Saturday morning.

Killed by Automobile

The body of Miss Mary Herth will be brought to Jerseyville on Tuesday, March 10th and interment will be in Oak Grove cemetery at 2:30 o'clock that afternoon. No service will be held in this city.

Miss Herth was instantly killed when run over by an automobile in St. Louis last Saturday night. She was formerly a resident of Jerseyville but for the past few years has resided in St. Louis with her sister, Miss Mena Herth.

Baptist Convention

The mid-year meeting of the congregations of the Baptist churches of Morgan, Scott, Greene and Jersey counties will be held at the First Baptist church in White Hall on Tuesday, March 17th.

Among the prominent speakers who will appear on the morning and afternoon programs will be Dr. Edwin R. Brown of Los Angeles, California, who is the director of Mexican works of the American Baptist Home Life Mission Society; Miss Elsie Root, a teacher in the Kemmendine Girls school in Rangoon, Burma; and Dr. D. O. Hopkins, superintendent of the Northern Baptist Association.

JOHNSONS RETURN FROM VACATION TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Johnson, 360 W. College, returned last week-end from a vacation trip to Florida and Cuba. The itinerary took them down the west coast of Florida through the Everglades to Miami.

After an interesting visit to Havana, Cuba, the home journey was resumed along the east coast of Florida as far as Williamsburg, Virginia.

Williamsburg is a unique colonial village which has been restored by John D. Rockefeller at a cost of over fourteen million dollars.

Other points of interest visited included Silver Springs, Ocala; Bok's Singing Tower, Lakeland; Pageant Sara de Sota and Ringing Museum of Art, Sarasota, Florida.

FALL FASHIONS GREET COMING SPRING

Don't fall for that propaganda that spring is just around the corner. More than likely it's autumn in disguise, for football players are donning their fall duds and going into training for the coming gridiron season. Here's proof—part of the University of Southern California squad that recently reported for practice. The man on the driver's seat of the power mower is Coach Howard Jones.

John W. Bryson Dies Here Sunday Night

Longtime Resident of City Passes Away; Funeral to Be Held Wednesday

John William Bryson, for 31 years an employe of Brady Brothers hardware store in this city, died at his home, 545 North Pine street, at 8:20 o'clock Sunday night. He was born in Shelbyville, Ill., July 2, 1852, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston R. Bryson.

He came to this city in 1892. On Jan. 18, 1882, he was united in marriage with Mary E. Eddy in Shelbyville. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. C. H. Swaby of this city; Mrs. H. R. Graves of Chicago; John A. Bryson of this city, and four grandchildren. One son and two daughters preceded him in death.

He is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Robert Bryson, Huffer Bryson, Riley Bryson, Mrs. Alice Allen, all of Shelbyville, Mrs. Minerva Cox.

Decedent was a member of Central Christian church.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, with Dr. M. L. Pontius officiating. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

The remains were taken to the Gillham Funeral Home, and were returned to the residence last evening.

Athletic Uniforms Of Illinois College Stolen Sunday

Outfits Valued at $150 are Taken from Coach's Car Near His Residence

Illinois College basketball uniforms valued at $150 were stolen Sunday night from Coach Larue VanMeter's automobile while it was parked in front of his residence, 1025 Grove street. Eight complete outfits in a large traveling case were stolen sometime between 8 and 9:30 o'clock.

The sweaters all have "Illinois College" across the front, and the pants and coats are marked with the familiar blue and white colors of the college.

Upon discovering the loss, Coach VanMeter reported to police and a strong search is in progress for the outfits.

Coach VanMeter accompanied the freshman team to Springfield Saturday evening, and as one of the managers remained in Springfield during the week end, the coach brought the uniforms home. He had expected to take them to the gymnasium this morning.

The stolen uniforms are distinctive and would be easily identified.

Centenary Church Notes

Centenary's services were well attended in all departments Sunday. While weather was somewhat threatening the Sunday school and leagues registered fine groups present.

The morning worship was inspiring. Holy Communion being observed with an appealing message from Rev. Blair appropriate to the Easter season. 'The Living God" by O'Hara was the solo, and it was given a beautiful rendition by Erland Ericson. The choir sang "Getting Ready For Easter" as an effective part of the worship.

Sunday was the close of the first half of the conference year. The general interest of the church is better than last year but as usual there is a small deficit in finances. While this is somewhat better than last year it was hoped all bills could be paid for the half year. Appeal is made to all friends and members to get under our finances and close as successfully as last year.

Last Wednesday evening at 6:30 the first church night service was conducted with a good attendance. These are well planned and most helpful hours of study and worship. It will be well worth your time to be present Wednesday evening at the same hour. Bring sandwiches or food that can be served in a pot luck supper.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. Doris Floreth, 1019 West Lafayette avenue. Miss Bourne will give a paper on Jane Addams and her successor at Hull House.

The King's Heralds will meet Saturday at 2:00 p. m., at the church. Mrs. Blair hostess.

LITERBERRY CLUB HOLDS PARTY

Literberry, Mar. 9.—The Woman's Club St. Patrick's party which was held on Friday evening at the school house was well attended, about sixty persons being present. Ten tables of cards were in play during the evening, and prizes were awarded to Charles Gilmore Ilias for high score in rook, to Earl Myers in pitch and Charles Davis in bridge.

Several musical numbers were given by Miss Wilma Crum and following this the ladies served a lovely luncheon course.

The decorations used were in keeping with St. Patrick's day.

News Notes

James McDonald, Mrs. Ruth Renroat and son Carroll Dean of Jacksonville were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Crum on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beavers, daughter Shirley Ann and Miss Louise Simmons spent Sunday with Walter Scott and family of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dunlap were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dunlap of Jacksonville.

W. S. Spradlin of Murrayville was in the city yesterday.

Three Injured When Two Cars Collide Northwest of City

Bluffs Girl Seriously Hurt; Members of Chapin Family in Hospital Here

Three persons were more or less seriously injured and several others slightly hurt about 6:45 o'clock Sunday night when two cars came into head-on collision on Route 104 near the James corner, about two miles west of this city. Arthur Medlock of the Chapin community was traveling west with his family. David A. Ludlow of Champaign, accompanied by Miss Eleanor Gaither of Bluffs, was driving toward Jacksonville in a Ford coupe.

Medlock saw the two cars were going to hit and swerved farther onto the slab. Ludlow turned in the same direction and the machines crashed.

Those injured were:

Miss Eleanor Gaither, lower jaw fractured in three places.

Mrs. Medlock, scalp wound, cut on forehead and on lower limbs.

George Arthur Medlock, 5 years old, many minor cuts on face.

Both Medlock and Ludlow were cut and bruised about the arms and legs. Mrs. Medlock and George Arthur were able to leave the hospital yesterday, but Miss Gaither will remain for some time.

State Patrolmen Dowling, Doolin, Valentine and Woods responded to the call when they learned an accident had occurred. The injured persons were brought to Our Saviour's hospital here, where they were attended by Dr. F. A. Norris.

Both cars sustained considerable damage in the collision.

SPONSOR OPEN HOUSE FOR H. S. STUDENTS

A municipal open house for all students of the junior and senior high schools interested in civics is being sponsored for Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock by the Business and Professional Woman's club and the League of Women Voters. All others interested are invited to attend.

City officials will be in their respective offices at the city hall to explain the workings of city government. It is hoped also to provide transportation for a visit to the city water plant.

The committees who have charge of the affair include:

League of Women Voters—Mrs. H. J. Stratton, acting as chairman in the absence of Mrs. Orville Foreman, Mrs. E. C. Savage, Mrs. P. R. Enghberg, Miss Charlotte Ryan, Miss Elizabeth Capps and Miss Janet McClelland.

Business and Professional Women—Mrs. Della Lockwood, Miss Barbara Hart, Mrs. E. P. Brockhouse and Mrs. A. B. Applebee.

Mrs. Lee Edlin of Meredosia was shopping in the city yesterday.

By Boat and Auto Family Escapes From Flood Zone

Rescue from their flood-besieged home here came to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kornieck and their four small children after they had been trapped for two days by the waters of the Portage river, inundating thousands of acres of farm land south of Bowling Green, O. State highway employes made a dangerous boat trip against wind and current to bring the family to the auto which they are shown entering, after it had been driven to the flood edge.

Roodhouse

Roodhouse—Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Spencer and family moved from their farm west of Roodhouse Saturday to Jacksonville where they will conduct a grocery store on South Diamond street.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barber will move soon to the Spencer farm.

The Roodhouse Unit of the Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. William Vigus Friday afternoon. Mrs. I. E. Rawlins gave a demonstration on how to make floor wax and a talk on "House cleaning." Mrs. E. W. Thomas continued her demonstration of "Textiles" and how to distinguish cotton from linen.

Mrs. Harry Hutton was hostess to the Friday afternoon Bridge club, at which time the following ladies served as substitute guests: Mesdames L. A. Crause, Walter Shuman and H. A. Ruyle. Mrs. H. E. Hunt won the prize at bridge.

Mrs. Floyd Martin was hostess Friday evening to the U & I club. There were four tables of bridge at play. Substitute guests were: Misses Elizabeth Clark and Mabel Hopkins; Mesdames Percy Funk of White Hall, William Riley and Sidney Drake of Alton, Lloyd Hunt, Donald Barnett and J. R. Roberts. Prize winners were Mesdames J. E. Murphy, Percy Funk and Lloyd Hunt.

Jerseyville—John Bloomer Jr., justice of the peace from Jersey Township, was appointed county supervisor of the old age pension program in Jersey county by member of the Old Age Pension committee for the county at a meeting which was held at the courthouse. Kenneth Neely was appointed clerk, and these appointments must be confirmed by the State Department of Public Welfare.

The members of the committee are Ray Morgan of Grafton, chairman; Miss Jean Bethel and Dr. W. L. Mottaz. The board will meet from time to time to approve the work done by the county supervisor.

Bloomer and Neely have headquarters in the office of County Judge Fred W. Howell at the courthouse. They will receive all old age applications, and after checking the data contained in them will pass as to their eligibility. Four hundred and seventy-six applications have been filed and the supervisor and clerk started work on those Saturday morning.

Killed by Automobile

The body of Miss Mary Herth will be brought to Jerseyville on Tuesday, March 10th and interment will be in Oak Grove cemetery at 2:30 o'clock that afternoon. No service will be held in this city.

Miss Herth was instantly killed when run over by an automobile in St. Louis last Saturday night. She was formerly a resident of Jerseyville but for the past few years has resided in St. Louis with her sister, Miss Mena Herth.

FALL FASHIONS GREET COMING SPRING

Don't fall for that propaganda that spring is just around the corner. More than likely it's autumn in disguise, for football players are donning their fall duds and going into training for the coming gridiron season. Here's proof—part of the University of Southern California squad that recently reported for practice. The man on the driver's seat of the power mower is Coach Howard Jones.

John W. Bryson Dies Here Sunday Night

Longtime Resident of City Passes Away; Funeral to Be Held Wednesday

John William Bryson, for 31 years an employe of Brady Brothers hardware store in this city, died at his home, 545 North Pine street, at 8:20 o'clock Sunday night. He was born in Shelbyville, Ill., July 2, 1852, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston R. Bryson.

He came to this city in 1892. On Jan. 18, 1882, he was united in marriage with Mary E. Eddy in Shelbyville. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. C. H. Swaby of this city; Mrs. H. R. Graves of Chicago; John A. Bryson of this city, and four grandchildren. One son and two daughters preceded him in death.

He is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Robert Bryson, Huffer Bryson, Riley Bryson, Mrs. Alice Allen, all of Shelbyville, Mrs. Minerva Cox.

Decedent was a member of Central Christian church.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, with Dr. M. L. Pontius officiating. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

The remains were taken to the Gilliham Funeral Home, and were returned to the residence last evening.

Athletic Uniforms Of Illinois College Stolen Sunday

Outfits Valued at $150 are Taken from Coach's Car Near His Residence

Illinois College basketball uniforms valued at $150 were stolen Sunday night from Coach Larue VanMeter's automobile while it was parked in front of his residence, 1025 Grove street. Eight complete outfits in a large traveling case were stolen sometime between 8 and 9:30 o'clock.

The sweaters all have "Illinois College" across the front, and the pants and coats are marked with the familiar blue and white colors of the college.

Upon discovering the loss, Coach VanMeter reported to police and a strong search is in progress for the outfits.

Coach VanMeter accompanied the freshman team to Springfield Saturday evening, and as one of the managers remained in Springfield during the week end, the coach brought the uniforms home. He had expected to take them to the gymnasium this morning.

The stolen uniforms are distinctive and would be easily identified.

Centenary Church Notes

Centenary's services were well attended in all departments Sunday. While weather was somewhat threatening the Sunday school and leagues registered fine groups present.

The morning worship was inspiring. Holy Communion being observed with an appealing message from Rev. Blair appropriate to the Easter season. "The Living God" by O'Hara was the solo, and it was given a beautiful rendition by Erland Ericson. The choir sang "Getting Ready For Easter" as an effective part of the worship.

Sunday was the close of the first half of the conference year. The general interest of the church is better than last year but as usual there is a small deficit in finances. While this is somewhat better than last year it was hoped all bills could be paid for the half year. Appeal is made to all friends and members to get under our finances and close as successfully as last year.

Last Wednesday evening at 6:30 the first church night service was conducted with a good attendance. These are well planned and most helpful hours of study and worship. It will be well worth your time to be present Wednesday evening at the same hour. Bring sandwiches or food that can be served in a pot luck supper.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. Doris Floreth, 1019 West Lafayette avenue. Miss Bourne will give a paper on Jane Addams and her successor at Hull House.

The King's Heralds will meet Saturday at 2:00 p. m., at the church. Mrs. Blair hostess.

LITERBERRY CLUB HOLDS PARTY

Literberry, Mar. 9.—The Woman's Club St. Patrick's party which was held on Friday evening at the school house was well attended, about sixty persons being present. Ten tables of cards were in play during the evening, and prizes were awarded to Charles Gilmore Ilias for high score in rook, to Earl Myers in pitch and Charles Davis in bridge.

Several musical numbers were given by Miss Wilma Crum and following this the ladies served a lovely luncheon course.

Bluffs Girl Seriously Hurt; Members of Chapin Family in Hospital Here

Three persons were more or less seriously injured and several others slightly hurt about 6:45 o'clock Sunday night when two cars came into head-on collision on Route 104 near the James corner, about two miles west of this city. Arthur Medlock of the Chapin community was traveling west with his family. David A. Ludlow of Champaign, accompanied by Miss Eleanor Gaither of Bluffs, was driving toward Jacksonville in a Ford coupe.

Medlock saw the two cars were going to hit and swerved farther onto the slab. Ludlow turned in the same direction and the machines crashed.

Those injured were:

Miss Eleanor Gaither, lower jaw fractured in three places.

Mrs. Medlock, scalp wound, cut on forehead and on lower limbs.

George Arthur Medlock, 5 years old, many minor cuts on face.

Both Medlock and Ludlow were cut and bruised about the arms and legs. Mrs. Medlock and George Arthur were able to leave the hospital yesterday, but Miss Gaither will remain for some time.

State Patrolmen Dowling, Doolin, Valentine and Woods responded to the call when they learned an accident had occurred. The injured persons were brought to Our Saviour's hospital here, where they were attended by Dr. F. A. Norris.

Both cars sustained considerable damage in the collision.

SPONSOR OPEN HOUSE FOR H. S. STUDENTS

A municipal open house for all students of the junior and senior high schools interested in civics is being sponsored for Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock by the Business and Professional Woman's club and the League of Women Voters. All others interested are invited to attend.

City officials will be in their respective offices at the city hall to explain the workings of city government. It is hoped also to provide transportation for a visit to the city water plant.

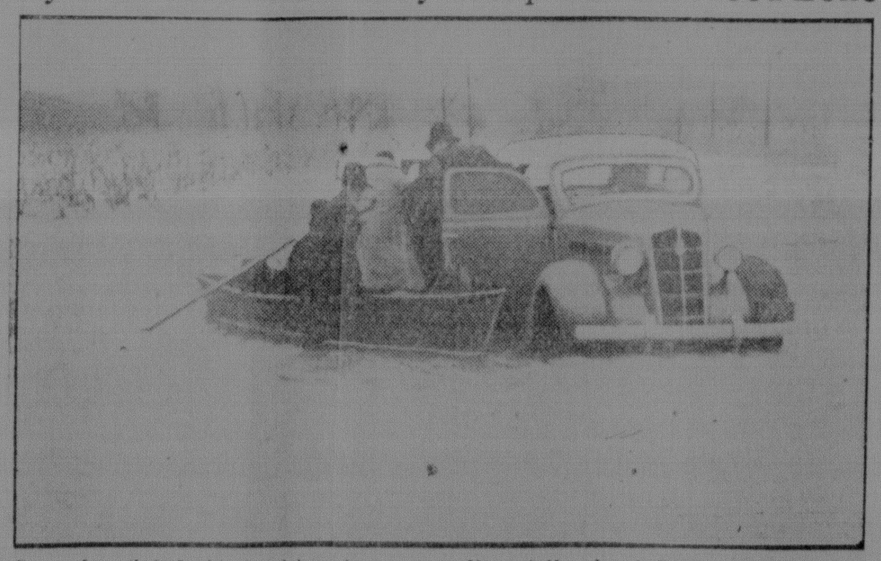

The committees who have charge of the affair include:

League of Women Voters—Mrs. H. J. Stratton, acting as chairman in the absence of Mrs. Orville Foreman, Mrs. E. C. Savage, Mrs. P. R. Enghberg, Miss Charlotte Ryan, Miss Elizabeth Capps and Miss Janet McClelland.

Business and Professional Women—Mrs. Della Lockwood, Miss Barbara Hart, Mrs. E. P. Brockhouse and Mrs. A. B. Applebee.

Stock Prices Are 1 To 3 Points Off

By Frank MacMillen
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, March 9.—(AP)—A late burst of selling knocked the majority of stocks down for losses of fractions to around 3 points today with a few struck even harder.

Analysts explained the market's abrupt and swift reverse in the final few minutes in terms of its action earlier in the day.

Somewhat repressed by the clouds of military and diplomatic distress abroad, shares, with the exception of the so-called "war" issues, got away to a heavy start.

As trading progressed, selling dried up and brisk buying was turned into the Aviation, Oil, Sugar, Mining and Farm Shares.

The failure of these risers to hail the best forward was interpreted by many as a bearish signal and the last-minute selling which resulted brought the largest number of declines since mid-summer, 1933.

The impact of offerings was heavier in some sections than in others and such recent speculation favorites as Allied Chemical and Chrysler pitched down 5 and 4¼ points, respectively.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks the market was down 1.5 to 61.4. The drop was the sharpest since Oct. 2, 1935 when the market broke under liquidation induced by Mussolini's speech on Italy's Ethopian venture.

Transactions totaled 2,776,280 shares compared with 2,895,140 on Friday.

They Really Heard Chaplin Talk!

Oriental, novelist, satirist—all were listening with equal interest to the comedian whose pantomime speaks plainer than words, when the cameraman snapped this luncheon group in a Chinese restaurant in Honolulu. Maybe Charlie Chaplin, vacationing in Hawaii, was only explaining the half-hour tardiness which had kept the waiting George Bernard Shaw, right, fuming and sputtering. But all seems to have been forgiven by Shaw and Mrs. d'Arcy Northwood (the novelist, Shirland Quinn), while the grinning Chinese seems to be expecting Chaplin's familiar mustache to appear at any moment.

Lamb And Cattle Prices Are Lower

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Enlarged supplies of livestock sent lamb and cattle prices lower today but the hog market was bolstered by reports of improved demand for pork in retail channels.

An over supply of fat lambs forced prices for these 35 to 50 cents lower, top dropping below $10 once more. The bulk sold at $9.50 to $9.75, the latter price being paid frequently. Sheep receipts totaled 21,000, which was 6,000 above advance estimates, 12,000 above a week ago but 7,000 below a year ago.

The hog run was the best in weeks, totaling 19,000. 15 cents higher, with weights below 250 pounds showing the advance. Top was $10.70. Hogs have been running heavier and traders said this indicated animals were being fattened because of the very satisfactory corn-hog price ratio.

Cattle receipts, while larger than a week ago, were not considered excessive for this time of year but dull outside inquiry enabled buyers to force the $8.50 to $10.50 kinds lower. Upper crust offerings, including heavies at $11.65, yearlings at $10.75 and light steers at $11.35 were in good demand at steady figures. The general market was steady to 25 cents lower.

Wheat And Other Grains Are Lower

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Cold water thrown on European war prospects today by British Foreign Secretary Eden resulted in lower prices for wheat and other grains as well.

Eden's announcement in the House of Commons that Germany's military occupation of the Rhineland implied no "threat of hostilities" was followed by price reactions of 11 cents a bushel in wheat. Earlier upturns of wheat market was much more than wiped out, and the day's lowest quotations were current at the last.

Wheat closed nervous, ¾-1¼ down, May 60¼-½, oats ¼ to 1 cent off, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to 7 cents advance.

Conducting to weakness that developed in wheat were setbacks of British exchange rates. Another bearish influence was a report from London that England would bring strong pressure on France to refrain from a radical course, and would favor negotiating a new peace pact with Germany. Acting further as a handicap to higher prices was the circumstance that although dry weather reports continued to come from domestic wheat territory southwest the outlook for the winter crop as a whole appeared to be regarded by many traders as the most promising in years.

PIANO PUPILS WIN AT WOODSON SCHOOL

In the preliminary contest in piano held Friday evening at the Woodson High school, Virginia Oxley won first place and Gladys Leeper second place. These students will represent the school in piano in final contests for the various meets to be held during the coming weeks.

Both young ladies are music pupils of Miss Jessie M. Whorton of Jacksonville.

Guy Seymour of near Franklin was a business visitor in Jacksonville yesterday afternoon.

ChapinGradeSchool Will Give Operetta

Miss Esther Dumas Directs Fairy Operetta to Be Presented Friday

Chapin.—"The Land of Dreams Come True," an operetta by Alan Gray M. Campbell, will be given by the Chapin Grade school Friday, March 13 at eight o'clock.

In this three act production a group of children are off for a holiday. Some of them eat magic berries and go into Mother Goose Lane to see the people they've always wanted to see. In this land even the flowers, roses, bluebells, and daisies dance in colorful array. It is only through the pixies that this visit is made possible.

The characters are as follows:

Betty—Barbara Jean Woodward.
Bob—Bernard Uhnken.
Peggy—Ruth Vortman.
Paul—George Perbix.
First Girl—Thelma Brewer.
Second Girl—Coralee Cooper.
First Boy—Wendell McNeil.

Playmate Chorus—Warren Goffinett, William Onken, Gordon Johnson, Kenneth Mattes, Earl Thompson, Ruba Bruening, Anna Thompson, Alma Vaniter, Margaret Gimbel.

Mother Goose—Barbara Taylor.
Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe—Mardell Brockhouse.
Bo Peep—Betty Vaniter.
Jack Horner—Urban McDaniel.
Queen of Hearts—Alma Williams.
Boy Blue—Verne Nergenah.
Miss Muffett—Jean Wohlers.
Son John—Harry Lee Waters.
Jill—Donneda Obert.
Jack—Donald Obert.
Contrary Mary—Loraine Brockhouse.
Nimble Jack—Howard McDaniel.
Giant—John Onken.
Pixies Four—Junior Holland, Virgil Woods, Fletcher Vaniter, Bobby Alderson.
Rose chorus—Jane Dehart, Jean Myers, Catherine Woods.
Bluebell chorus—Joyce Perbix, Jean Mattes, Bessie Gimbel.
Daisy chorus — Frances Mattes, Catherine J. Medlock, Joan Hogan.
Stage managers—George Bobbitt, John Onken.
Accompanist—Velma Duvendack.

The operetta is under the direction of Miss Esther Dumas.

Stock Prices Are 1 To 3 Points Off

By Frank MacMillen
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, March 9.—(AP)—A late burst of selling knocked the majority of stocks down for losses of fractions to around 3 points today with a few struck even harder.

Analysts explained the market's abrupt and swift reverse in the final few minutes in terms of its action earlier in the day.

Somewhat repressed by the clouds of military and diplomatic distress abroad, shares, with the exception of the so-called "war" issues, got away to a heavy start.

As trading progressed, selling dried up and brisk buying was turned into the Aviation, Oil, Sugar, Mining and Farm Shares.

The failure of these risers to haul the best forward was interpreted by many as a bearish signal and the last-minute selling which resulted brought the largest number of declines since mid-summer, 1933.

The impact of offerings was heavier in some sections than in others and such recent speculation favorites as Allied Chemical and Chrysler pitched down 5 and 4¾ points, respectively.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks the market was down 1.5 to 61.4. The drop was the sharpest since Oct. 2, 1935 when the market broke under liquidation induced by Mussolini's speech on Italy's Ethopian venture.

Transactions totaled 2,776,280 shares compared with 2,895,140 on Friday.

Wheat closed nervous, ¾-1¼ down, May 60¼-¾, oats ½ to 1 cent off, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to 7 cents advance.

Conducting to weakness that developed in wheat were setbacks of British exchange rates. Another bearish influence was a report from London that England would bring strong pressure on France to refrain from a radical course, and would favor negotiating a new peace pact with Germany. Acting further as a handicap to higher prices was the circumstance that although dry weather reports continued to come from domestic wheat territory southwest the outlook for the winter crop as a whole appeared to be regarded by many traders as the most promising in years.

PIANO PUPILS WIN AT WOODSON SCHOOL

In the preliminary contest in piano held Friday evening at the Woodson High school, Virginia Oxley won first place and Gladys Leeper second place. These students will represent the school in piano in final contests for the various meets to be held during the coming weeks.

Both young ladies are music pupils of Miss Jessie M. Whorton of Jacksonville.

William Campbell of Virginia was among those transacting business in the city yesterday.

Guy Seymour of near Franklin was a business visitor in Jacksonville yesterday afternoon.

Election checks ready at City Clerk's office, City Hall.

KELLY'S SEEDS GROW
Few farmers realize the seriousness of the seed corn situation. If you do not have your supply of tested corn wire or write for catalogue and prices. We believe this to be the worst situation in thirty-five years, not only in Illinois but in many other states. We still have some of our early, sack picked, fire dried corn, from disease free seed, which shows a germination of 96 to 100%. Stocks now limited. ALSO HAVE A GOOD SUPPLY OF HEAVY SEED OATS.

Here Is the Famous FARMALL Family

Qualified to Provide Any Farm with Economical Power
Many good things come in threes and among the very best from the farm point of view is FARMALL power—in THREE sizes. Here they all are—F-30, F-20, and F-12—each of them ready not only to plow but to plant, cultivate, run belt machines, and handle all row-crop and general purpose needs.
All of them have these exclusive patented Farmall features — quick-dodging ability, forward location gangs, and breaking either rear wheel through the steering gear for square turns.
Call us and we will come out and demonstrate any or all of the Farmalls.

"MAN" IS SUBJECT IN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday March 8.

The Golden Text was "Thou hast dealt with thy servant, O Lord, according unto thy word. Thy hands have made me and fashioned me" (Psalms 119:65, 73).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands" (Psalms 138:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God, the divine Principle of man, and man in God's likeness are inseparable, harmonious and eternal. The Science of being furnishes the rule of perfection and brings immortality to light. God and man are not the same, but in the order of divine Science, God and man coexist and are eternal" (p. 336).

Chicago Attorney To Head GOP Body

Dahlberg Apparently Assured League Presidency

Galesburg, Ill. —(AP)— Gotthard A. Dahlberg, Chicago lawyer, apparently was assured of election as president of the John Ericsson Republican league which gathered here today in annual meeting. County delegations caucused during the morning, and appeared to favor his candidacy.

The first formal session was devoted to an address of welcome, by Joe E. Anderson, mayor of Galesburg and retiring president. Martin R. Carlson, Moline, was named chairman of the resolutions committee, which some leaders said they expected would report out a number of resolutions attacking the Democratic "New Deal."

Many Republican candidates for state offices were present and will be introduced at the annual banquet tonight, though none will speak. The banquet, to be addressed by Congressman Theodore Christianson of Minnesota, will commemorate the 74th anniversary of the victory of John Ericsson's "Monitor" over the confederate ironclad "Merrimac" at Hampton Roads, Va., March 9, 1862.

Part of Unit Bombed by Italians

Grave complications loomed following bombing by Italian planes of a British Red Cross ambulance unit at Quoram in which Maj. Gerald Burgoyne, British head of the Ethiopian Red Cross, and 18 others were killed. Above is shown a station of the unit, with British physicians and native aides treating the wounded, the Red Cross plainly noticeable.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

by Dick Morgan © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANE WESTON feels her dreams have come true when she sets out on a three weeks' ocean cruise, accepted in payment for the salary she lost when the magazine for which she worked as typist suspended publication.

On board the ship she meets handsome DIRK STROM, expert ski jumper, as penniless as herself. The two are much attracted to each other. Then a misunderstanding comes between them. Jane is flattered by the attentions of TINO ROSSI, opera singer, and Dirk becomes the frequent escort of NORA LANE, famous actress and owner of the Kokinor diamond.

Others among the passengers are SNOWSHOES, a detective; MADAME DOREMUS, wealthy and eccentric; DUTCH LENZ and MANNIE JACKSON, blackmailers; KEN MARTIN and LINDA BAYES, floor show entertainers.

Snowshoes persuades Nora Lane to turn the Kokinor diamond over to the purser. They go to her stateroom to get it and find Mannie Jackson, dead from a bullet wound. The diamond is missing.

Snowshoes takes charge of the investigation. Most of the passengers are not aware of the murder, though they know of the theft.

Leaving Nassau behind, a storm comes up that threatens to become a hurricane. Stewards notify passengers to get their life belts. Madame Doremus reports that Millie, her companion, is missing.

Linda and Jane, in Linda's stateroom, see a masked man enter, then disappear. Jane is telling Snowshoes about this when a shot is heard outside. Passengers rush to the doors and see Dutch Lenz swept overboard.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

THE shooting of Dutch Lenz brought about panic among the passengers. Their murmurs rose crescendo, but the fresh onslaught of the storm battering another life boat from its davits and hurling it out to sea, brought about a more active sense of their danger. They began to mill about aimlessly.

They had been calm, but now they moved about, chattering like shrill monkeys. Rumors flew. Why had there been no reports from the bridge? Had the ship been driven off the course—inside the reefs? Were they all doomed?

It was suddenly every man for himself. It was a mad scene of fear, stark and in some cases, abject. For some reason the men crowded out of the bar. The alcoholic spirits inside them no longer compensated for the lack of life preservers about their waists.

Instinctively the family groups drew closer together, clutching their life belts as if they were afraid of having them torn away. But no such move came from the men. In the moment of greatest danger they merely sought the companionship of human beings in the lounge.

Two of the ship's officers, their oil-skins dripping water, circulated about and tried to calm the people. There was no relaxation in the stern discipline the crew maintained, but the passengers misinterpreted these gestures.

But the orchestra played on. Ken Martin, recovered from his blow and sensing renewed panic in the crowd, began to sing, and Linda Bayes watched him. She joined him, and hand in hand they sang high above the huddled groups of people. Some of their courage went out to the audience. Two lovers in the storm, they had come together. Linda had proved her love for him at last! Ken was content.

• • •

THE detective wanted to ask Linda if she knew anything about the person who had started to strangle her in her stateroom, but he questioned Jane instead.

"You didn't recognize the man?" he said. "Are you sure it was a man?"

"Of course it was a man!" Jane said, "but he was masked, and had a cap pulled down. I couldn't tell whether I had ever seen him before. It all happened so quickly, and the lights were dim. He had on a heavy coat, and he looked rather large, bulged out. I don't think he knew I was in the stateroom with Linda. The roll of the ship flung him against the wall, and saved her from—"

"I believe there's only one man in this," Snowshoes said. "The man who killed Mannie Jackson, stole the Kokinor diamond, and then to cover up his crime made attempts on the lives—successful in one instance—of Dutch Lenz and Linda Bayes, is that man. He's abroad on the ship."

"Dutch Lenz may have committed the first crime," Dirk said obstinately. "Now he's dead. The Kokinor may have changed hands."

But then Snowshoes looked more puzzled than ever. Jane watched him, for her own mind was racing along impossible channels. The detective said suddenly, "If Dutch Lenz didn't send that note to Linda Bayes, who did? Who else could it have been? Somebody ashore in Nassau," he added quickly. Then his eyes had a sudden light in them, and he said, low: "There is a passenger on board this ship who is not a passenger. He is the corpse! And he's walking around on two legs like any of the rest of us."

Jane was aghast. "You mean, a man came on board in that long black box? Somebody ashore—"

"That's just it!" Snowshoes said. "It could have been arranged. We'll have to question the ship's officers who had the body in charge, but they're on heavy duty now, trying to maneuver this ship through the storm—"

"But if there is another man in the crime, who stole the Kokinor diamond from Nora Lane's suite?" Jane said. "Where is Millie?"

• • •

SNOWSHOES was rubbing his bald spot again, and he had to grin with discouragement. "I think I'll just go round up the corpse, and let the rest go hang until the storm is over. I don't like the idea of a corpse running around below."

With Dirk at his side the detective went down to Deck B, and cautiously approached the stateroom where Linda had been attacked by the masked man. The ship took a bad roll once, and they were thrown into a heap on the floor, while the lights dimmed completely and then glowed feebly again.

They were lying there, breathlessly still, when they heard a sound of tapping in the passage-way. They lay still, and listened. There it was again, and it sounded more than a tap. Something was beating against the door of a steward's linen closet.

They approached the closet with due caution. There was a simple lock on it that might have slammed shut. The key was in it. But there was undoubtedly some person behind that door, trying desperately to get out.

Dirk propped himself in the aisle, and Snowshoes unlocked the door, flinging it open. Something tumbled out headlong and lay on the floor, uttering one shrill cry which was lost in the noise of the hurricane.

"Why, it's Millie!" the detective said, but before they could touch her she ran away from them, up the stairs and into the lounge.

They ran after her and caught up with her just as she flung herself, sobbing bitterly, at Madame's feet. She clung to the old dowager and handed the jewel-box to her.

"Millie, what have you done?" Madame was saying.

• • •

THE companion was almost hysterical. "I've been locked up in that closet for hours," she sobbed. "I thought I was going to die. I screamed, and screamed, and nobody could hear me. I was running from him, and climbed in the closet to hide. When I closed the door I was locked in—"

"Running from whom?" the detective said.

"That man! They woke me up, the stewards running up and down when the storm started. I wasn't quite sure what it was, but I heard a noise in the suite next door. They were dragging something heavy over the floor. It was in the room where they put that corpse! I was shaking all over, and hid my head under the covers for a long time. But then I heard something in Madame's bedroom, and I got really scared. I thought it might be the thing—come to life again. I put on my dressing gown and went in. When I saw the thing—it wore a mask and was poking around in the dark—I ran to Madame's pillow, and snatched up the jewels. She can't hear well, and didn't wake up. I got by the thing to the outside door and ran down the deck and got away from him. There were so many people running up and down. I saw that closet open, and climbed in. I don't know whether he followed me or not. I was so scared.

Madame was murmuring, "You poor child, you risked your life to save my jewels!", when Millie broke down. "I don't want to drown," she sobbed, brokenly. "I haven't got a life preserver. Everybody else has one but me. The ship's sinking, I know. And I was locked up in that black hole, going to drown, drown—"

The detective said, sighing, "Well, at least we don't have to find your jewels, Madame? They're safe."

They paused while the ship went through one of those herculean shudders again.

But suddenly the detective knit his brows closely together. "We haven't a single clue," he said. "This man is interested in diamonds and won't stop at murder to get them. But we're stumped. It may be any one of these suspicious-looking touts on board. We can't keep track of them in this storm. And it may be the corpse that walks like a man, and throws his coffin overboard in the storm," he ended unhappily.

The old dowager scoffed. "There have been queer doings on this ship since I came on aboard. I wouldn't be surprised at anything. Let it walk! Nothing bothers me any more. If I've stood this much excitement my heart is good for a few years more—"

"We won't find the murderer until we find the Kokinor diamond," Snowshoes insisted stubbornly. "And it may have changed hands on shipboard. And it'll probably show up in a diamond cutter's shop in Amsterdam, in a dozen pieces."

Regular Army Back Of Hitler in New Sovereignty Move

Germans Hold Two-day Celebration Over Reoccupied Rhineland Territory

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Berlin—(AP)—A nation-wide celebration, with a pledge of loyalty from the regular army, bolstered Adolf Hitler today against the agitation arising all around Germany from his restoration of full sovereignty to the Rhineland.

Two days of delirious jubilation over the occupation of the left bank of the Rhine Saturday, in defiance of the Versailles Treaty and the Locarno Pact, ended at midnight, and the Third Reich returned today to normal business.

These two days, however, saw manifestations of patriotic ardor and personal demonstrations for Hitler such as had been wanting for more than a year. Wherever Der Fuehrer showed himself, he was hailed and acclaimed ecstatically.

The presidential flag over the Reich chancellery was taken down early this morning, and the Reichswehr (regular army) guards were withdrawn, indicating the chief of state had left the capital.

Now that the celebration was ended officially, Germany settled down to her internal problems, to let the others do the shouting.

As far as could be ascertained from Wilhelmstrasse spokesman and unofficial informants, no further fireworks were to be expected from the German side at this time.

The Hitler technique, so often repeated as to have become a formula is this:

Prepare action in every detail behind a thick veil of concealment. Pledge all parties involved by special oaths to absolute secrecy, on pain of facing a treason charge in the event of a leakage.

Then create the Fait Accompli. At the moment of enactment, explain the situation to the German nation and the world.

End this new decisive episode of Third Reich history with a general burst of jubilation.

After that, return to work and do not be alarmed or provoked by the smoke and thunder rising about Germany.

It would be safe to say that Germany would follow this formula during the coming weeks informed sources asserted.

Every effort to avoid border incidents or to creat international alarm by unusual massing of troops was foreseen.

KELLY PREPARES REPLY TO HORNER

Chicago —(AP)— Mayor Edward J. Kelly squared off today for his reply to accusations of bossism leveled at him by Gov. Henry Horner in downstate campaign addresses.

Announcing yesterday that he planned a series of radio and other speeches in which to make answer, Mayor Kelly said: "When I do, I shall bring out some important facts about Henry Horner, the individual, and the Horner administration."

He declared that the impetus for the Cook County Democratic organization action in throwing its support to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen for the party's gubernatorial nomination insteady of to Gov. Horner came from downstate party leaders.

Teddy Coumbes of Murrayville was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Voters Can Switch Parties This Year

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Voters at the April 14 primary can switch parties if they don't want to call for the ballot they marked in 1934.

This situation was pointed out today by Oscar E. Carlstrom, a Republican candidate for governor, who suggested that former Democrats might support the GOP this year. He said:

"Conditions since 1934 have occurred which have and will change the political beliefs and party allegiance of many citizens.

"It is important for all to know that every voter can call for either party ballot they wish in the primary election to be held next April 14 in Illinois."

The law provides that voters can change parties at a primary only if it has been two years since they last voted at a primary election.

The 1934 primary was on April 12, two years and two days before the nominations this year.

In 1934 it was technically impossible for voters to switch parties because the primary was two days less than two years after the 1932 nominations. But since enforcement of that section of the law was left to precinct officials, it was generally ignored.

Carlstrom said the only exception this year is for Chicagoans who voted Feb. 26, 1935, in the mayoralty primary. Mayor Edward J. Kelly got more than 95 per cent of the total vote then. Because two years won't elapse before April 14, the Chicagoans are supposed to be bound by their 1936 choice of parties.

Miss Lillian Flynn of Jacksonville R. R. 2 was shopping in the city yesterday.

Chicago Attorney To Head GOP Body

Dahlberg Apparently Assured League Presidency

Galesburg, Ill. —(AP)— Gotthard A. Dahlberg, Chicago lawyer, apparently was assured of election as president of the John Ericsson Republican league which gathered here today in annual meeting. County delegations caucused during the morning, and appeared to favor his candidacy.

The first formal session was devoted to an address of welcome, by Joe E. Anderson, mayor of Galesburg and retiring president. Martin R. Carlson, Moline, was named chairman of the resolutions committee, which some leaders said they expected would report out a number of resolutions attacking the Democratic "New Deal."

Many Republican candidates for state offices were present and will be introduced at the annual banquet tonight, though none will speak. The banquet, to be addressed by Congressman Theodore Christianson of Minnesota, will commemorate the 74th anniversary of the victory of John Ericsson's "Monitor" over the confederate ironclad "Merrimac" at Hampton Roads, Va., March 9, 1862.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

by Deck Morgan © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANE WESTON feels her dreams have come true when she sets out on a three weeks' ocean cruise, accepted in payment for the salary due her when the magazine for which she worked as typist suspended publication.

On board the ship she meets handsome DIRK STROM, expert ski jumper, as penniless as herself. The two are much attracted to each other. Then a misunderstanding comes between them. Jane is flattered by the attentions of TINO ROSSI, opera singer, and Dirk becomes the frequent escort of NORA LANE, famous actress and owner of the Kokinor diamond.

Others among the passengers are SNOWSHOES, a detective; MADAME DOREMUS, wealthy and eccentric; DUTCH LENZ and MANNIE JACKSON, blackmailers; KEN MARTIN and LINDA BAYES, floor show entertainers.

Snowshoes persuades Nora Lane to turn the Kokinor diamond over to the purser. They go to her stateroom to get it and find Mannie Jackson, dead from a bullet wound. The diamond is missing.

Snowshoes takes charge of the investigation. Most of the passengers are not aware of the murder, though they know of the theft.

Leaving Nassau behind, a storm comes up that threatens to become a hurricane. Stewards notify passengers to get their life belts. Madame Doremus reports that Millie, her companion, is missing.

Linda and Jane, in Linda's stateroom, see a masked man enter, then disappear. Jane is telling Snowshoes about this when a shot is heard outside. Passengers rush to the doors and see Dutch Lenz swept overboard.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

THE shooting of Dutch Lenz brought about panic among the passengers. Their murmurs rose crescendo, but the fresh onslaught of the storm battering another life boat from its davits and hurling it out to sea, brought about a more active sense of their danger. They began to mill about aimlessly.

They had been calm, but now they moved about, chattering like shrill monkeys. Rumors flew. Why had there been no reports from the bridge? Had the ship been driven off the course—inside the reefs? Were they all doomed?

It was suddenly every man for himself. It was a mad scene of fear, stark and in some cases, abject. For some reason the men crowded out of the bar. The alcoholic spirits inside them no longer compensated for the lack of life preservers about their waists.

Instinctively the family groups drew closer together, clutching their life belts as if they were afraid of having them torn away. But no such move came from the men. In the moment of greatest danger they merely sought the companionship of human beings in the lounge.

Two of the ship's officers, their oil-skins dripping water, circulated about and tried to calm the people. There was no relaxation in the stern discipline the crew maintained, but the passengers misinterpreted these gestures.

But the orchestra played on. Ken Martin, recovered from his blow and sensing renewed panic in the crowd, began to sing, and Linda Bayes watched him. She joined him, and hand in hand they sang, high above the huddled groups of people. Some of their courage went out to the audience. Two lovers in the storm, they had come together. Linda had proved her love for him at last. Ken was content.

• • •

THE detective wanted to ask Linda if she knew anything about the person who had started to strangle her in her stateroom, but he questioned Jane instead.

"You didn't recognize the man?" he said. "Are you sure it was a man?"

"Of course it was a man!" Jane said, "but he was masked, and had a cap pulled down. I couldn't tell whether I had ever seen him before. It all happened so quickly, and the lights were dim. He had on a heavy coat, and he looked rather large, bulged out. I don't think he knew I was in the stateroom with Linda. The roll of the ship flung him against the wall, and saved her from—"

"I believe there's only one man in this," Snowshoes said. "The man who killed Mannie Jackson, stole the Kokinor diamond, and then to cover up his crime made attempts on the lives—successful in one instance—of Dutch Lenz and Linda Bayes, is that man. He's abroad on the ship."

"Dutch Lenz may have committed the first crime," Dirk said obstinately. "Now he's dead. The Kokinor may have changed hands."

But then Snowshoes looked more puzzled than ever. Jane watched him, for her own mind was racing along impossible channels. The detective said suddenly, "If Dutch Lenz didn't send that note to Linda Bayes, who did? Who else could it have been? Somebody ashore in Nassau," he added quickly. Then his eyes had a sudden light in them, and he said, low: "There is a passenger on board this ship who is not a passenger. He is the corpse! And he's walking around on two legs like any of the rest of us."

Jane was aghast. "You mean, a man came on board in that long black box? Somebody ashore—"

"That's just it!" Snowshoes said. "It could have been arranged. We'll have to question the ship's officers who had the body in charge, but they're on heavy duty now, trying to maneuver this ship through the storm—"

"But if there is another man in the crime, who stole the Kokinor diamond from Nora Lane's suite?" Jane said. "Where is Millie?"

• • •

SNOWSHOES was rubbing his bald spot again, and he had to grin with discouragement. "I think I'll just go round up the corpse, and let the rest go hang until the storm is over. I don't like the idea of a corpse running around below."

With Dirk at his side the detective went down to Deck B, and cautiously approached the stateroom where Linda had been attacked by the masked man. The ship took a bad roll once, and they were thrown into a heap on the floor, while the lights dimmed completely and then glowed feebly again.

They were lying there, breathlessly still, when they heard a sound of tapping in the passage-way. They lay still, and listened. There it was again, and it sounded more than a tap. Something was beating against the door of a steward's linen closet.

They approached the closet with due caution. There was a simple lock on it that might have slammed shut. The key was in it. But there was undoubtedly some person behind that door, trying desperately to get out.

Dirk propped himself in the aisle, and Snowshoes unlocked the door, flinging it open. Something tumbled out headlong and lay on the floor, uttering one shrill cry which was lost in the noise of the hurricane.

"Why, it's Millie!" the detective said, but before they could touch her she ran away from them, up the stairs and into the lounge.

They ran after her and caught up with her just as she flung herself, sobbing bitterly, at Madame's feet. She clung to the old dowager and handed the jewel-box to her.

"Millie, what have you done?" Madame was saying.

• • •

THE companion was almost hysterical. "I've been locked up in that closet for hours," she sobbed. "I thought I was going to die. I screamed, and screamed, and nobody could hear me. I was running from him, and climbed in the closet to hide. When I closed the door I was locked in—"

"Running from whom?" the detective said.

"That man! They woke me up, the stewards running up and down when the storm started. I wasn't quite sure what it was, but I heard a noise in the suite next door. They were dragging something heavy over the floor. It was in the room where they put that corpse! I was shaking all over, and hid my head under the covers for a long time. But then I heard something in Madame's bedroom, and I got really scared. I thought it might be the thing—come to life again. I put on my dressing gown and went in. When I saw the thing—it wore a mask and was poking around in the dark—I ran to Madame's pillow, and snatched up the jewels. She can't hear well, and didn't wake up. I got by the thing to the outside door and ran down the deck and got away from him. There were so many people running up and down. I saw that closet open, and climbed in. I don't know whether he followed me or not, I was so scared.

Madame was murmuring, "You poor child, you risked your life to save my jewels!", when Millie broke down. "I don't want to drown," she sobbed, brokenly. "I haven't got a life preserver. Everybody else has one but me. The ship's sinking, I know. And I was locked up in that black hole, going to drown, drown—"

The detective said, sighing, "Well, at least we don't have to find your jewels, Madame? They're safe."

They paused while the ship went through one of those herculean shudders again.

But suddenly the detective knit his brows closely together. "We haven't a single clue," he said. "This man is interested in diamonds and won't stop at murder to get them. But we're stumped. It may be any one of these suspicious-looking touts on board. We can't keep track of them in this storm. And it may be the corpse that walks like a man, and throws his coffin overboard in the storm," he ended unhappily.

The old dowager scoffed. "There have been queer doings on this ship since I came on aboard. I wouldn't be surprised at anything. Let it walk! Nothing bothers me any more. If I've stood this much excitement my heart is good for a few years more—"

"We won't find the murderer until we find the Kokinor diamond," Snowshoes insisted stubbornly. "And it may have changed hands on shipboard. And it'll probably show up in a diamond cutter's shop in Amsterdam, in a dozen pieces."

Regular Army Back Of Hitler in New Sovereignty Move

Germans Hold Two-day Celebration Over Reoccupied Rhineland Territory

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Berlin—(AP)—A nation-wide celebration, with a pledge of loyalty from the regular army, bolstered Adolf Hitler today against the agitation arising all around Germany from his restoration of full sovereignty to the Rhineland.

Two days of delirious jubilation over the occupation of the left bank of the Rhine Saturday, in defiance of the Versailles Treaty and the Locarno Pact, ended at midnight, and the Third Reich returned today to normal business.

Those two days, however, saw manifestations of patriotic ardor and personal demonstrations for Hitler such as had been wanting for more than a year. Wherever Der Fuehrer showed himself, he was hailed and acclaimed ecstatically.

The presidential flag over the Reich chancellery was taken down early this morning, and the Reichswehr (regular army) guards were withdrawn, indicating the chief of state had left the capital.

Now that the celebration was ended officially, Germany settled down to her internal problems, to let the others do the shouting.

As far as could be ascertained from Wilhelmstrasse spokesman and unofficial informants, no further fireworks were to be expected from the German side at this time.

The Hitler technique, so often repeated as to have become a formula, is this:

Prepare action in every detail behind a thick veil of concealment. Pledge all parties involved by special oaths to absolute secrecy, on pain of facing a treason charge in the event of a leakage.

Then create the Fait Accompli. At the moment of enactment, explain the situation to the German nation and the world.

End this new decisive episode of Third Reich history with a general burst of jubilation.

After that, return to work and do not be alarmed or provoked by the smoke and thunder rising about Germany.

It would be safe to say that Germany would follow this formula during the coming weeks informed sources asserted.

Every effort to avoid border incidents or to creat international alarm by unusual massing of troops was foreseen.

KELLY PREPARES REPLY TO HORNER

Chicago —(AP)— Mayor Edward J. Kelly squared off today for his reply to accusations of bossism leveled at him by Gov. Henry Horner in downstate campaign addresses.

Announcing yesterday that he planned a series of radio and other speeches in which to make answer, Mayor Kelly said: "When I do, I shall bring out some important facts about Henry Horner, the individual, and the Horner administration."

He declared that the impetus for the Cook County Democratic organization action in throwing its support to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen for the party's gubernatorial nomination insteady of to Gov. Horner came from downstate party leaders.

Teddy Coumbes of Murrayville was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Voters Can Switch Parties This Year

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Voters at the April 14 primary can switch parties if they don't want to call for the ballot they marked in 1934.

This situation was pointed out today by Oscar E. Carlstrom, a Republican candidate for governor, who suggested that former Democrats might support the GOP this year. He said:

"Conditions since 1934 have occurred which have and will change the political beliefs and party allegiance of many citizens.

"It is important for all to know that every voter can call for either party ballot they wish in the primary election to be held next April 14 in Illinois."

The law provides that voters can change parties at a primary only if it has been two years since they last voted at a primary election.

The 1934 primary was on April 12, two years and two days before the nominations this year.

In 1934 it was technically impossible for voters to switch parties because the primary was two days less than two years after the 1932 nominations. But since enforcement of that section of the law was left to precinct officials, it was generally ignored.

Carlstrom said the only exception this year is for Chicagoans who voted Feb. 26, 1935, in the mayoralty primary. Mayor Edward J. Kelly got more than 95 per cent of the total vote then. Because two years won't elapse before April 14, the Chicagoans are supposed to be bound by their 1935 choice of parties.

Journal and Courier $200 Traffic Safety Contest Begins Today

The first of the series of 50 illustrations, some showing violations of safe automobile operation and others not showing any errors, appears in today's issues of the Journal and Courier. Put on your thinking caps and get out your pencils and do a bit of studying. The first one is not too difficult!

Remember, there is a total of $200 in cash awards for the 82 sets of answers to the 50 illustrations that will appear every day for five days a week over a period of 10 weeks. Close observation will give you the answer to each illustration.

The "Traffic Safety" contest, sponsored in conjunction with the Journal and Courier's campaign to make the streets and highways safer, will be concluded in the middle of May, just in time to use some of the prize money for vacations and summer wardrobes. There is a top prize of $50 for the best answer, a second prize of $25, a third prize of $15, a fourth prize of $10, three prizes of $5, and several other awards.

Begin today—and clip out the illustrations and write your answers every day. The rules of the contest appear on an inside page for your convenience and will appear every day for several weeks.

The object of the contest is to show various violations of safe driving and walking rules, and through the pictures to impress upon the readers of this newspaper the necessity of being on guard every moment while operating an automobile or while walking to protect themselves against unforseen situations. This is a campaign to reduce the loss of life, loss of time through injuries, and the loss of money through accidents, which these newspapers are convinced can be avoided to a large extent.

Today's illustration appears on this page, but they will be shown on different pages during the campaign. Look for them—they are your guides to safe driving and walking, and you can win one of the 82 prizes that will be awarded by a trio of judges to be selected by these newspapers during the course of the campaign.

The Journal and Courier "Safety or Else" campaign has been endorsed by city officials, civic clubs, and civic leaders—they all want more safety on the streets and highways. Avoid accidents is the Journal and Courier plea.

Daughter Reported Dead Visits Father In Greene County

Reunion At Roodhouse Follows Separation Of 24 Years Duration

Roodhouse, March 9.—Twenty-four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wallis parted and were divorced in this city. They were the parents of two daughters, Helen going with her mother to St. Louis, and Evelyn staying with her father here.

In a short time, the report came from the mother that Helen had died. The father married again and is living in Roodhouse. The other sister, Evelyn, married and is living in Heyworth, Illinois.

Yesterday a strange girl came to the Wallis home, looking for her father. It was Helen Wallis Rodgers. Her mother had placed her in an orphanage twenty-four years ago and then sent word to Mr. Wallis and other relatives here that she was dead. A St. Louis family had adopted her and given her an education. She chose nursing as a profession and has finished her training in a St. Louis hospital.

Mr. Wallis phoned her sister in Heyworth who drove to Roodhouse for a reunion. She accompanied Helen back to her home last night.

Marks Birthday

Mrs. Luella McCracken, 81 year old resident of Roodhouse, celebrated her birthday with a dinner at the home yesterday. Friends and relatives brought baskets of food for the occasion.

Those present included Sam McCracken and Robert Hands of Granite City, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris of Pittsfield, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Greenwalt and family of Jerseyville, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer McCracken, Jackie Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Betts, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allan, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lee and Vergil McCracken of Roodhouse.

Her husband R. B. Pollard died about 10 years ago.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at Petersburg. William and George Beekman and Mrs. Ausmus will attend the funeral.

EDWIN WARD PASSES AWAY HERE MONDAY

Edwin Ward, a well known citizen of Morgan county, passed away at 2:50 a. m. Monday. He was a son of James Harrison and Rebecca Kirk Ward, and was born at the old Ward homestead, northeast of Jacksonville, on February 24, 1856. He grew to young manhood in the community in which he was born and attended the rural school. He developed an unusually brilliant mind.

In 1876 he entered Illinois College, spending three outstanding years of excellent scholarship. During these school days, a close friendship grew between he and William Jennings Bryan. He, like Bryan, by heritage and principle, was a Demovat. Together throughout life they worked for the cause of Democracy. After leaving Illinois College, young Ward entered the law department at Ann Arbor, Mich. from which he graduated with high honors. And then for a number of years he followed the profession of law in the West. In Lincoln, Nebraska, he and Bryan again battled for the success of the party in the new West.

In the late 80's, while on a visit to his Morgan county home, he felt the call to follow his father's profession, that of the ministry. He became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Conference. He was assoclated with the late Reverend J. P. Dimmitt and Dr. S. W. Thornton in evangelistic work. He served pastorates in Illinois, Arizona and Colorado. Owing to ill health, he gave up his pastorate and returned to the West in search of health, after which he spent some years teaching in Nebraska and Wyoming, making his home in the Odd Fellows' Home at York, Nebraska.

After suffering a stroke and becoming partially paralyzed, he returned to his childhood home to pass the last few years of his life. On June 15, 1887, he married Anna Tinkler of Decatur, Ill. He is survived by one sister, Eva, of California, and a number of nieces and relatives in the West. Fletcher Mather of Morgan county and Leiutenant C. O. Ward of Wayne, Pa., are nephews.

His remains are at the Carroll Funeral Home. Arrangements for the funeral are incomplete.

FUNERAL NOTICE

Funeral services for Mrs. S. M. Adkisson will be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, at the Winchester Christian church in charge of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Schwab. Burial will be in Kincaid cemetery in Scott county.

M. F. Dunlap Seeks Freedom; Requests Fine Be Remitted

Penitentiary Term Will Be Completed In Missouri Next Sunday

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—Millard F. Dunlap, 78, former president of the Ayers National bank of Jacksonville, Ill., asked today the $10,000 fine assessed against him be remitted so that he might be freed next Sunday when his two-year penitentiary term is completed.

Dunlap filed with the justice department a formal petition for executive clemency as to the fine.

Dunlap was convicted in federal court at Springfield, Ill., on charges growing out of the bank's failure.

Dunlap now is in the federal hospital at Springfield, Mo. He was transferred there from Leavenworth penitentiary when his physical condition became serious. His two year sentence with time allowance for good behavior will be completed next Tuesday.

If the fine were not paid or remitted he would have to serve an additional 30 days before being eligible for release. He then could take the "poor convict's oath," certifying he did not possess more than $20 and be released.

Mrs. Burl Stice Of Winchester Taken By Death

Funeral Services To Be Held Wednesday In Scott County

Winchester, March 9.—Mrs. Burl Stice, 49 years of age, passed away at her home in this city at 5:15 p. m. today, after a lingering illness.

She is survived by her husband; a step-son, Albert; mother, Mrs. Emma Little; one sister, Clara Little, all of this city. Also surviving are one brother, Austin Little, two neices and two nephews of Jacksonville. Her father preceded her in death June 20, 1920.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Christian church with Rev. R. L. Schwab officiating. Burial will be in Winchester cemetery.

FATHER LAWLER IS K. C. SPEAKER

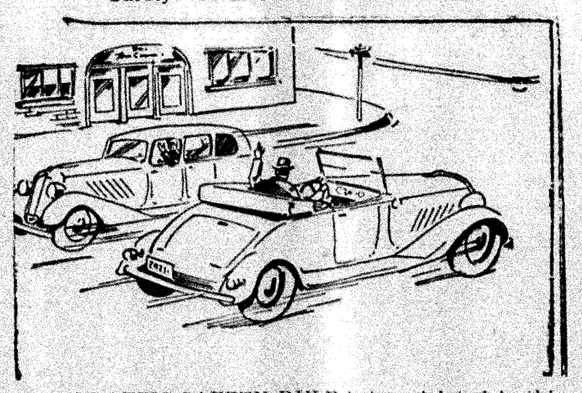

The regular meeting of Knights of Columbus Council 868 on February 27, listened with great interest to Father Frank Lawler as he spoke briefly on different aspects of the mass.

The lecture was so well received that Father Lawler has been persuaded to speak further on the same subject at the next three regular meetings. All members are planning to attend these lectures, feeling the lenten season to be the appropriate time to receive them.

Dr. Gordon Lauds Townsend Plan In Talk Here Monday

Enactment Of Bill Would Place Billions In Treasury Says Speaker

A surplus of six or seven billions of dollars in the United States treasury, prompt payment of federal expenses without recourse to bonding or borrowing, retirement of the national debt within 10 years and a 50 per cent reduction in crime would be the benefits which would be derived thru enactment of the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan, said Dr. H. Truman Gordon of Chicago in an address at the court house here last night.

Dr. Gordon's audience represented widely divergent classes of people. There were elderly people and very young people; people who are in business and people who are unable to make a living at all.

Dr. Gordon launched his talk after the manner of the economist. "When the Townsend Plan is adopted," he assured his audience, "we shall prove the fallacy of the theory that cycles of depression and prosperity must come alternately."

"There are," he said, "two factors which contributed to the economic chaos and depression of the present time. The first and lesser of these factors is the circumstance that the machine age has crept up upon humanity for a long time and has finally overtaken it, causing widespread unemployment as machines take the place of increasing numbers of workers in the industrial world.

"Shorter work weeks, shorter working days, minimum wage scales—the only solutions offered before the Townsend Plan—will not remedy this condition. Only by the expansion of earning power can purchasing power be built up and prosperity returned. The only plan that can meet with success is a plan whereby business itself contributes to the building up of the buying power of the people.

"The second and major contributory factor involves the monetary system and the banking structure of the nation. As the amount of commodities increases through the progress of industry and agriculture, Dr. Gordon explained, the total amount of money in circulation must also be increased, in order that buying and selling may be carried on. All economists, he said, are in accord upon this point.

The Townsend Plan is a Plan calling upon the government to pass a law providing an annuity of $200 a month to every citizen over 60 without a criminal record or an income of more than $2400 a year, providing that person is willing to retire from all remunerative work and to take an oath to spend the entire $200 during the same month it is received.

The 1930 census, Dr. Gordon said, indicates that there are 10,385,000 people in the nation eligible to benefits under the Plan, but not all of these will qualify. Probably seven and one-half to eight-million will qualify for pensions.

"Payment to them would put and keep in circulation about a billion and a half dollars a month, replacing what was taken out of circulation by the federal reserve bank. The retirement of these people will open three million jobs to new workers now unemployed, will create work for an additional and the spending of their pensions seven and one-half million, creating 10½ million new jobs altogether and resulting in a higher standard of living and higher wages. The circulation of this amount of money: i. e. buying power, will in 6 months of time, bring about a 100 per cent increase in the volume of business, resulting in the re-employment of hundreds of thousands now unemployed, by industry, as well as retail business."

Knox To Speak At Meet Here March 20

Presidential Candidate To Open Campaign In State Next Week

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)— Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, will open his Illinois campaign for the Republican presidential nomination with five speeches next week, Edward A. Hayes, Knox' campaign manager, announced today.

All Knox appearances will be at Republican gatherings, Hayes said, the first at Danville, March 18. At noon, march 19, Knox will speak in Springfield, and the same night at Decatur. March 20, his schedule calls for a noon meeting in Jacksonville, and a night meeting at East St. Louis.

Col Knox and Mrs. Knox are nearing the end of a month's vacation in Arizona. On their way back to Chicago Knox is to speak in Houston, Texas, March 11, and Dallas, the following day.

FARM BUREAU APPROVES LOCAL SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Routine business was conducted at the meeting of members of the executive board of the Morgan County Farm Bureau Monday. Reports were heard and the board adopted a resolution approving the Jacksonville Journal and Courier safety campaign.

Journal and Courier $200 Traffic Safety Contest Begins Today

The first of the series of 50 illustrations, some showing violations of safe automobile operation and others not showing any errors, appears in today's issues of the Journal and Courier. Put on your thinking caps and get out your pencils and do a bit of studying. The first one is not too difficult!

Remember, there is a total of $200 in cash awards for the 82 sets of answers to the 50 illustrations that will appear every day for five days a week over a period of 10 weeks. Close observation will give you the answer to each illustration.

The "Traffic Safety" contest, sponsored in conjunction with the Journal and Courier's campaign to make the streets and highways safer, will be concluded in the middle of May, just in time to use some of the prize money for vacations and summer wardrobes. There is a top prize of $50 for the best answer, a second prize of $25, a third prize of $15, a fourth prize of $10, three prizes of $5, and several other awards.

Begin today—and clip out the illustrations and write your answers every day. The rules of the contest appear on an inside page for your convenience and will appear every day for several weeks.

The object of the contest is to show various violations of safe driving and walking rules, and through the pictures to impress upon the readers of this newspaper the necessity of being on guard every moment while operating an automobile or while walking to protect themselves against unforseen situations. This is a campaign to reduce the loss of life, loss of time through injuries, and the loss of money through accidents, which these newspapers are convinced can be avoided to a large extent.

Today's illustration appears on this page, but they will be shown on different pages during the campaign. Look for them—they are your guides to safe driving and walking, and you can win one of the 82 prizes that will be awarded by a trio of judges to be selected by these newspapers during the course of the campaign.

The Journal and Courier "Safety or Else" campaign has been endorsed by city officials, civic clubs, and civic leaders—they all want more safety on the streets and highways. Avoid accidents is the Journal and Courier plea.

Daughter Reported Dead Visits Father In Greene County

Reunion At Roodhouse Follows Separation Of 24 Years Duration

Roodhouse, March 9.—Twenty-four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wallis parted and were divorced in this city. They were the parents of two daughters, Helen going with her mother to St. Louis, and Evelyn staying with her father here.

In a short time, the report came from the mother that Helen had died. The father married again and is living in Roodhouse. The other sister, Evelyn, married and is living in Heyworth, Illinois.

Yesterday a strange girl came to the Wallis home, looking for her father. It was Helen Wallis Rodgers. Her mother had placed her in an orphanage twenty-four years ago and then sent word to Mr. Wallis and other relatives here that she was dead. A St. Louis family had adopted her and given her an education. She chose nursing as a profession and has finished her training in a St. Louis hospital.

Mr. Wallis phoned her sister in Heyworth who drove to Roodhouse for a reunion. She accompanied Helen back to her home last night.

EDWIN WARD PASSES AWAY HERE MONDAY

Edwin Ward, a well known citizen of Morgan county, passed away at 2:50 a. m. Monday. He was a son of James Harrison and Rebecca Kirk Ward, and was born at the old Ward homestead, northeast of Jacksonville, on February 24, 1856. He grew to young manhood in the community in which he was born and attended the rural school. He developed an unusually brilliant mind.

In 1876 he entered Illinois College, spending three outstanding years of excellent scholarship. During these school days, a close friendship grew between he and William Jennings Bryan. He, like Bryan, by heritage and principle, was a Demovat. Together throughout life they worked for the cause of Democracy. After leaving Illinois College, young Ward entered the law department at Ann Arbor, Mich. from which he graduated with high honors. And then for a number of years he followed the profession of law in the West. In Lincoln, Nebraska, he and Bryan again battled for the success of the party in the new West.

In the late 80's, while on a visit to his Morgan county home, he felt the call to follow his father's profession, that of the ministry. He became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Conference. He was associated with the late Reverend J. P. Dimmitt and Dr. S. W. Thornton in evangelistic work. He served pastorates in Illinois, Arizona and Colorado. Owing to ill health, he gave up his pastorate and returned to the West in search of health, after which he spent some years teaching in Nebraska and Wyoming, making his home in the Odd Fellows' Home at York, Nebraska.

After suffering a stroke and becoming partially paralyzed, he returned to his childhood home to pass the last few years of his life. On June 15, 1887, he married Anna Tinkler of Decatur, Ill. He is survived by one sister, Eva, of California, and a number of nieces and relatives in the West. Fletcher Mather of Morgan county and Leiutenant C. O. Ward of Wayne, Pa., are nephews.

His remains are at the Carroll Funeral Home. Arrangements for the funeral are incomplete.

FUNERAL NOTICE

Funeral services for Mrs. S. M. Adkisson will be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, at the Winchester Christian church in charge of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Schwab. Burial will be in Kincaid cemetery in Scott county.

M. F. Dunlap Seeks Freedom; Requests Fine Be Remitted

Penitentiary Term Will Be Completed In Missouri Next Sunday

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—Millard F. Dunlap, 78, former president of the Ayers National bank of Jacksonville, Ill., asked today the $10,000 fine assessed against him be remitted so that he might be freed next Sunday when his two-year penitentiary term is completed.

Dunlap filed with the justice department a formal petition for executive clemency as to the fine.

Dunlap was convicted in federal court at Springfield, Ill., on charges growing out of the bank's failure.

Dunlap now is in the federal hospital at Springfield, Mo. He was transferred there from Leavenworth penitentiary when his physical condition became serious. His two year sentence with time allowance for good behavior will be completed next Tuesday.

If the fine were not paid or remitted he would have to serve an additional 30 days before being eligible for release. He then could take the "poor convict's oath," certifying he did not possess more than $20 and be released.

FATHER LAWLER IS K. C. SPEAKER

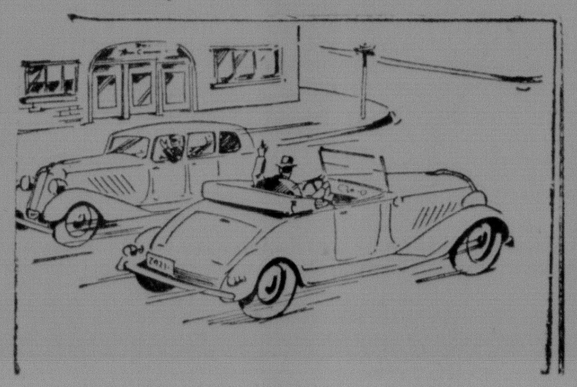

The regular meeting of Knights of Columbus Council 868 on February 27, listened with great interest to Father Frank Lawler as he spoke briefly on different aspects of the mass.

The lecture was so well received that Father Lawler has been persuaded to speak further on the same subject at the next three regular meetings. All members are planning to attend these lectures, feeling the lenten season to be the appropriate time to receive them.

Enactment Of Bill Would Place Billions In Treasury Says Speaker

A surplus of six or seven billions of dollars in the United States treasury, prompt payment of federal expenses without recourse to bonding or borrowing, retirement of the national debt within 10 years and a 50 per cent reduction in crime would be the benefits which would be derived thru enactment of the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan, said Dr. H. Truman Gordon of Chicago in an address at the court house here last night.

Dr. Gordon's audience represented widely divergent classes of people. There were elderly people and very young people; people who are in business and people who are unable to make a living at all.

Dr. Gordon launched his talk after the manner of the economist. "When the Townsend Plan is adopted," he assured his audience, "we shall prove the fallacy of the theory that cycles of depression and prosperity must come alternately."

"There are," he said, "two factors which contributed to the economic chaos and depression of the present time. The first and lesser of these factors is the circumstance that the machine age has crept up upon humanity for a long time and has finally overtaken it, causing widespread unemployment as machines take the place of increasing numbers of workers in the industrial world.

"Shorter work weeks, shorter working days, minimum wage scales—the only solutions offered before the Townsend Plan—will not remedy this condition. Only by the expansion of earning power can purchasing power be built up and prosperity returned. The only plan that can meet with success is a plan whereby business itself contributes to the building up of the buying power of the people.

"The second and major contributory factor involves the monetary system and the banking structure of the nation. As the amount of commodities increases through the progress of industry and agriculture, Dr. Gordon explained, the total amount of money in circulation must also be increased, in order that buying and selling may be carried on. All economists, he said, are in accord upon this point.

The Townsend Plan is a Plan calling upon the government to pass a law providing an annuity of $200 a month to every citizen over 60 without a criminal record or an income of more than $2400 a year, providing that person is willing to retire from all remunerative work and to take an oath to spend the entire $200 during the same month it is received.

The 1930 census, Dr. Gordon said, indicates that there are 10,385,000 people in the nation eligible to benefits under the Plan, but not all of these will qualify. Probably seven and one-half to eight-million will qualify for pensions.

"Payment to them would put and keep in circulation about a billion and a half dollars a month, replacing what was taken out of circulation by the federal reserve bank. The retirement of these people will open three million jobs to new workers now unemployed, will create work for an additional and the spending of their pensions seven and one-half million, creating 10½ million new jobs altogether and resulting in a higher standard of living and higher wages. The circulation of this amount of money: i. e. buying power, will in 6 months of time, bring about a 100 per cent increase in the volume of business, resulting in the re-employment of hundreds of thousands now unemployed, by industry, as well as retail business."
